PHOENIX CHURCH FOLK PREPARING FOR ANNUAL HARVEST HOME DINNER

(Contributed.)

Every day for the past week or so, questions have been the as to "When will we be able to enjoy that marvelous harvest home chicken dinner which the 'Phoenixians' serve annually about this time?" It is a very logical question and one worthy of note.

These "Phoenixian" ladies, notwithstanding the other great and hereofore matters which have engaged their attention this past year, have measured up in every way this year. Our population is largely increased and by reason of the era of extended prosperity enjoyed by all, it is reasonable to suppose that this year's production will outclass anything of its kind ever before attempted in the history of man.

Of course the same foodstuffs will be served as were served before the war, though they will be fresh—absolutely fresh.

Those people who are familiar with the doings in the up-and-coming town to the south of the county seat will not be puzzled. Those of you who are not thus familiar better ask questions. But in any event, everybody talk, talk, talk, of that which is to occur Friday the 18th, rain or shine, at the Presbyterian church in Phoenix.
