

REGIONAL NURSES DISCUSS WORK IN CONFERENCE HERE

The regional meeting of public health nurses for the southern Oregon district opened this forenoon at the Y. W. C. A., with nurses from the several southern Oregon counties and Mrs. Glendora Blakeley, state advisory nurse of Salem, and Miss Grace Phelps of Portland, superintendent of the Doernbecher hospital, present.

Visiting nurses registered at 10 o'clock this forenoon, followed by speeches by Miss Mary Annin, executive secretary of the Lane county Red Cross chapter and by Miss Phelps. A round table discussion for public health nurses began at 1:30 this afternoon, followed by a meeting of graduate nurses of Jackson and Josephine counties to organize a district of the state graduate nurses' association. The meeting was scheduled to be held at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. O. E. Osborne on South Oakdale.

Tomorrow's program is as follows:

10:00 a. m. — "Immunization," Dr. Estella Ford Warner, director of the Marion county demonstration.

"Training of Teachers for Health Education," Mrs. Bertha

Smith, director of health education at Ashland Normal school.

"The Nurses' Part in a Health Education Program," Mrs. Josephine Jones of the Medford public schools.

Resume of the American Public Health association meeting at Minneapolis, by Miss Agnes Campbell of the Marion county administration.

Health play by school children of Medford, under the direction of Mrs. Jones.

Technique demonstration of infant pre-school clinics at Central Point community center.

Tea at Berrydale community center.

The meeting is sponsored by the Bureau of Public Health Nursing, the state organization for public health nurses and the state social workers' association. Four Klamath public health nurses, five from Coos county, one each from Douglas and Josephine and five from Jackson county and three state nurses from Portland are expected to attend.

MIND READER BEATS JURORS TO DECISION

NEW YORK. — (AP) — Hernamb Singh is a mind reader and has proved it. On trial for murder he divined that the jury was thinking of sending him to the electric chair, his attorney said, and so he pleaded guilty in the second degree and got life. He killed a fellow countryman in professional rivalry.

The crow is closely related to the bird of paradise.

INTER-CLASS DEBATE AT LOCAL HI SCHOOL STARTS IN NOVEMBER

The question, "Resolved: That the Child Labor amendment should be added to the national Constitution," which was assigned to the southern Oregon high school district for debate, has been changed to "Resolved: That the foreign countries should abandon their extra-territorial policies in China," as a result of a request from the district. The former question was used as a state question two years ago.

As a preliminary to the opening of the inter-scholastic debate season, a series of inter-class debates will be held at the local high school, starting the first week in November. Faculty directors will be as follows: Miss Mary Gilbert, seniors; Miss Maurine Johnston, juniors; Ralph Bailey, sophomores and Mrs. Josephine Smith, freshmen.

Each class will have both affirmative and negative teams, each made up of three members. Speeches will be three minutes in length, with a three-minute rebuttal. These debates will be given before the study halls, and the final before the student body.

Inter-class debates tend to arouse interest in the school debate, as well as to give preliminary training to those who will represent Medford.

GOOD ATTENDANCE IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Rural schools in Jackson county for the month ending September 27 had good attendance records, according to figures completed today by the county school superintendent's office, revealing that seven districts had 100 per cent attendance and that one district was down to a percentage of 83.

The 100 per cent districts are as follows: Climax, 8 pupils, Elvira Blair, teacher; Meadows, 3 pupils, Mrs. Viola Pomeroy; Debeneger Gap, 4. Mrs. Julia Minter; Elk

WOMEN TO REHEARSE CONVENTION SONGS

An intensive rehearsal of catchy songs to be used during the convention of the state federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, which will be held here the latter part of May, will take place at the monthly social meeting scheduled for next Tuesday night at the Hotel Medford. The meeting, which will consist of a dinner at 6:45, will be presided over by Mrs. Maude K. Chapman, president.

A program of clever and comic songs appropriate for the convention activities, will be led by Mrs. Mulholland, official song leader. A program of some of the stunts and means of entertainment for the 500 or more delegates to be gathered here for the state convales will also be discussed at the meeting.
