

PALO ALTO IS WESTERN GRID FOCUS

Cardinal-Trojan Game Saturday Will Be Main Attraction for Fans — Decides Coast Championship and Has Bearing on National Title—East Interested in Yale-Army.

By Ann Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—There should be football fireworks sufficient for every sector this week end, but the main destination is likely to echo from the big bowl at Palo Alto, California. Close to 85,000 spectators in this far western counterpart of Yale's famous arena will see Stanford and California light the fuse of their famous rivalry.

The clash between Cardinal and Trojan, between the coaching systems of Pop Warner and Howard Jones, not only figures to decide the championship of the Pacific coast but to have a vital bearing on the national title situation.

Rated Stanford Even

Until last Saturday, U. S. C. was generally expected to be the favorite. The Trojans were off to a fast start and reached a peak of power by defeating Washington 48 to 0 on the latter's own gridiron. Stanford, coming along more slowly, aroused its backers by polishing off Oregon State by 40 to 7, a margin of exactly 13 points more than California's edge over the same team. On this basis and the fact that Warner had Warner always has something up his sleeve for a big game, Stanford now rates at least an even choice.

Army-Yale Main Event

In the east, the week's most colorful affair will be the annual clash of the West Point cadets and 75,000 spectators. But Dartmouth's battle with Harvard at Cambridge may have an important bearing on the championship situation.

The crimson's unmistakable power, demonstrated in tying Army after Cagle had run wild, will be a severe test for Dartmouth. Harvard, however, will find Al Masters about as difficult as Cagle to stop.

Notre Dame, gathering headway in its comeback by vanquishing Indiana, Navy and Wisconsin in succession, runs into the rugged eleven at Pittsburg in the outstanding inter-sectional engagement of the week. The Tech Tartans handed Rocker's Ramblers a trimming last year but it will be a surprise if they repeat, seeking revenge in the main objective of the Hoosiers.

Pittsburg has a setup after an impressive string of conquests. The Panthers play Allegheny in preparation for their next big game with Ohio state, now the pace setter among the big ten. Ohio having beaten Iowa and Michigan, expects to make it three straight conference victories by beating Indiana this week. Purdue and Chicago, two other unbeaten conference teams, battle it out while Illinois plays Michigan and Iowa tackles Wisconsin. The march of Illinois toward a third title in a row was checked suddenly Saturday by a tie with Iowa.

The big noise in the big six group is the clash between Nebraska and Missouri at Columbia with the Tigers, going strong, confident of turning the tables on the 1928 champions.

The southwestern conference race has a full this week while in the Rocky Mountain conference, Utah's champions expect to continue their march toward another title at the expense of the Colorado Aggies.

Scoring Aces of Gridiron

By the Associated Press
Al Masters' 12-point spurge against Columbia enabled the Dartmouth quarterback to lengthen his lead over the field in the race for national individual scoring honors. Masters now has scored 13 touchdowns and 12 points after touchdown for 90 points. In second place among the leading scorers in each of eight major conferences of groups is Eugene McEver, Tennessee halfback, who has tallied 60 points on 10 touchdowns.

HARD GAME WITH CORVALLIS SQUAD COMING SATURDAY

The Corvallis high school football team comes to town next Saturday for its annual game with Medford high school. The Corvallis squad is about the same team as last year, with a big heavy line and a star in the backfield by the name of Adams. It will be their fourth clash with the locals, and though they put up a struggle, in the first two games, they have never defeated a Medford football squad.

Like all the gridiron foes of the Medford high school, they are coming looking for revenge, and the honor of being the first team to defeat a local squad after five years of victories. It will be the toughest squad the locals tackle.

With a two week's rest the Haggen proteges promise to be in the best shape of the year. Since the Grants Pass game, they have been drilling hard, Coach Hagen directing his attention to strengthening the tackles and ends. The line has started to charge with vigor, and in practice have been able to give the backs some protection.

The Corvallis team was defeated by Bend last Friday 39 to 7.

So far, this season, The Dalles high school, the most loquacious foe of the locals, the last three years, has not won a game and last Friday was trimmed by Goldendale 6 to 0.

Girl, 18, Out for Men's Tank Team

ALAINA OSSIPOWICH

More grief for mere man! A girl, Alaina Ossipowich, is about to beat one of the men out of his place on the Brown swimming team.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Unless there is some rule to prevent it, Alaina Ossipowich of Worcester, Mass., will become a member of Brown university's swimming team. The coaching staff has decided that Alaina is one of the fastest tanksters available and see no reason why they shouldn't use her in the coming fall and winter meets.

Miss Ossipowich, who is 18, is an Olympic champion and has been beating some of America's best women swimmers for the last three years.

She won the 100-meter race at the 1928 Olympics at Amsterdam, and holds numerous national and regional records.

One of her latest feats was to set a new New England record for the 100-meter free style swim. Her time was 1 minute 14 1/5 seconds.

Nineteenth Hole Inspiration Has Sequel in Wet Plunge for Golfer

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—James Meers has made the startling discovery that golf knickers may look like a balloon, but aren't.

Meers, who is 68 years old, put on a pair of plus-fours and went out with the boys early yesterday. The conversation turned to aviation and Meers had an idea.

Intimate the knickers, he figured, and the water could float through space or upon the surface of waters.

NEGRO AND GENE IN RETURN BOUT THURSDAY'S CARD

If K. O. White, negro glove slinger of Chicago, is as good as he is painted, Gene O'Grady, Ashland light-heavyweight fighter, will find himself defeated at Medford's second boxing smoker of the season at the armory next Thursday evening under the promotorship of Tex Bickerstaff of Klamath Falls. White, said to be a headliner in Chicago, has been on the coast since last July, and has won the majority of his fights.

He has drawn $42,000 houses in the Illinois metropolises and has met some of the best light-heavyweights in the game. Bickerstaff related when he was in Medford Friday making arrangements for

SHEARER TELLS INVESTIGATORS OF ACTIVITIES

William B. Shearer told the senate shipbuilding investigation committee his own vigorous, slangy and colorful version of his efforts "to get out the American side of the story" while employed by American ship builders at the unsuccessful Geneva naval limitation conference in 1927. Here are two typical poses of Shearer.

OREGON VIEWS HUSKY GAME AS ALREADY IN BAG

Doubtful Showing By Washington Team Bolsters Hopes of Webfoot Victory at Seattle Saturday — Won 27 to 0 in 1928.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 21.—(AP)—For the first time in many seasons, the University of Oregon football team is considered to have more than an even chance to defeat the University of Washington Huskies at Seattle next Saturday because of the showing last year.

Oregon's Webfoots were victorious over Washington last year by 27 to 0. The doubtful strength of the Huskies this year is illustrated in its 6 to 6 tie with Montana and its crushing defeat by the University of Southern California, 48 to 0, is another point in Oregon's favor.

The rivalry between the two schools, existing since Oregon's victory in the first game in 1909, has been emphasized in the past few years more than during earlier days. In 1924 Oregon surprised the conference by defeating the Huskies in an upset at Eugene, 7 to 3.

However, the greatest battle between the two schools was waged at Seattle the year following. That year Washington won the Pacific coast conference title, but in the final game of the season was nearly knocked from its position when an Oregon team, coached by Dick Smith, rose up to hold the Huskies 15 to 14.

The first game of Captain John J. McEwan's era at Oregon was lost to Washington 23 to 9 at Portland. The next year was another battle typical of Oregon-Washington rivalry, but Washington won by the last quarter spurt, 7 to 0. Last year at Portland, the Webfoots scored their greatest triumph over Washington since the 43 to 0 win in 1909.

HUSKY DEFEATS BRING BAGSHAW FUSS TO FOCUS

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Post-Intelligencer said today that Enoch Bagshaw may resign soon as head football coach for the University of Washington Huskies.

The newspaper said that defeats by Southern California and Washington State college, together with the tie game with Montana, brought football matters to a head. The Post-Intelligencer said that after the game with Washington State Saturday, the Huskies lost 29 to 13, a conference was held between Bagshaw's advisers and student body heads.

The newspaper said that some of the coach's friends advised him to resign and then offer his services for the rest of the season because of the difficulty of obtaining a new coach on short notice.

OREGON EMERALD REVISES ESTIMATE MEDFORD GRIDMEN

The "Oregon Emerald" University of Oregon publication, which at the start of the season doubted mildly in its sports comments, if any of the members of the so-called "Glorified Medford, A Team" would be able to stand the gaff of competition from Portland and way points, underwent a change of heart for it, in its account of the Chemawa Indian game last Friday. The paper is ultra-conservative in its praise, and when it does the praise one has it coming.

"Concerning three former Medford stars, the Emerald says: The line from end to end played a very good brand of football and were very strong on defense. In the center Bernie Hughes stood as a 'Rock of Gibraltar' and was sure to be on the bottom of the side when things were straightened out.

Al Stecher and Bill Moran at guard and tackle respectively showed that Prink's style of ball as played at Medford was very good style as they were bulwarks on defense and strong on offense as well.

Fred (Red) McDonald, Medford's contribution to the Oregon State Rook squad, played with the Rooks at Laticranz Friday, and assisted in a 13 to 7 defeat of the Eastern Oregon Normal by snaring a long forward pass, when it counted most, putting his team in a position to shove over a touchdown. Red was also in a bus wreck on the way back to the campus, but escaped unscathed.

JACKIE FIELDS TO MIX WITH NEGRO TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, will stake his reputation, if not his title, in a ten round bout here tonight with Gordilla Jones, clever negro ringster from Akron, Ohio.

The pair will come in at 145 pounds, two pounds over the welterweight limit, with Fields a strong favorite to defeat the cuey. So far, despite the latter's somewhat imposing record, a specialist at body belting and continuously aggressive, Fields is expected to set too fast a pace for Jones.

Fuzzy-Wuzzys Craterian Theatre

Turned into screen actors for the first time, thousands of the "Fuzzy-Wuzzys" made famous in song and story by Rudy Kipling play an important part in the film adventure story, "The Four Feathers."

The home of these aborigines is northeastern Africa, a long the shores of the Red sea and on the Red sea hills. They formed the shock troops of the army of 200,000 Derivishes that staged an uprising during the latter years of the nineteenth century and caused the British to withdraw.

THE VALUE OF SIGHT

SIGHT is priceless; it has no market value. Sight can neither be bought nor sold. It is a priceless gift from the Creator. Of the five human senses, sight is more valuable than all of the other senses combined. Its value cannot be estimated because there is nothing with which it can be compared.

There are eyes of feeling and power that reveal the deepest emotions of life. And there are those rare, soft, dreamy eyes that impart peace and harmony. Or the sublime flashing, magnetic eyes that cast a spell of witchery in their glance. And there are the eyes you can't forget—glowing with tenderness, sympathy and love.

Indeed, more real beauty lies in the eyes than in any other feature. But, all too often, people are unmindful of this, and the result is that one-time bewitching eyes are allowed to grow lusterless, dull and sullen. This sad state of loss of personal charm may be brought about through our vocations in life or abuse of this organ.

Personal charm! Its possession delights everyone, especially women. In her heart of hearts she glories in her dressing table, with its powder, puffs and patches, in her mirror is reflected to her mind the care that she has given to her personal charm, and the tell-tale visions remind the intelligent woman that her eyes are tired, strained, lacking in the quality of attractiveness they once possessed.

The correction of eye-strain is the basic principle of Optometry, so if you wish to retain the attractive eyes endowed you by Nature, periodic eye examinations are imperative by a competent Optometrist.
