

SALEM ANXIOUS FOR GAME WITH LOCAL GRIDMEN

Capital Gridmen Develop Sudden Desire—Not So Keen Heretofore—Medford Meets Corvallis Team Here on Saturday.

Unless the southern school management has a change of heart, there will be no football game played between teams of Medford and Salem high schools, it was learned Thursday.

Early this season Medford wrote, asking for a game with the local team. A prompt reply was sent, making a proposition for either a game here or at Medford, upon terms that were considered reasonable.

A few days ago a letter was received by Salem school authorities stating that the proposed game between the two schools would interfere with Medford's annual row with Ashland.

During the lapse of time between the first and second Medford misdeeds, Medford had a narrow squeak in a game with Grants Pass, winning in the last minute by a 7 to 6 score, while Ashland was defeated by Marshfield. Marshfield had previously been beaten by Medford.

Persons interested in the local high school squad are doing a little wondering—Salem Capital Journal.

Local fans, after reading the above article will do a little wondering themselves. They will wonder why Salem is suddenly anxious for a game with Medford, when heretofore, it was necessary to beg, hawl and guarantee, to get a game with Salem. They wonder if the "alleged weakness" of the locals has anything to do with the sudden desire of Salem for a game. They also wonder if the Medford team would be subjected to a hurricane of boos, like they were at the state basketball tournament. If Salem wants to tangle with a southern Oregon team, maybe Ashland can accommodate.

The Medford schedule this year is full. Negotiations were started last spring for a Salem game, but there was a delay, and the school authorities went ahead with their schedule making, and left no vacant place for Salem, as they did not know whether they would be able to play.

Medford played Salem last year, winning 52 to 7, and for two years before that the two teams did not meet. In 1926, the two squads played the memorable 16-13 game, that Medford won, and in 1924, they met in the famous "broken chain game, which Medford lost.

Local school authorities will probably make an effort to induce Salem to sign up for a home-and-home game.

Next Saturday the Medford squad plays the Corvallis team here, and the week following the Eugene high school will be the opponent, unless something happens. Two years ago Eugene cancelled a game because of fear of infantile paralysis, and last year the game was cancelled, at Medford's request, because of its proximity to The Dalles contest.

LACK OPPONENT FOR O'GRADY MAY POSTPONE FIGHT

Present indications are poor for Medford and southern Oregon boxing fans to see Gene O'Grady, Ashland light-heavyweight fighter, in action next Thursday night at the armory, where he was scheduled to meet K. O. White, Chicago colored slugger. Due to the fact that Promoter Tex Hiekerstaff has been unable to locate White since he offered to fight O'Grady a week or two ago, the fight will probably be postponed to some time next week in the hope that White can be found by that time.

So far Tex has spent between $30 and $40 on telegrams and telephone calls attempting to find White and to locate a substitute, but it seems all the fighters are afraid to meet O'Grady.

His latest plan is to promote the biggest fight that has been seen in southern Oregon and that would be between O'Grady and Fred Lenhart of Spokane, who has defeated the recognized world's champion, Maxie Rosenbloom, who took up Tommy Loughran's laurels when the latter forsook the light heavy-weight field for the heavyweight division. Lenhart is demanding a heavy guarantee. If Lenhart is signed it would mean the first opportunity O'Grady has ever had in meeting championship caliber. It is also possible Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen Assassin, who is a drawing card in the Madison Square Garden, may be brought here to meet O'Grady.

JEWISH BOXERS GET LION SHARE BENEFIT BOUTS

Singer, Berg, Rosenbloom And Goldstein Pound Out Victories in Madison Square Fist Fiesta For Palestine Relief.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Nearly 20,000 contributors to the Palestine relief fund paid $101,000 to attend bouts at Madison Square Garden last night. And they were repaid with five victories for Jewish boys.

Al Singer, lightweight, received something of a surprise in the final ten rounds from Davey Abad, brown-skinned battler from Panama but finally gained the decision.

Jack Berg, London's contribution to the card, had more success in the semi-final, winning a whirlwind battle from Bruce Flowers, New York negro lightweight. It was Berg's third victory over Flowers.

Ruby Goldstein, New York middleweight, shortened the scheduled 50 rounds of boxing to 43 by stopping Joe Reno of Trenton, N. J., in the third round of their battle.

Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight, opened the program with a decisive ten round victory over Joe Bokya, of Dayton, Ohio, and Yale Okun, another light heavyweight from New York, pounded out a victory over Matt Adgie of Philadelphia in the second ten rounder.

LOCAL GRID FANS GOING TO EUGENE

The University of Oregon freshman football team, coached by Prink Gillson and with four former Medford high school stars in the line-up, will play the University of Washington freshmen at Eugene Saturday. In local interest, the game will outshine the efforts of any northwest college, and be on a par with the Stanford-U. S. C. battle. A number of Medford fans will journey to Eugene to see the contest.

If the Callison crew defeats the Washington outfit, it will be the first time such a thing has come to pass in the memory of the oldest Oregon graduate. They have the best chance in years. The Medford youths slated as first string men for the game are Bernie Hughes, center; Al Stoehr, guard; William Morgan, tackle; and Clifton Garnett, quarter. On the reserve list will be Jack Hughes, guard; Clifford Moore, halfback; and Bill Bowerman, end. Hughes, Morgan, Stoehr and Garnett functioned so well in the Chemawa game that campus experts even admitted they were good, and also that Callison's style of play had merit.

FISH TROUBLED BY TAPEWORMS BELIEF

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The only thing wrong with Elk Lake fish is that they have tapeworms.

This information was contained in a letter received by Dr. William Blevin, assistant state health officer, from Dr. A. S. Warthin, pathology professor at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Warthin explained that the worms taken from fish in Elk Lake, southern Oregon, and from fish in Minnesota lakes, are either tapeworms or an entirely new species. He suggested a feeding experiment whereby the worms would be fed to dogs and then watched.

THERE'S no denying an "extra something" to Chesterfield. Call it better tobacco, or higher standards of manufacture... more skillful balance, or more expert blending... the fact remains that in Chesterfield you get a smoother shading of flavor, a richer tobacco character, a spicier aroma—without one hint of harshness or "heaviness."

Taste is what counts, in any cigarette; and in Chesterfield it's "TASTE above everything"
