

RE-ELECT MEEKER TO HEAD SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

The Rev. Dr. M. A. Marcy of Eugene, superintendent of Methodist churches in southern Oregon, paid an official visit to Medford yesterday and presided over the quarterly conference of the First M. E. church.

The Rev. Dr. C. L. Andrews of Salem, director of religious education and young people's work in the Oregon Methodist conference, accompanied Dr. Marcy, and held a council with the young people of the Epworth League in the afternoon.

The Sunday school officers and teachers enjoyed evening dinner in the church parlor, when inspirational addresses were made by the visiting religious leaders, and the annual election of school officers was held, the pastor, Alexander G. Bennett, presiding.

Clarence A. Meeker, who has successfully superintended the local school for several years, was unanimously re-elected. The annual report of attendance and finances was encouraging, showing an efficient organization and faithful work on the part of those engaged.

The quarterly conference, following the meeting of the Sunday school workers, completed the official organization of the church for the new year. Reports of the new pastor and other leaders, indicated optimism and harmony, with plans for an aggressive movement in all departments.

The public installation of the officers of the church will be conducted by the pastor at the morning service next Sunday. The Sunday school officers will be installed Sunday morning, November 3.

Fat Girls! Here's a Tip for You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appearing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by that Kruschen feeling of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 8-oz. bottle of Kruschen Salts at Jarrin & Woods (lasts 2 months) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

PALMERS OFFER PRIZE TO BOOST MUSIC INTEREST

(Contributed) The importance of musical training is becoming more evident every day. Music teachers, school teachers, educators, social workers and ministers are expressing their selves in very forceful terms as to the facts being developed that prove the necessity of giving children a musical training.

Those who have investigated the prize contest, of the Gullbranson company, being conducted locally by the Palmer Music House, have found many interesting things that deserve consideration.

Clayton Isaac has been showing projected pictures and talking on the subject and there is one remark which is outstanding: "It is not what the child can do with music but what music can do for the child."

Another is: "The richest child is poor without musical training." The contest now in progress was suggested and put into action for the purpose of getting a great number of people thinking about the value of music.

The piano has been used as it represents the universal musical instrument and has so many important parts in every musical expression. The piano to be given away is looked upon by the Palmer Music House as a proper compensation for the winner and appropriate to the subject covered by the contest.

Many things could be said in the interest of this campaign but it would be better for each person interested to get the facts first hand from the Palmer Music House and then start writing the letters. The judges who will be announced in the near future will consider first, the number of reasons why a child should have a musical education; second, the soundness of these reasons; third, neatness of the letter. Only one prize will be given in one family. Get together now and start your letter now.

MARSH WINDOW WINS DECORATION CONTEST

In competition with thousands of window displays in the nation, Marsh's Grocery won first place in the state of Oregon and 12th in the United States. The contest was sponsored by the Kerr Glass corporation, manufacturers of Kerr and Economy fruit jars, and 21 prizes were awarded.

The window was decorated by Lottie Crane, regular window decorator for the store, and is the result of careful planning. This is the second time Mr. Crane has won a national prize on window decoration for the Marsh grocery.

Dynamite Gus in Street Melee Before Bout With Strangler "Ed"

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—(AP)—"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, nursing a split lip and a bruised nose, here tonight with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former champion.

Gus Sonnenberg

Sonnenberg was injured, mentally and physically when he unexpectedly was called upon yesterday to defend himself from one of the flying tackles which occupy a prominent place in his own wrestling repertoire.

His physical bursts, consisting chiefly of a profusely bleeding nose, he announced would not interfere with his title bout tonight.

His mental injury was assuaged somewhat by a battery warrant against Pete Jadione, bail broker and amateur wrestler, issued from the office of City Prosecutor Lloyd S. Nix, on Gus' complaint.

Sonnenberg charged Jadione with hitting him with his head without warning, terminating a discussion of the possibilities of a bout between the amateur and the champion.

Lewis, in preparation for his attempt to regain the crown, has been training with the University of Southern California football team, in an effort to develop a defense against the flying tackle which lost him the championship to Sonnenberg.

Sonnenberg is a former Dartmouth football player.

Interesting Conversations Between Local Merchants, Bankers, Traveling Salesmen

Texas "Bill" said that the following happened in one of the cities in the Long Star state. "A dry goods merchant was starting down town when his wife reminded him of his most important duty for the day.

"Now, my dear, be sure and send away for that radio outfit, so we can have it by Sunday."

"Just a few blocks away, the merchant who handled radios, talking machines and furniture, was sitting at breakfast with his family. The conversation drifted around to clothes, and his wife said, 'I must send away for clothes for the children, and get a new dress for myself.'

"An hour later the leading grocer stopped at the bank to get a draft, which he was going to send away for a new bedroom suite."

"How's business?" asked the banker.

"Oh, not so good," said the grocer. "Things are a little dull right now."

"Before the banker finished writing the draft a dapper young man with a grip stepped in and asked how every thing was."

The banker seemed glad to see him. He was a representative of a big printing plant in another state. He and the banker chatted pleasantly for a few minutes, after which the young man inquired casually of his friend before the window if he wanted anything.

"Well, yes," said the banker. "I believe I do. Print us 2000 drafts, 10,000 checks and a couple of thousand letter heads and envelopes."

The young man thanked his friend and hustled out.

"That right the real business men held a meeting to discuss the growth of the mail order evil. All of the above mentioned gentlemen delivered short talks. They agreed there were many people in town who were guilty of treason to the home merchants in other cities and the meeting closed by adopting strong resolutions against patronizing mail order houses."

"It has been fine to meet with all of you Bills," said Medford "Bill" to the rest of the "Bills" in the cash drawer, "and I hope that we will meet again quite often in this city, and I extend to you all an invitation to remain in Medford. You will like it here and it will be a matter of great pleasure to you all to know that you are having a part in helping to build up one of the finest communities in the whole country. Loyalty to Medford is the one thing that will build it."

SET FIGHT DATE GENE AND WHITE FOR NOVEMBER 6

The colored fighter, K. O. White, has been found and will meet Gene O'Grady, the Ashland light heavyweight, after all, following an announcement yesterday that the fight, scheduled for the army tomorrow night, had been canceled.

The fight will take place two weeks from today, November 6, and is expected to be one of the best fist encounters seen in Medford for years.

White could not be located for the past two or three days by Tex Bickorstaff, local promoter, and it was thought he might have possibly gone east to his headquarters in Chicago. However, Tex received a wire today from White that he is still anxious to meet O'Grady and that he could not be found because of a training program that had taken him into the mountains near Tagawa, Wash.

White wired as soon as he came out of the hills. The negro has a reputation of having never put up a "bad fight" and a fight at Chicago a year ago drew a gross gate of $42,000. He has met some of the best fighters in the country, and is to meet Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen Assasin, in a main event at Seattle the end of this month.

Lomski has fought several times in New York City and has met Tommy Louhran, the light heavyweight champion of the world until he retired from it to go into the heavyweight division.

White met O'Grady in a fight last July at Klamath and broke three of Gene's ribs and knocked him to the canvas twice for counts of eight and nine. However, O'Grady won on a questionable decision and ever since White has been itching for a return bout.
