

BELLVIEW SCHOOL TO MOVE ON WEEK-END

BELLVIEW, Ore., Oct. 25.—(Special.) Saturday, Oct. 26, will be moving day at Bellview, when the desks and other school equipment will be moved into the new school building.

ing will take place on Friday evening, Nov. 8, with President Churchill of the Southern Oregon Normal school to give the principal address of the evening. Superintendent Susanne Homsa Carter, a former teacher of Bellview, will act as chairman.

Ward Croft visited the Bellview school Tuesday to determine the possibilities of a school orchestra this year, and found that enough pupils wanted music lessons to form a class for orchestra work. He will organize the class on Friday.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC HAS DECREASE IN REVENUE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—(AP) Southern Pacific company reports September revenues slightly under the same month of last year at $6,280,000. Nine months revenues were nearly $6,000,000 ahead of last year at more than $45,000,000.

CORVALLIS TEAM TO HAVE WEIGHT ON LOCAL SQUAD

Starting lineups for the Corvallis and Medford high school football squads, for their fifth annual game tomorrow afternoon at VanSoyoc field, will probably be:

- Corvallis—Medford—
Pittmann—C. O. Newlin
Long—G. Castleman
Ash—G. Sprague
Wagner—T. Cunningham
Brown—E. Whyte
Tweed—E. Archer
Swain—E. Thomas
Yundt—Q. Clay
Adams—H.B. Wentzel
Beal—H.B. Harrington
Underwood—F.B. Zupbrunn

The Corvallis squad will arrive late this afternoon by stage, in charge of Coach Parker.

The student body will stage a "pop" rally this evening from the stage of the Craterian theater, and on the downtown streets, with Earle (Flea) Davis acting as master of ceremonies.

The visitors will outweigh the locals, who are bunched up with minor injuries. Tackle Dobbyn has a boil on the back of his neck, and Guard Sprague has poor underpinning, but it is probable that Sprague will start the game. Castleman will probably be given the call over Green for the other guard, though Green is a hold-over from last year's squad, and was a first string guard, up to The Dalles and the Benson games, when his place was filled by Sprague.

The Medford team is now in better condition than when it tackled Grants Pass two weeks ago, and had trouble with its wind after the first four plays. The athletes have got down to business the past ten days, and will probably be in shape for a gruelling battle such as Corvallis always offers. They ought to beat the college town warriors, however, a couple of touchdowns, if they can stand the pace.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MRS. REAMES, PHOENIX

Lavica A. Reames died yesterday at her home in Ashland at the age of 79 years, six months and nine days. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Phoenix church, where friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. She was the wife of the late James R. Reames of Phoenix, Cal., and was the mother of Mrs. Lillian M. Coleman, Mrs. Andrew Hearn and Harry W. Reames of Phoenix, Mrs. Charles P. Christensen of Linden, Cal., and Ernest E. Reames of Central Point. She was a native of Iowa.

Gambler's Murder Dogs Tammany Election Trail

Joah H. Banton, New York prosecutor (left above), and Grover A. Whalen (at desk), police commissioner, have been criticized for not solving the Rothstein murder. Florencio H. LaGuardia (lower left) has made the unsolved murder an issue in his campaign for mayor against James J. Walker (lower right). George McManus (lower center) has been indicted, but is out on bail.

By Donald C. Bolles (A.P. Feature Service Writer) NEW YORK—(AP)—By an inexplicable quirk of politics, the unsolved murder of a gambler has become the principal issue, temporarily at least, of New York's quadrennial campaign to select a mayor.

The specter of the Rothstein case has been resurrected and planted firmly in the foreground of the political horizon by the strategy of the men ambitious to supplant James J. Walker in the mayor's chair.

Probably not since the Rosenthal case 17 years ago, in which Charles Becker, police lieutenant, paid with his life for plotting murder, has a killing brought such loud reverberations in political circles.

Arnold Rothstein's lips were sealed in death, but it was contended that he left behind an incriminating record of his dealings in little black books and other records whose contents have never been revealed. Walker's opponents clamor for the truth about reports that politicians and office holders were indicted to him for loans.

A maze of conflicting statements, rumors and charges have cloaked the case since the gambler was fatally shot in a room in the Park Central hotel November 4, 1928. He had participated in a stud poker game there.

The weeks that followed brought a mass of rumors and public clamor for justice finally aroused for next convention. Election of officers. Announcements.

8:00—Address, "Our Leader's Covenant 'Carry On'," Rev. R. W. Nelson. Closing of convention.

Brisbane's Today

(Continued from Page One) But no great harm is done. The games and great crowds arouse young men's interest in college life and give college education to young men from rolling hills and rear ends of ice wagons that otherwise might remain uneducated.

The Swiss parliament, elected by a moral and serious nation, proposing a law to punish blasphemy, suggests six months in prison for those that "orally or in writing insult God."

Blasphemy should be punished because it sets a bad example and shows want of respect for the feelings of others.
But is it possible for any two-legged human microbe on this planet to insult God?
If the mice proposed to punish any mouse insulting Edison, you would say, "Mice, don't worry; you CAN'T insult Edison."
How much less can any man insult the Creator of the Universe?
The Tribuna of Rome announces an interesting ceremony. Italy's king and queen, in full state, accompanied by Crown Prince Humbert and other princes, will visit Pope Pius in the Vatican, first visit of Italian royalty to the pope since 1870 and the days of Garibaldi.
After an intimate meeting between the pope and the royal family, the royal party will enter St. Peter's to render homage at the tomb of St. Peter.

firmation of renewed friendliness between the Italian monarchy and the pope, arranged by Mussolini, is of great historical interest.
Poincare and Clemenceau, great Frenchmen, and old, Clemenceau is 88, amaze their doctors by quick recovery from serious illness.
"Within an inch of death" Sunday, Clemenceau is now getting up at 7 in the morning to work on his important book and discuss politics with friends.
The puzzling fact for prohibition Americans is that these Frenchmen, all their lives, have drunk light French red wine, diluted with water, and never drink ice water. French doctors even tell you that red wine, containing iron, tannin and vitamins in abundance, makes good blood, which gives health and long life.
Haldane, eminent British biologist, says the negro race in America will gradually die out because negroes move to big cities. Had they remained in the country, says Haldane, they might gradually have equaled the whites in number.
But city life kills them.
That statement appears to be confirmed by statistics in New York City.
The death rate in the negro section is 40 per cent higher than throughout the city as a whole.
There are 300,000 negroes in New York City, and the health problem is a serious one.
