

LONG ILLNESS MRS. COOLIDGE MOTHER AT END

Death Brings Release for Little New England Lady at Age of 80 — Former President and Wife at Hospital Daily.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—(AP) A little old lady who went to the White House in 1924 to see her son-in-law inaugurated president has found release from two years' illness. Her daughter, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, was at the bedside when the end came early last night.

Of sturdy New England stock, Mrs. Elmira Goodhue remained intensely interested in the lives of her distinguished kinfolk. She spent two months at the White House after the inauguration. Entering a hospital here in December 1927, after an influenza attack, she remained mentally active despite the infirmities of illness and old age. She was 80 years old.

Several times Mrs. Coolidge was summoned hurriedly from the White House to her mother's bedside. Since the Coolidges' return to Northampton she has visited the hospital daily. The former president was at the hospital yesterday.

Mrs. Goodhue was the widow of Captain Andrew Goodhue, a Lake Champlain steamboat inspector, and for many years lived in Burlington, Vt. She was born in Mashua, N. H. After her husband's death in 1928 she sold her home and moved to Northampton to live in the Coolidge home.

TROUT IN ROGUE NOW BEAR TAGS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—(AP) The state game commission, assisted by the United States bureau of fisheries, has tagged 677 trout at various points along the Rogue river within the past month in an effort to prove that there is but one spawning for steelheads in the Rogue.

Sportsmen contended that there were two spawning seasons, but Matt Ryckman, state superintendent of hatcheries, held there is but one.

Fishermen who catch tagged trout are asked to turn the tag number into the state game commission office.

New "Come-Ons" Staff Sought by French Casinos to Aid Profits

By J. P. Hanson.
(Associated Press Correspondent)
CANNES, France.—(AP)—Casinos along the French Riviera have lost so many of their professional "come-ons" by death or matrimony within 12 months, that a general call for recruits has gone out. The job may be had by those who know cards, clothes and international society, who have a flair for publicity and who can stay at the gaming tables all night for weeks at a time.

It is no soft job. The good "come-on" player is judged by results. He, or mostly always she, is forced to work hard. The main idea is to gamble with the casino's money when, and with whom, the director decides. Winnings go back to the casino. Losses, but not too many of them, are paid by the casino. In return the player receives a weekly salary, lives free at the best hotels, has a charge account paid by the casino at the most important bars and restaurants, and often has a motor car placed at his disposal.

The job has no working hours. A short while ago one of the most noted "come-ons" was aroused by a telephone call at two in the morning. She was told to report within thirty minutes, collect 200,000 francs at the cashier's desk and join the play at table No. 4. When she arrived she discovered that the table was occupied by a chemist-dealer duel between two wealthy New Yorkers. Her job was to make the game lively and thus keep the two major players at the green table and donating the five per cent take-off to the house at the intervals stated by the gambling law.

CUT PHONE TOLLS FOR NEIGHBORING EXCHANGES, STATE

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The public service commission today announced a reduction from 10 to 5 cents on telephone calls between exchanges of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. within six miles or less of each other in the state of Oregon. The new rate schedule was filed today with the commission by H. R. Risley, state manager for the company.

Throughout the state more than 60 exchanges are affected. The new schedule will be effective on November 1.

Under the new schedule the cost of telephoning between points affected will be 5 cents for the first five minutes and 5 cents for each subsequent five minutes. All calls will be on a station-to-station basis, which means giving the number of the telephone in the town called and the number of the phone placing the call.

TROUBLES ENDED; GAINED 11 POUNDS

"Fifteen years of stomach trouble and constipation had just about wrecked my health. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I'd have indigestion after every meal. I guess I've taken a barrel of soda and I don't know how many digestive tablets and laxatives, but they all seemed to lose their effect in a short time. Finally I began to break down, losing weight and getting awfully nervous and weak. One day while I was in Los Angeles I noticed a display of Sargol at the Owl Drug Co., so I went in and bought some. Five bottles of this wonderful medicine built me up from 122 to 133 pounds. I've never had a minute's trouble with my stomach since I started the treatment. My appetite is fine and I eat anything I want without a trace of indigestion. Sargol Pills are the finest treatment I ever took for constipation. Just one or two before eating keeps me regulated in good shape."

It's been two or three months now since I quit taking Sargol and I've never had a recurrence of my old trouble.—Henry K. Berger, 1422 7th Ave., Seattle, Wash. Owl Drug Co. Agents.

BOSCS RETAIL 5 CENTS EACH DETROIT TRADE

The sixth car of Medford Bosc's sold today in Detroit, Michigan at an average of $2.80 per box. One of the large chain stores again bought one hundred boxes.

The averages by sizes follows:

8 1/2"	$4.00
9 1/2"	3.50
10 1/2"	3.70
11 1/2"	3.55
12 1/2"	3.50
13 1/2"	3.45
14 1/2"	3.35
15 1/2"	3.25
16 1/2"	3.15
17 1/2"	3.05

The Winter Pear Committee announced today that it has assigned a special salesman to do missionary work among the retailers, wholesalers and jobbers of Detroit, that they might better know the merits and glories of the Bosc pear. The Detroit trade is not familiar with the Bosc, the committee has learned, and confused them with the D'Anjous and other winter varieties. So the salesman is going among them with samples of both pears as a means of education.

Many Detroit dealers have D'Anjou pears stacked in piles in green condition and so hard as to defy human teeth to penetrate. These unripe D'Anjous fail to sell.

The Bosc pear is, however, meeting with a highly favorable reception from the trade and the ultimate consumer, due to extensive publicity, and the fact the Bosc's are ripened and ready for eating. Like the rest of the world, Detroiters prefer dainties they can chew without waiting for them to ripen on the pantry shelf or behind the stove.

Five Cents Each
Retailers are selling Bosc's in Detroit at 5 cents each, or two pounds for 25 cents. This seems to be the limit.

In the opinion of the Detroit committee, regardless of prices paid this year, there is no question as to the success of this campaign. Formerly 15 per cent of the retail trade were familiar with Bosc. Today 100 per cent of the trade know something about the Bosc and before the campaign is over it is assumed every fruit vendor in Detroit will know the difference between the Bosc and other varieties.
