NEWEST SKYSCRAPER to dent New York's skyline is the 40-story $10,000,000 Battery Tower which is being erected in the financial district. It will bring the most modern residential accommodations into the section made famous by its million-dollar trades.

HE GETS 'EM if the old spheroid is passed anywhere near him. Don & "Mush" Muller, one of "Pop" Warner's stalwart ends at Stanford, seldom misses a pass—and he's shown above as he reached skyward, feet well off the ground, for an aerial that came his way.

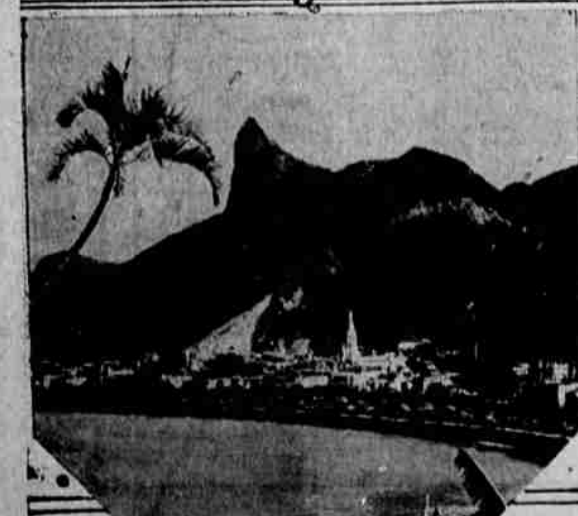

WRESTLERS IN ICELAND give the fans more than a few big grunts, as they do in America, for their money, and it looks like no holds are barred when they go into action. This remarkable picture shows three matches on at once—and, beg pardon, HOW!

A REPLICA OF INDEPENDENCE HALL is to be found at Henry Ford's Museum of American History, under construction at Dearborn, Mich. This shows a general view of the main buildings.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE at the palatial home in Hollywood of Corinne Griffith consists of the attractive Miss Griffith and her wire-haired terrier, Fritz. It looks like the committee could offer a real welcome.

'DOWN RIO WAY' these charming scenes attract the eye of the tourist to Rio de Janeiro. Above, a winding road along the mountainside, with shade furnished from tropical trees alongside; below, a view of the harbor with lofty mountains in the background.

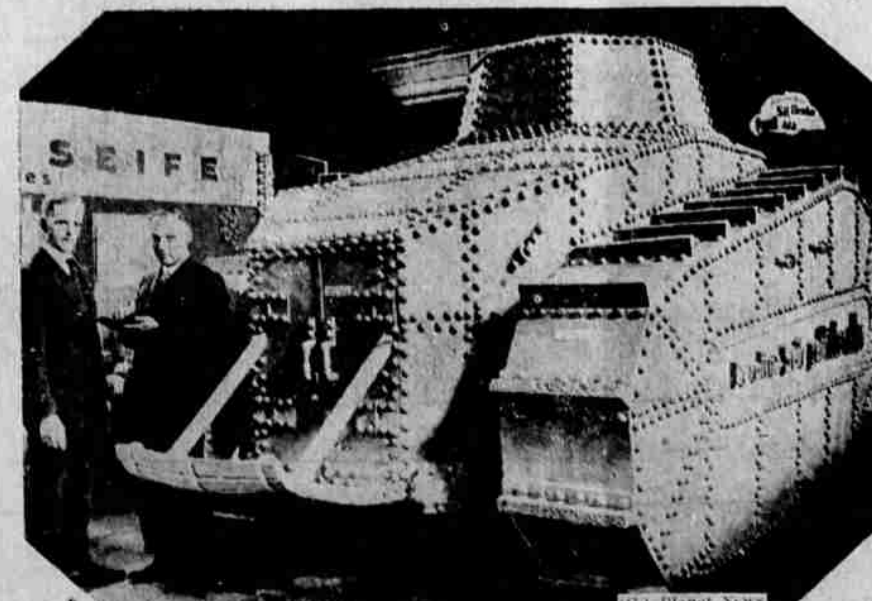

PERHAPS THIS LOOKS EASY, but you ought to try jumping over the backs of five men if you think it is. Of course, to E. J. Kleeman's "Rolf's Bruno," pictured above, it's as easy as munching a big beefsteak.

MARK TWAIN'S DOUBLE! In face, manner of dress, speech, living, vocation and even talking, Dr. William L. Rigdon of Topeka, Kas., bears a striking resemblance to the famous author, Mark Twain. Don't you agree?

HIGHEST PAID MANNEQUIN in the world is Mlle. Nijinska, famous Epstein model, who reigns supreme in the mannequin world because of her wonderful figure. Attractive offers from screen and stage producers have not tempted her.

IT'S MADE OF SOAP, and even though this fighting machine appears able to repel the most terrific bombardment, it wouldn't. The huge tank was part of a recent industrial exhibit in Berlin.

FEW FUMBLES occur in a football game when the ball carrier lugs it between entwined arms in the manner shown here by "Pug" Parkinson, Pittsburgh back. His facial expression hints of the power in his runs.

GOOD LUCK IS ASSURED anyone who, in three attempts, lodges a stone atop the stone elephant's back at the Ming tombs near Nanking, China, and these dough-boys in Uncle Sam's navy are trying their hand for a bit of Dame Fortune's sweet smile.
