SMITH IN FRONT BY SIX STROKES FOR FINAL TEE

Young Missourian Cuts Five From Par in Each Round to Distance Field in Oregon Open — To Play 36 Holes Today.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—(AP)—With six important strokes separating the leader from his nearest rival, the third and final round of the annual Oregon golf championship was to get under way at the Columbia Country club course here at 8 a. m. today.

Bill McEwan, Seattle; Cecil Vanderford, Portland, and William Palmberg, Astoria, Ore., were to tee off first. They were to be followed at five-minute intervals by the rest of the field.

In case of ties, the championship, for which cash prizes totaling $1200 have been posted, will be played off tomorrow.

Horton Smith, young professional from Joplin, Mo., is the shot-maker who has found the hazards and traps of the Columbia course so much to his liking.

Smith's powerful drives, many of which carried over 300 yards, defeated the wind, however, and his cautious advance study of the course served to nullify the fog handicap.

The young professional's approach shots and putts added to his superb game. His putting was described by many as perfect, and one-putt greens for him were the rule rather than the exception.

Next to Smith in low scores were Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, and Walter Hagen of Detroit, with 140's. Dutra shot a 69 on the first round Thursday and 71 yesterday.

Lighthouse Harry Cooper, Buffalo, N. Y., with 141, was two under Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, Tommy Armour, Detroit, and Ed Duhny, Delaware, all with 143's.

Frank Dolp, Portland, led the amateurs with a 145 and was followed by Dr. O. P. Willing, also of this city, with 148.

Thru the efforts of Medford post No. 15, of the American Legion, the annual game between the University of Oregon and O. S. C. football teams has been secured for this city and a record crowd is anticipated for this big game and a real battle is promised.

Of special interest to local fans is the fact that several members of the Medford state championship team will be in the line-up of the U. of O. Frosh, while Red McDonald, star end, will play with O. S. C.

The advance sale of tickets has met with a fine response and it is anticipated that every seat in the grandstand will be sold long before next Saturday.

GRANTS PASS GOLFERS PLAY HERE TOMORROW

Over 18 golfers are expected to arrive tomorrow from Grants Pass to play a return match with a picked team of Medford players at the Rogue River Valley links tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock.

A party of Grants Pass women are also expected in Medford to play the local ladies.

SIX BACKFIELD GEMS TAKE SPOTLIGHT

Even Gil Doble would smile if he had these boys on his Cornell team. That being the case, they must be right good.

By Jay Vessels (Sports Editor Associated Press Feature Service)

NEW YORK.—(AP)—This week's star in football may be next week's star.

That's the way it is for most of the backfield performers. But for men like Ted Cagle, Jack Elder, Jesse Hill, Al Marsters, Billy Banker and "Dutch" Clark, one week is the same as the next.

That much has been proved the first part of the season.

So the assumption then is that this sextet of scoring cars carries plenty of material for the All-American authors.

Cagle, who was a unanimous choice in 1928, is going great. Yet this Army's master halfback hasn't a great deal on Al Marsters when it comes to keeping the experts tuned up in the eastern zone.

Al has a lot of capable company on that crack Dartmouth outfit and he seems likely to land a job on that high-powered mythical team, whose members have nothing to do but keep quiet and look wise.

Out in the south and west, where they rear their fast and smart, some of the nominees also appear indispensable to any expert's All-American lineup.

There is "Chuck" Clark, still doing a one-man job of putting Colorado College on the football map.

In the same general direction from the eastern lookout stations are Jack Elder, the Notre Dame flash, and Jesse Hill, the Southern California wizard. And the south has a nominee just as good in Billy Banker, Tulane's blonde terror.

If these won't do, it will be an easy job to find substitutes. And this probably is the first time such men as Lom of California, Thomas of Georgia Tech, Phares of Minnesota, Saunders of Southern California and Glasgow of Iowa ever were referred to as substitute choices, even on a mythical team.

Both the Beaver and Cougar combinations were in good condition.

White still remembers what he considers was a bad decision when O'Grady won from him in Klamath Falls, after White had broken three of his ribs and knocked him down twice in the first two rounds.

He was a most surprised colored man when the Ashland boy was given the decision. As a result, White has been anxious for a return match.

The semi-windup, between Billy Breedlove of Bend and Teddy Mlake of Los Angeles, is expected to be as interesting as the main event, and is of top spot material.

Breedlove recently fought a main event in the Klamath country and won his fight. The remaining preliminaries all present good boys and the fights will begin promptly at 8:45. Tickets are on sale in Medford at Brown's.

CLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Nov. 2.—(AP)—K. O. White, Chicago, will meet Willie Feldman, Aberdeen, Wash., fighter, in a bout here November 8, four days after a fight in Medford between White and Gene O'Grady of Ashland.

Fans raised the question why the boxing commission allowed White to be booked for a bout with only four days elapsing.

WEBFEET FACE BEARS IN DAD'S DAY STRUGGLE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Two seasons of gridiron supremacy remain to be settled today before the 76,000 football enthusiasts who will gather at the Coliseum to witness the clash between the University of California eleven and the Trojans.

For when the men of Troy line up against Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price's proud Golden Bears, the play will have direct bearing on the scoreless cross which marks in the background of a year ago.

Moreover, the winner of today's classic stands in good stead to finish the Pacific Coast conference season with the championship honors.

Smart, deceptive backfield combinations are boasted of by each school, while the two coaches are blessed with an imposing array of reserve material.

Coach Prince has indicated that his gridsters are in excellent condition, while the Trojans are also in top form.

Both teams held light workouts at Hayward field yesterday, and all players were declared by their respective coaches to be in excellent condition.

The probable lineup: UCLA—Pos. Oregon; Wellendorf—LE Archer; Brown—LT Colbert; Noble—LG Shields; French—C Forsta; Lloyd—RB Edlin; Nelson—RT Christensen; Simpson—QB Lydell; Strussner—QB Kitzmiller; Russom—LB A. Browne; Thoe—RH Mason; Duncan—FB Hatton.

CONFIDENT EUGENEANS HERE FOR GRID GAME

A highly confident Eugene high school football team, in charge of Skeeter Manerod, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon for their game this afternoon with the Medford high school football team.

Twenty-five players made the trip and the visitors plan to use plenty of reserves. They held a light workout at Van Scoyoc field yesterday and this morning.

The locals are badly wrecked by injuries and have no reserves. Eugene is given the edge to win. The Medford team is not in the best condition of the season and hard training has been the order among those not injured.

Chuck Thomas has been shifted from the end to the backfield for this game and his place will be taken by Archer.

LOYOLA TURNS BACK AGS IN NIGHT GAME

PASADENA, CAL., Nov. 2.—(AP)—A fast Loyola college eleven turned back the heavier California Agriculture college team, 6 to 0 in an afterdark specialty in the Rose Bowl last night.

Strutzel, star Lion halfback, scored the lone tally two minutes after the fourth opened. A disheartening bobble came in the final period when Finn, who had turned in a creditable game at halfback, dropped the ball on the Loyola 16-yard line when the tying touchdown seemed but a few plays away.

The trio who gave you "7th Heaven" and "Street Angel" are said to surpass their previous triumphs in this spoken drama of a couple that wins regeneration thru suffering.

STATERS FEARFUL LOCAL GAME WILL AID FROSH MARGIN

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 2.—(Special)—Due to the four consecutive triumphs in the last three years, the University of Oregon freshmen hold a four-game edge in the Book Frosh series.

With the Rockies so badly weakened with injuries it is expected the Frosh will increase this margin to five games this year, in the game at Medford November 9.

Coach Dick Newman has a hopeless task in rebuilding his squad, but may be able to present a semi-regular first string if the casualties continue to leave the wrecked list and return to practice.

About a third of the injured are in still, but it is not known if they will be able to play or not.

HUSKIES WIN IN FOG AND DARKNESS 73-0

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The University of Washington football team defeated the College of Puget Sound, 73 to 0, in the first after dark football game ever staged in the northwest here last night.

The night game attracted 20,000 fans to the Tacoma stadium, and the experiment was considered a success, although a fog that rolled in during the closing periods considerably interfered with visibility.

FAVOR STATERS OVER COUGAR IN PORTLAND TILT

Washington College Has Only Exception to Pre-Game View—Three-Team Tie Hinges On Result—Expect Torrid Contest.

By Frank G. Gorrice. Associated Press Sports Writer. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The football championship of the northern section of the Pacific Coast conference was the object of both Washington State college and Oregon State college grid elevens in their annual battle on a neutral savadust field here today.

The Oregon State Beavers were considered slight favorites by virtually everyone in this city last night, except the band of Cougar followers who journeyed down here from eastern Washington.

Three teams—Oregon, O. S. C. and W. S. C.—are tied for first place in the northern division and the Oregon University of California at Los Angeles contest at Eugene and the Beaver-Cougar battle here today made up the semifinals of the title race.

All three elevens have lost one game each. Oregon and O. S. C. both fell before the onslaught of the Stanford Cardinals, and W. S. C. dropped its first conference tilt to California.

Victories for both Oregon and Oregon State today would result in the two elevens battling for the northern championship at Eugene, November 16. A Cougar win this afternoon would give the Pullman eleven a claim for the title in the event that it hurdles Idaho and Montana later this month.

W. S. C. and Oregon do not meet this year. Both the Beaver and Cougar combinations were in good condition.
