New President Local Chapter Oregon Mothers

MRS. E. E. GORE

The Medford chapter of the Oregon Mothers, was organized Monday afternoon at the Hotel Holland, with Mrs. E. E. Gore as president, installed by Mrs. Walter Cook, president of the Oregon Mothers, assisted by Mrs. J. F. Hill, president of the Portland chapter and Miss Marion Pfy, executive secretary of the organization and private secretary to President Arnold Bennett Hill.

The object of the organization is to make the mothers of students attending the university intimately acquainted with the purpose and aims of the school and to provide them with information to either group or individual study if so desired. Mothers of students, prospective students, or anyone interested in the university are eligible to membership.

The success of the meeting was largely due to Mrs. Robert Hammond, general chairman and Mrs. A. V. Reynolds who served on the reception committee and also gave the Hotel Holland parlors as a meeting place.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. E. E. Gore; vice president, Mrs. Claud Morgan; secretary, C. E. Bolds.

Williams-Waldron Wedding Event of the Week

Quiet dignity and charming simplicity marked the wedding ceremony of Miss Josephine Waldron, daughter of the late Mrs. Clara Waldron, and Willis W. Williams, when on Sunday, October 27, they were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. L. Harrison, in Ashland. Rev. Falls of the Methodist church officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, A. E. Waldron, was dressed in a frock of robin's egg blue georgette. She carried a shower bouquet. Miss Janet Clement was bridesmaid and Douglas Wood acted as best man.

Only members of the immediate families attended the wedding and directly after the ceremony dinner was served. Covers were placed for 16.

The bride attended Medford high school and has lived in this city until the past few months she has made her home with her sister in Ashland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams of Bayette, Ida.

The young couple will make their home in Ashland as Mr. Williams is employed by the Bell Telephone company.

Out-of-Town Guests Entertained Here

Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Myers had as house guests this past week Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Bosworth and small daughter June, of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Harlan Bosworth Sr., of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Bosworth Jr., (Marie Myers) recently returned from a several weeks' visit with her husband's parents in Buffalo.

Medford Artists Are Presented in Concert

Friday evening a group of musicians from Medford were presented in concert in the First Christian church of Grants Pass. Miss Betty Stennett was heard in three groups of harp solos, and was most enthusiastically received. She responded with a request number, "Barcarolle," by Offenbach, "June Prayer," by Hasselemans was beautifully executed. The harp is seldom heard in Grants Pass and Miss Betty's sweet playing was much enjoyed.

Rev. Carman E. Mell, shared the honors of the evening, singing his songs with fine effect. Mr. Mell possesses an excellent baritone voice under splendid control, and capable of every emotion. Especially well received were his "Invictus," Huhn; "Chanson," June Voyogense, by Branscombe; "His Lullaby," Bond; and "Neptune," by Bingham. Mr. Mell was ably supported at the piano by Genevieve Wortman McCorkle.

Miss Margaret Childers and Mrs. McCorkle played four duo numbers at two pianos. Ensemble work is interesting and makes possible much variety of tone color, and these added much to the success of the evening.

Little Miss Suzette Strpnett gave a touch of humor to the program in her readings. Both numbers were mirth provoking and were roundly applauded.

A number of Medford people drove to Grants Pass for the concert.

At Dinner Party

In honor of Mrs. M. A. Parks of Sams Valley and local and visiting descendants by blood and marriage, Mrs. Leo B. Williams was hostess at a dinner party Wednesday evening at her home on Reddy avenue. An excellent dinner was served, graced by Mrs. Parks. Seated on each side of her were six of her surviving children, A. B. Williams, C. R. Williams, J. H. Williams, Mrs. R. H. Seemiller, Mrs. H. A. Barwick and Mrs. R. A. Boyles. It was the first reunion in many years when the guest of honor was surrounded by so many of her children, and the occasion was more than of passing moment to Mrs. Parks. In the company four generations were represented by the families of two grandchildren.

After dinner bridge and pinochle were the diversions of the evening. The event was most happily enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Parks will leave in a few days to spend the winter with a daughter near Los Angeles, her advanced age, 79 years, making it advisable to seek a more salubrious winter climate. She expects to return to this valley next spring.

D. A. R.'s Will Dedicate Fort Birdseye Tomorrow

On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Crater Lake Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will unveil another marker, a ceremony to which the public is cordially invited. This one marks the site of Fort Birdseye built in 1855 and the log house built the next year by David Birdseye on the present Pacific highway just this side of the town of Rogue River.

The program will be as follows: "America," sung by all present. Salute to the flag, David Birdseye guarding the flag. Invocation by the Chapter chaplain.

Unveiling of the Marker by Misses Winifred and Margaret Warner.

"Honoring the Pioneers," by the Pioneer Society of Southern Oregon.

Address, by Judge Colvig.

"Markers as a Community Interest," Mrs. Elsie Grimmett, president Rogue River Community Club.

"Markers Along our Highways," Mrs. C. E. Gates.

Closing remarks, Mrs. B. G. Harding, recent Crater Lake Chapter, D. A. R.

Woodcraft Host Klamath Circle

Chrysanthemum Circle No. 84, Neighbors of Woodcraft, entertained Euwana Circle No. 647, of Klamath Falls, on Monday evening, October 28th, with a 6 o'clock dinner, followed by a regular lodge session. About thirty members were present from Euwana circle.

The banquet hall was most beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and berries, while in the lodge room the Halloween decorations were used. Both were very effective and beautiful.

At 6 o'clock about one hundred members marched to the banquet hall, led by Grand Representative Elva Hiden, and District Flag Bearers, Ella Cummings, followed by the officers of Euwana and Chrysanthemum circles, then the members.

Two members were initiated into the mysteries of woodcraft.

Chrysanthemum circle had the pleasure this evening of having seated within the wood, four charter members of different circles; they were Cora A. Sanderson of Euwana circle No. 647, Klamath Falls; Libbie Lytle Blackman of Platt Valley Circle, Brighton, Colorado, 1902; Maude Ward Montgomery of Halsey, Oregon, and Loretta Rinabarger of Wray, Colorado. The last two are new members of Chrysanthemum circle.

Following circle a short program was given.

The first was a Halloween toe dance by Zoe Dell Lantis, pupil of Ruth Marie Luy, followed by two vocal solos by Miss Mildred Gregory, pupil of Margaret Hunt-ton Williamson. 1st "Sometime at Close of Day"; 2nd, When My Dreams Come True.

The Thimble Club of the Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Dorothy Scripser, 715 Cedar street.

Neighbor Elsie Canine has kindly consented to accept the Senior Guardian.

The new juvenile meeting will be announced shortly.

Supervisor of music in the Junior high school, who came here this year from Forest City, Iowa, Miss McClure is a talented musician and has a rich soprano voice. She attended Winingside College at Sioux City, Iowa.

Miss McClure has been engaged as choir leader for the First Christian Church.

Dinner at Ashland For Medford Woman

Mrs. Mary L. Mathews of 122 Almond street, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Grace E. Andrews, of Ashland, her sister-in-law, for the past fortnight, will return to her home early in the week. While in Ashland, a pleasant dinner with covers laid for seven, was given in her honor by Mrs. G. A. Andrews, at her home on East Main street, with Mrs. Mary L. Mathews, Mrs. Grace E. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Andrews and young son Alan, as guests. Later in the week Mrs. Andrews entertained for Mrs. Mathews at a dinner with immediate relatives as guests, both Andrews families being present. Mrs. Mathews has visited many times in Ashland, and has made many friends in that city.

Roosevelt School Has Halloween Frolic

The annual Halloween frolic of the Roosevelt school was attended by a large number of parents and friends. Booths of various kinds decorated in keeping with Halloween afforded the children a great deal of fun. Over one hundred and thirty-five dollars were made which will be added to the school fund.

Mrs. Watkins Honored at Phoenix Party

A party was given at the home of Mrs. Geo. Jackson of Phoenix on Friday evening, Nov. 1, in honor of Mrs. Floyd Watkins of Medford.

The guests present were Mrs. Geo. McClain, Mrs. J. W. Watkins, Mrs. Lillie Blackwood, Mrs. Ed Marshall, Mrs. Harvey Crowell, Miss Edna Watkins, Miss Winnie Schnack and Miss Elva Custer, all of Phoenix, and Mrs. Newburn Hodges, Mrs. Oppie Stafford and Mrs. Paul Yecorn, of Medford, and the hostesses, Mrs. Roy Burleson and Mrs. Geo. Jackson of Phoenix.

The evening was very enjoyably spent playing guessing games and visiting. Refreshments of jello salad, sandwiches and coffee were served.

All present expressed the opinion that they had spent a very enjoyable evening.

Freshment Take Prize Girls' League Party

At the Halloween party given at the high school Friday evening by the Girls' League, the freshmen and members of the faculty who are teaching here for the first time were initiated. A formal initiation was conducted by the officers of the league, each one telling some of the ideals and purposes of the organization. The freshmen were given copies of the Girls' League creed. A short informal initiation was also conducted.

A very enjoyable program was given, which included a short skit by each of the classes. The freshmen were awarded the prize.

Their act had as its setting a cabaret, known as Coffee Anne's Tavern, where they were celebrating the 29th anniversary. La Vonne Anderson gave a jazz dance, Margaret Warner played a saxophone solo, the four "gobs" sang the "Dance of the Paper Dolls," and seven chorus girls who were dressed in green and white gave a dance. The patrons and patronesses were dressed in evening attire, and Anna Mae Fuson, master of ceremonies was dressed in a black and white suit.

For the sophomore number, an old-fashioned country school conducted by Mary Edmiston, and a number of hootenanny sophomores made up the class.

The Juniors conducted a country store, with Helen Wilson as storekeeper. The usual number of gossips were continually interfering with the love affairs of a young couple.

"Shot at Sunrise" was the title of the act put on by the seniors. A number of crippled soldiers who had been wounded in the war were lounging around, a number of whom were in a serious condition. When it was announced that the Armistice had been signed, the entire group got up and danced around.

Miss Ruth Luy's dancing class sang and danced the Break-away, which was greatly enjoyed. Miss Robert Stearns chairman of the program committee.

Following the program, the remainder of the evening was spent dancing, and refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. Music was furnished by the Girls' League orchestra.

A large number of the parents were present and enjoyed the program and dancing.
