

WALTER HAGEN TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY AT 1:30

Famous Golf Champion to Play 18-Hole Match With Jack Hueston, Medford Pro — Admission Is Reduced to One Dollar.

Walter Hagen generally regarded as the greatest tournament golfer in the world, will play an 18-hole match with Jack Hueston, Medford pro, at the local club this Friday afternoon at 1:30. Last year Hagen appeared here with Johnny Farrell and the two played Chan Egan and Hueston, tying them in 74 holes although Egan shot the best score of the day. Jack Hueston was badly off his game that day and he is eager to redeem himself against the former open champion of the world. If Jack can maintain his recent stride he has an excellent chance of doing this, for he now holds the course record with a 66—4 under par, and the nine-hole record of 29—seven under par.

The public is invited to see this match, and in an effort to secure a gallery worthy of its importance, the admission prices of $1.50 charged last year will be reduced to $1. The match will start promptly at half past one.

Walter Hagen is enthusiastic over Medford and southern Oregon and will probably indulge in some duck hunting while here if the weather should show signs of changing. He is en route to California and Hawaii, where he will be a contender in the important open tournaments.

ELK LAKE FISH CLEAR OF WORMS IS REPORT

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Matt Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries of the state game commission, said today that tapeworms have deserted fish in Elk lake and fishermen are now at liberty to catch the limit.

Ryckman, who investigated the lake last week, said no dead fish were on the banks and a study of those caught indicated no presence of disease.

VERDI'S AIDA OPENS CHICAGO OPERA YEAR

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Guld Coast and Ghetto sat last night in a 20,000,000 temple of music, rising sheer from the banks of the Chicago river and heard Verdi's "Aida" dedicate the Skyway theater to music's most showy form—grand opera.

SHIP TURKEYS WEDNESDAY

The Farm Exchange Co-operative unloading platform was a lively place this morning, with the turkey raisers unloading their fowls. The pool is in charge of Clay D. Parker, former manager of the co-operative.

Authorize Farm Credit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The federal farm board today authorized a line of credit of $5,000,000 to the National Producers Finance Board, a subsidiary of National Livestock Producers' association.

Dawes in Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Accompanied as usual by his understudy pipe and apparently in the best of humor, Charles G. Dawes, one time vice president and now ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here today for conferences with President Hoover on the forthcoming naval armament conference in London.

BERLIN (AP)—City statisticians reckoned that 399 Berliners committed suicide in the first six months of the current year. The men numbered 228 and the women 171.

HEADS OF GREAT WOMEN'S GROUPS PRAISE RED CROSS

LEADERS of two great groups of women—both interested in the public welfare of the citizens and the nation—join in asking members of their organizations and all women to enroll in the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. They are Mrs. Lowell F. Hobart, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. John F. Sippel, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Sippel declares: "The Red Cross is an emblem which is recognized and respected by the civilized world. The annual membership Roll Call is about to be issued by this worthy national organization, which extends its humanitarian service the world over. Its field of action is not the battle field alone; its ideal is not merely to care for or relieve distress, it aims to prevent disease and to preserve health. The value of the work of the Red Cross is known to club women everywhere."

Special Plea to Women
"This year a special plea is being made to the women of the country to enroll in this worthy cause. Permit me as the President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to urge every club woman and every woman citizen of these United States to become a member. Blessed are those who work for the Red Cross."

Screen Life in Hollywood

By Robbin Coons.

HOLLYWOOD.—The talking screen's newest recruit from the ranks of the phonograph recording artists is Charles Kaley, with a face like a collar ad and a likable personality in spite of that.

Charles Kaley.

Kaley, who used to play around movie sets when he was with Abe Lyman's orchestra here a few years back, never thought of "going into the movies," although his handsome face might have made him a leading man as good as any the silent screen had known. For some reason or other, the movies did not interest him, and he went on living his own musical life.

When the screen found his voice, however, that was a different matter. Not that he was then a veteran of the stage, or a finished actor, for his whole "legit" experience was obtained as a singing juvenile in Earl Carroll's Vanities, except that for the past two and a half years he has been a master of ceremonies in Chicago theaters.

Cost Plenty—Worth It

Kaley, vacationing here this summer, was invited to take screen tests, and as a result received several talkie offers, but he was under contract in Chicago. Still, the talkies appealed to him—five shows a day, day in and day out, back in Chicago, constituted a grind of which he was getting tired.

Charlie, a U. S. C. man (that's University of Southern California, famed for football prowess), had seen only one football game in all that time. He never had time of his own. So eventually he decided the matter by buying his contract. It cost him $15,000—but he says it was worth it.

Concerning Hokum

With one movie executive offering a prize for the best definition of "hokum," Director Fred Niblo, a contender, has interesting comments on the subject. By "hokum," he believes, writers mean scenes which are used repeatedly to secure specific audience reactions. The dividing line between hokum and genius, he says, is the "heart line."

The restoration of certain situations in pictures becomes hokum when it signals its intent, when the audience senses that the director has given the cue for it to laugh or cry, he believes. In other words, an emotional scene is hokum when it does not react emotionally upon the audience.

And Niblo, by the way, contributed today's wisecrack: "The next World conference will be a pos-wow on nasal disarmament—for talkie actors."

TO ELIMINATE CENTRAL POINT HIGHWAY CURVE

County Engineer Plans New Route Between School House and Hopkins Place — Buy Lots for Alteration — Up to State.

Among the highway improvements scheduled for an early date, is the straightening out of the Pacific highway, between the Main street of Central Point and the Lee Merriman curve, eliminating one half-curve, and the half-pin curve at the old Fred G. Hopkins place. Plans to this end have been drawn by the county engineer's office. It is a matter for final consideration by the state highway commission, and an early decision is scheduled.

The present plan calls for a nine degree curve to start, near the Central Point school, and sweep gently into the highway again, about a quarter of a mile above the Fred Hopkins place, now occupied by J. G. Love.

The county bought the eight lots and portions of lots from the city of Central Point, and individuals, for the road alteration, at an outlay of $2200.

Under a law passed by the last legislature road alterations are solely within the jurisdiction of the highway commission. The county will be reimbursed the amount expended in securing the right-of-way.

The improvement will eradicate the notorious Hopkins turn which was among the sharpest, if not the sharpest, in the highway system. It was close to a right angle oblique turn, a worry to autoists, and a thorn to speeders.

WHO ELSE WANTS TO SAVE GAS?

Walter Critchlow, 4645 A Street, Wheaton, Ill., has patented a Vapor Moisture Gas Saver and Carbon Eliminator for all Autos and Engines that reports big new records.

ambassador he would be in favor of legislation to make them quit serving liquor. Brookhart contended that the three reporters of the Washington Times who have been jailed for contempt of court because they refused to give the names of those from whom they said they purchased liquor should give that information to the court.

"The Washington Times had a right to say that I should be called and made to testify," said Brookhart. "I am going to do that. I have been called and I am going to answer every question put to me now. Reporters of the Times should do the same."

NEW BUDGET IN FAVOR

Mrs. Mesdames Trine Platt, Nora C. Kirkpatrick and Kate Young were the election board at yesterday's election. At the budget election of last year only 85 votes were cast, of which but 9 were against the budget.

The members of the school board are Howard Scheffel, president, Carl Swigart, Dr. B. E. Green, C. C. Lemmon, and N. H. Franklin. The members of the citizens budget committee, which on October 11 prepared the budget, which was published in the local newspapers, consisted of John C. Mann, W. W. Allen, E. M. Wilson, Marc Jarmin and O. O. Alenderfer.
