The turkey pool of the Farmers' Exchange Co-operative is progressing better than expected. A carload was shipped November 7 for which the growers were paid more than $5000. The second car is packed and loaded and will go out tonight for which the growers will receive about $7500, and turkeys for a third car are being packed and will be shipped Saturday, November 9.

It is expected this car will be as large or larger than the first car. Growers are being paid, upon delivery of their turkeys, 32 cents a pound advance, and will receive whatever is realized in addition upon the sale, less the percentage retained by the Farmers' Exchange Co-operative for work, labor and services performed and materials furnished in packing and shipping these turkeys and handling the turkey pool in general.

No commission whatever is paid to any person and no commission is paid to any person for selling the turkeys or handling them except the amount retained by the Farmers' Exchange Co-operative for their work, less services and materials furnished.

Most of the turkeys being packed are number one grade, and are sold by Mr. Lewis of Savage & Company, to whom they are consigned, to be high grade birds. The pool will remain open for the reception of turkeys until 5 o'clock p. m., Saturday, November 9th.

fewer Deaths by Poison Liquor in Holiday Expected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP) Deaths from poison liquor which in recent years have occurred at the Christmas holidays, are improbable this year, Prohibition Commissioner Doran said today, because there was little diversion of denatured alcohol and bootleggers find it cheaper to manufacture their own alcohol than to convert the denatured product.

New Chicago Liquor Racket Found; Took Money for Law and Order

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 8.—(AP) The government believed today it had uncovered a new racket under the name of the South Side Business Men's Law and Order League. Among members arrested by prohibition officers yesterday were William Payne, organizer, and Mrs. Lena Wichrowski, 60-year-old widow, listed as president.

Daniel Anderson, assistant U. S. attorney, said the league's purpose apparently was threefold: It served to punish those it opposed; it rewarded "customers" and it collected money for law and order, "using the money for the overthrow of law and order."

Anderson said the government was informed that the league sold alcohol and provided a degree of protection to its customers. To saloon keepers who refused to buy alcohol from it, the league is alleged to have retaliated with raids. An office was maintained at which subscriptions were received from persons interested in prohibition law enforcement.

Payne, known as a professional reformer, called the arrest a frame up. "I've been fighting liquor and vice for 10 years," he said.

Mrs. Wichrowski was surprised at the charges and federal men were convinced she was made the president as a blind. She said she believed the league was all that its name implied, and told of having written many letters herself asking funds for the league's work.
