Former Medford Couple Observe Golden Wedding

As the twelfth was "the day," the couple was pleasantly surprised in the evening by Mrs. Robert Reame and M. E. Riddle, who presented them with a delicious single food cake, which was adorned with fifty golden candles. Mrs. Reame presented the couple with a purse of gold, an offering from their dearest friends of the city.

Relatives in Newark, New Jersey added to the offering by sending ten $-dollar gold pieces, arranged on dark red glazed paper, with the name of each donor surrounding each.

In addition, a gold-lined silver creamer and sugar bowl were presented Mrs. Waltermire. Seven golden wedding cards from friends throughout the country added to the happy merriment.

Dance Students Make Hit at Rivolt Theater.
Five attractive dance numbers were cleverly rendered by pupils of the Eve Benson Dancing academy at the Rivolt theater, Grants Pass, on Thursday evening, and most efficiently accompanied by Miss Marcia Miksche, who is studio musician.

"Pierrette," a beautiful solo, was daintily rendered by LeMaurie Beck.

Two little acrobats, Rae LeFevre and Barbara Bevan, performed with ease and grace. A snappy tap number was very well rendered by Dorothy Burgess, Helen McAllister and LeMaurie Beck.

The soft solo dance by Noel Benson was well executed.

The breakaway was presented by Helen McAllister, Dorothy Burgess and LeMaurie Beck, who were dressed in fascinating costumes, the girls cleverly weaving out the 15 steps of this snappy, up-to-date number.

Starting Thursday, November 21, the breakaway will be featured at the Craterian for three days, together with another request number.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Omsus have returned to their home in Klamath Falls after a few days' visit in Medford with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Fowler of Vancouver avenue.

Medford Garden Club Awards December 2
The cash prizes will be given out to the winners of the Garden contest at the next meeting of the Garden club, which will be held December 5, according to Mrs. Carl Swigart, president of the club.

A very interesting paper on "Blazing a Trail to Southern Oregon" was read by Mrs. J. O. Grey. The diary of Mr. Lindsay Applegate furnished the inspiration for this paper. Mrs. Grey paid a splendid tribute to the pioneers who eighty years ago came across the mountains and rivers, enduring hardships and privations, and suffering to found homes in an unexplored wilderness inhabited only by savages. The trails which they blazed, and roads which they opened, not only made settlement easier but aided their country to transport troops in time of war. The discovery of gold in southern Oregon brought increased population and resulted in the opening of a road to the Pacific ocean, over which luxuries and supplies were packed in from Crescent City, California, to the Rogue river valley.

In this day of air-plane and automobile it is difficult to realize what an important part the sturdy, dauntless pioneer, with his "Covered Wagon" played in the settlement and development of our country.

Mrs. M. J. Norris gave a splendid short talk on "National Defense," explaining the attitude which is taken by the Daughters of the American Revolution toward this important subject. Mrs. Norris concluded by reading a quotation from the Armistice day address of President Hoover.

A remarkable coincidence was the fact that the organizing regent, Mrs. Bert Anderson, and every ex-regent of the chapter since its organization November 23, 1919 were present at the meeting.

Mrs. Gordon McCracken, ex-state regent and Mrs. Emil Pell from Mt. Ashland chapter, Mrs. E. J. Woodcock, Mrs. Dalton E. Cox of Abigail Adams chapter, Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Nettie C. Howard, Independence chapter, Jefferson, Iowa, were guests of the chapter.

Mrs. Tou Velle was assisted by Mesdames Morris, Vilim, Clay, and Moore.

Chrysanthemum Circle Thimble club will meet with Neighbor Stella Anderson, Wednesday at 2 p. m., at her home, 1129 N. Pacific.

The Pythian Sisters will give a card party Thursday night, Nov. 21, at the K. P. hall.

At this meeting a very interesting program is promised. The president and members are very grateful to Mr. Judge for the lovely chrysanthemums which he provided for table decorations at the Garden club luncheon and which were afterwards taken over to the convention of the Horticultural society at the Elks Temple.

Mrs. Schuepen decorated the room in an artistic way and many thanks are due her and the committee, including Mrs. David Rosenberg, Mrs. Bert Lowry and Mrs. William Shepherd.

The prizes are:

Class 1. Best arrangement of home grounds. Large, first, Miss Mae Carlton; second, Mrs. Van Hoeben; small, first, Mrs. Lewis Ulrich; second, Mrs. Jessie Swigart.

Class 2. Greatest improvement in newly established grounds covering one year. Mrs. H. Van Hoeben.

Class 3. Perennial border. First, Miss Mae Carlton; second, Mrs. E. B. Day.

Class 4. Bed or border of mixed annuals. First, Mrs. LeLand Mentzer; second, Mrs. J. A. Goddard.

Class 5. Roses. First, Mrs. H. D. McCaskey; second, Mrs. Van Hoeben.

Class 6. Summer flowering bulbs. First, Mrs. LeLand Mentzer, gladiolus; second, Mrs. J. A. Goddard, dahlias.

Class 7. Best display of autumn flowers. Mrs. J. A. Goddard.

The prizes, which are in cash, will be given out at the next meeting of the Garden club, December 5.

State Supervisor Of Neighbors Here.
Mrs. Ida Hamblin, state supervisor of Oregon and Royal Neighbors will meet with the local chapter Thursday evening at W. O. W. hall, corner Grape and Fifth streets.

Mrs. Hamblin has many things of importance in connection with the work to bring before the members, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the neighboring camps to be present.

Oak Grove P. T. A. Has Profitable Meeting.

The Oak Grove P. T. A. met on Friday afternoon at the school house with an attendance of twenty-four.

After a business discussion, an interesting program was heard. The leaders so far have used as their subjects problems dealing with the children and their parents. Mrs. Hooker gave a discussion of an article on "What Does Your Home Offer Your Child?" Mrs. Buckles gave a discussion of an article on "Stay Young With Your Children." As also Mrs. Huson gave one on "Have You What Your Children Seek?" These are interesting studies and are beneficial to mothers.

We are very happy to see Oak Grove leading in the honor roll. A chicken supper has been planned for our next meeting night to be held on December 13. A program will be given after the supper. We are planning an appeal crowd. The exact time and details will be published later.

Mrs. O. C. Boggs will be group leader for her division of the Delphian society on Thursday. The meeting will be at her home at 9:30 a. m.

J. A. It's Meet In Jacksonsville.
The November meeting of Crater Lake Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Tou Velle in Jacksonsville on Saturday, November 16th.

The meeting opened in the regular order, followed by reports from the Marker, Armistice day, Chamber Memorial park, and other committees. Plans were announced for the annual Angel Island Christmas box, gifts for the Veterans' hospital at Portland and the annual Christmas tree and party.

The chapter was pleased to have Mrs. Volney Dixon, a member now residing in Seattle, with them for the meeting. Mrs. C. D. Cannon was welcomed to membership in Crater Lake chapter.

Mrs. C. A. Meeker and Mrs. W. M. Van Seoy played two piano duets which were much enjoyed.

Mistletoe Club Plans Fall Work
The Mistletoe club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Stanley Jones. A large crowd was present, and four new members were added to the club. It being near the holiday season, much business was considered. As the club always furnishes the program and treat for the children's Christmas party, it was decided to give a bazaar at the W. O. W. hall on December 5.

In the afternoon coffee and cake would be served, then dinner at 8 o'clock. Committees were appointed, and each member was asked to bring something for the bazaar.

Glee Clubs Are Hosts To Band And Orchestra

The Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs of Medford high school entertained the members of the band and orchestra with a hard-time party Friday evening at the school. All members had to dress in costume in order to be admitted.

Besides the interesting games planned by Miss Margaret Arnold, music instructor of the high school, three skits were put on by the glee clubs. The first was by members of the Girls' glee club, which included the love affair of a young couple. When the father of the girl finds that she has accepted the young man's proposal, the father knocks the suitor down. The doctor is summoned, and after taking the fellow's shoe off, pronounces him a victim of tuberculosis. Those taking part were Evelyn Sawyer, Flora McMath, Gertrude Boyce, Margery Hon, and Janet Wray Smith.

The number put on by the boys was in the form of a tragedy, in which the entire cast, with the exception of the villain was killed or committed suicide. Charles Champlin, Tingley Champie, Allen Rogers and Leslie Blair were included in the cast.

One of those "triangle affairs" was the basis for the third skit which was put on by the boys and girls. George Bennet took the part of the Hindu fortune teller, and Albert Gaddis the much sought-after man. Elythe Stump took the part of the wife, and Barbara Sander the part of the flapper. They were accompanied on the piano by Genevieve Eileen Brown.

Refreshments were served, after which the remainder of the evening was spent dancing the music being furnished by "Six Syncopating Sea Sailors."
