

BEARS FAVORED OVER STANFORD IN "BIG GAME"

Several Cardinal Mainstays Out of Lineup, Account Injuries — Bear Defeat Would Allow Trojans to Take Crown.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 19. —(AP)—The grand climax of the Pacific coast conference football season will unfold itself in the Stanford bowl Saturday, with the University of California Bears pitted against their ancient rivals, the Stanford Cardinals.

With the conference championship at stake, the Bears cannot afford defeat. A victory will give California the title, but a loss will bring on an anti-climax in which the Trojans of Southern California would stand an excellent chance of nailing the crown. That chance would lay mostly in defeating the Idaho Vandals at Los Angeles Saturday, and the Washington State Cougars November 30. The two victories would give the men of Troy a larger percentage.

All things considered, however, California appears to be the favored contender for the championship. Undefeated and untied in conference play, the Bears were rated the superior eleven by virtue of the better showing they have made.

VANCOUVER PUCKMEN SHOW EARLY PROMISE

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 19. —(AP)—In a game that gave promise of better things to come as the season advances in the Pacific Coast hockey league, the Vancouver Lions served notice on the other squads of the circuit that they are out to repeat their pennant winning performance of last season, when they nosed out the Victoria Cubs here last night, two goals to one.

Booth, Kelly, Yunevich, Wood Top Sophs

JOE YUNEVICH PURDUE

BARRY WOOD HARVARD

ALBIE BOOTH YALE

These boys lead the sophomore contingent at this stage of the season. They are being crowded, however, by Masters, Penn; Miller, Alabama; Savoldi, Notre Dame, and Hewitt, Columbia.

By Jay Vessels, Sports Editor (Associated Press Feature Service.) NEW YORK. — (AP) — Around the football circuits much fuss is being made about these "sensational sophomores."

You hear that Albie Booth, Yale's pee-wee quarterback, can't miss the All-America; that Joe Yunevich of Purdue, is the best half back in the Big Ten; that "Shipwreck" Kelly of Kentucky is the king of new men in the south, and that Barry Wood of Harvard is the second best quarterback in the Big Three. Booth, of course, is the best.

There are many others, probably some better than three of the four players mentioned. But the fourth—Albie Booth—stands at the top of the sophomore hurdle. He does look like a sure shot for All-America honors.

Alabama; Hewitt, Columbia, and Savoldi, Notre Dame.

Yunevich ranks with Booth as a sophomore pace-setter. Until Yunevich arrived, Purdue was just ambling along, getting nowhere in the Big Ten title scramble. Then Joe began delivering and the Boilermakers became a championship contender, flashing what probably is the best balanced backfield in the mid-west, outside of Notre Dame.

"Shipwreck" Kelly gained great attention in Dixie when in his first game he elicited off touchdowns runs in three of the first four times he carried the ball. He is strong on long distance runs.

Barry Wood began his sophomore year with Harvard as a pinch-hitter. He needed only the chance to prove that he was a high-galler quarterback.

ASHLAND HALT FOR WORKOUT KLUM'S TEAM

Island Squad Leaves San Francisco Today for Game at Portland With Oregon Webfeet — Londahl Replaces Kitzmiller.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 19. —(AP)—The University of Oregon will play its final, northwest gridiron contest of the 1929 season here Saturday against the University of Hawaii, minus its outstanding performer, Johnny Kitzmiller, the "Flying Dutchman."

Kitzmiller is in the Eugene hospital suffering from a broken ankle, received on Hayward field on the University campus last Saturday in the annual homecoming game between Oregon and Oregon State college. Physicians declared he will be able to return to the gridiron next season, but he is out for the remainder of this season. Kitzmiller had planned to turn out for basketball this winter, he having missed the team by the narrowest of margins last year. His injury will also keep him off the basketball court.

Although there is no one who can adequately fill the hole at quarterback, Kitzmiller's substitute will be Johnny Londahl, his understudy. Londahl replaced Kitzmiller last Saturday and turned in a brilliant performance.

The Hawaiian squad, scheduled to arrive at San Francisco today, was to enroute for this city immediately, stopping off en route at Ashland, Ore., for a brief workout. The Webfeet will desert their Eugene stronghold Friday, arriving here the same day.

Otto (Prock) Klum, who as coach of the Medford high school, ten years ago gave this city its first taste of football victories, will spend tomorrow afternoon with his University of Hawaii squad, in his home town, Ashland, where he was also athletic mentor. The Hawaiian squad is en route to Portland, where it will play the University of Oregon next Saturday. Klum will spend a few hours in this city visiting friends before he enroute on the Shasta limited for Portland.
