

MAIL TRIBUNE SCRIBE MEETS HEAD, HILL LINE

Finds Medford Rate Case Will Probably Be Decided Early in 1930—Wants to Meet S. P. Prest. to Show Absolute Impartiality.

HAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 19 (Special to Mail Tribune)—There was a new Southern Pacific objector on hand today in the hearing before J. C. C. chief Examiner Mahaffie.

The states which have intervened are now putting in their evidence and objections are in order and are very frequently stipulated. If some of the witnesses were allowed to run along it would be an assembly of great minds before any testimony could be taken.

My old friend, Frank Sweet of the Year Growers' association pictured some of California's pear orchards in the northwest.

I followed with two railroad boys and they reiterated that they expect the supreme court decision on the California rate case any day now.

I did not see Doc Reddy's smoke today. Bear his whistle, but I am looking forward to seeing him. I know that he will be a good, colorful and un-theatrical witness.

I have originated a contest, to wit, the best ending in 5 lines to the four stanzas below, will receive the first round trip ticket to Crescent City and return.

Holdup Foiled By Woman's Guile and 1st National Bank

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A big brute poked a pistol into Miss Susan Haan's face last night and demanded the best Gas House restaurant in that she hand over her money.

Miss Haan gave him her purse. There was only fifty cents in it.

"Not so fast, young lady," said the wise guy. "I'm an old hand at this racket. Take it away."

It was cold and raining. Miss Haan took off her shoes. The fellow shoved them in his pocket and drove away.

When Miss Haan got home she still had her bank roll. It wasn't in her shoes at all.

SANTA COMING BY AIRPLANE TO VISIT MEDFORD

Decorated Float to Bring Saint Nick From Airport to Greet Children—Business Men Plan Gay Opening December 5.

Even Santa Claus is air-minded this year and will arrive in Medford by plane the evening of December 5, being met at the new airport by a decorated float which will bring him up town to distribute toys among the crowds of children.

The insurance company appealed from the Corkins ruling. In a suit to have the creditors of Walker determined and adjudicated, and the decision today is in their favor.

The sum of approximately $15,000 is involved.

The case grew out of a fire in February, 1927, that destroyed a building on South Grays street, in which Walker as an auto dealer stored second-hand vehicles.

The insurance company is represented by Attorney George M. Roberts, and Walker by Attorney Gus Newbury. Both said today that they could not measure the extent of today's decision until they had read the full opinion.

PLATINUM IS FOUND ON COLEMAN CREEK

That a platinum strike has been made in the Coleman creek district and $28 worth of the metal taken out of one small vein by two miners in that locality during the past few days, was a report brought to Medford yesterday by John Moore of the Coleman creek district.

The name of the two men could not be learned, but according to Mr. Moore they recently leased 39 acres along Coleman Creek and started mining.

Entertainment for the older generation will include a band concert and dance. Complete details will be announced in the near future.

Medford will be dressed up for the holidays in a different fashion this year. Bob Strang, chairman of the decoration committee, outlined his plan for eliminating the customary trees on street corners.

Twenty-one blocks of the city will be cleverly decorated and lighted. As to window displays and decoration of store fronts by individual merchants, the committee decided to leave the matter up to individual exhibitors on the decorations committee are Jack Woods and H. E. Hoffman.

Rev. Bennett Heard, Rev. Alexander G. Bennett, now pastor of the First Methodist church, gave an enthusiastic boost or talk in which he explained how Medford looks to him. He complimented the optimistic attitude of the merchants and the enthusiasm of the exhibitors in the "Parade of Peace."

President Clarence Meeker announced that there will be a business institute meeting at the Litchia hotel in Ashland Monday evening, November 25, at 6:30. Two O. S. C. professors will be the speakers at the dinner and will urge local merchants to attend.

ARREST ONE IN MOONSHINE RAID

Following a raid at a dwelling at 425 North Central avenue last evening, Rufus Roberts, 23, was arrested on a charge of moonshine possession and is scheduled to have a hearing in the Ashland justice court tomorrow afternoon.

The raid party was made up of Federal Prohibition Agent Terry Tallent, Chief of Police McCreedy, Traffic Chief Treadwell and Deputy Sheriff Chuck Dandford.

Officers allege that attempts were made to destroy the supply of moonshine by dumping it in the Klamath river, but a sufficient amount was saved for evidence. Roberts was arrested by officers several months ago on a similar charge and had been under surveillance ever since.

Approach of Christmas Reflected in Display Windows Medford Stores

Christmas has become a suggestion—in fact, one big suggestion—after another—with a world of graduated incentives sandwiched in between. It is extolled in song and story apropos of the season. It comes on like a bomb from the receiving set at home, and mother unconsciously begins a series of adjustments. Either mentally repairs to the counting house.

Shop windows, up and down the main business streets make it easy for hubby to decide upon what he is going to buy his better or for worse. Wife gets plenty of ideas on that "something different" to have them lay aside for a few months the necklace on his wife's wrist, he is started to re-plan from commenting. Most likely he has already sensed the flavor of the popular spice in bread pudding, at dinner.

Among the unusual smaller feminine novelties and in local shops yesterday were choker strands of nutting beads. In natural color and all the spicy scent retained, this late flair has come direct from Paris to Medford's Fifth avenue. The advantage of such a gift is twofold, and when hubby, after the course of a few months misses the necklace on his wife's wrist, he is started to re-plan from commenting. Most likely he has already sensed the flavor of the popular spice in bread pudding, at dinner.

Another chapter in the long drawn out legal battles of the Fireman's Fund Insurance company against A. W. Walker, was written today, when the state supreme court, in an opinion handed down by Justice H. H. Bell, reversed a decision by Judge O. M. Corkins of Lake county, and remanded the case.

HIGH COURT ADDS ANOTHER CHAPTER IN WALKER CASE

The insurance company appealed from the Corkins ruling. In a suit to have the creditors of Walker determined and adjudicated, and the decision today is in their favor.

The sum of approximately $15,000 is involved.

JACKSON RATIO IN ASSESSMENT IS UNCHANGED

Oregon Assessors Fix Lower Ratio in 24 Counties—Twelve Counties Same As Last Year—Big Reduction in Klamath.

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 18.—(AP) The assessed valuation of property in most Oregon counties as compared with actual valuation has been fixed by the assessors at a lower figure this year than last year. This is shown by the tax ratios compiled by the state tax commission and made public yesterday. The assessed valuations of this year are those on which the tax collections of 1929 will be made.

In no county has the ratio been increased, but it has been decreased in 24 counties, while for 12 counties it is the same as last year. Klamath county got the biggest reduction, property in that county is being assessed this year at 62 per cent of actual valuation against 69 per cent last year, a difference of seven points. Gilliam county's ratio is 81 this year against 87 last year.

Baker county's new ratio is 49. It was 70 in 1928. Douglas is 62 against 62 last year. Jackson's is unchanged at 66. Josephine's is 63 against 67 a year ago. Lane's is 54, last year it was 53. Marion's is 54 against 57 a year ago. Multnomah is unchanged at 54. Umatilla is 49 against 50 in 1928. Union county's new ratio is 48, while last year it was 53.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Nov. 18.—(AP)—To confer with city officers in regard to the removal of the large sawdust pile near the heart of the city, which furnishes fuel for the heating plant, Senator George W. Joseph of Portland was here yesterday.

The name of the two men could not be learned, but according to Mr. Moore they recently leased 39 acres along Coleman Creek and started mining.

Entertainment for the older generation will include a band concert and dance. Complete details will be announced in the near future.

ROBT. MAYNARD BOYISH PREXY AT CHICAGO "U"

Fifth President of School But 30 Years Old—Installation Is Made Brilliant By Attendance of Many Noted Educators.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Robert Maynard Hutchins became today, at the age of 30, the fifth president of the University of Chicago.

Inauguration of the fall, almost boyish young man was made brilliant by the attendance of representatives from 200 colleges and universities not only in the United States, but in Canada and Europe as well. One hundred and twenty-five of them were presidents of the schools they represented.

Some came from the largest and proudest schools of higher learning in the world, but none among them was so proud as William J. Hutchins, president of Berea college, Ky., for it was his son who was being honored.

Yale university gave to the University of Chicago its first president 25 years ago, when William Rainey Harper was inaugurated, and it is from Yale that Mr. Hutchins has come to the quadrangles on the midway.

Today, too, Yale sent its president, James Rowland Angell, to bring greetings to its former law school dean.

More than 2000 guests, including former Governor Frank O. Lowden, attended the induction.

HARD STRUGGLE WITH KLAMATH IS PROSPECT

The Medford high school football team, battered and bruised and pursued by a full grown jinx, will journey to Klamath Falls next Saturday, to meet the high school of that city on their home grounds. It will be one of the toughest battles of the season for the locals, as Klamath has a veteran and a heavy line, and recently held Bend high school to a 19 to 6 score. Bend is rated a champion ship contender.

Couch Hagan will take along two strings, and his charges are preparing for a grueling struggle. A number of football fans will make the trip.

The Eugene high school, touted as state champions, played a tie game with the Corvallis high school yesterday afternoon. The score was 7 to 7 and Eugene lost considerable prestige as a championship contender thereby. The game was exceptionally rough throughout. Corvallis defeated Medford, 14 to 0, and Eugene beat the locals, 28 to 7.

Condition of Mrs. Peter Dietrich, who sustained a wound in the right arm yesterday as the result of a stray bullet, was reported improved today. The bullet did not go through the arm. Mrs. Dietrich said today, but lodged in such way that it had to be cut out by a surgeon. She did not know she had been shot until she reached home, thinking that the pain she felt was from a flying rock.
