

CHRISTMAS SEALS AID NURSES' FIGHT FOR PUBLIC WEAL

(Contributed)
"On duty from 6 a. m. to midnight."
These words found in a public health nurse's report, tell a story of devotion that is understood in every tongue.
"On duty from 6 a. m. to midnight" is indicative of a spirit that wins in any venture. To some it may come as a surprise that in ordinary times occasions should arise that would call for such service. But it is declared by those who are familiar with the work of county public health nurses that such a statement could be written many, many times into the records of each of the 60 odd nurses now guarding the health of 29 counties in this state.
In Jackson county the public health association works hand in hand with the school or county nurse, helping her with clinics, sometimes escorting her over the county, and paying part of her salary and quite frequently her traveling expenses and for supplies. Where this is done, the money comes in every instance from the annual sale of Christmas seals, handled by the county public health association which makes its reports to, and receives its authority from, the Oregon Tuberculosis association.
All but five cents out of every dollar raised from the sale of these seals is spent in Oregon, only five cents going outside the state to the national association. Books are kept by the county, state and national association, and audited by public accountants.
It is expected that practically every county in the state will sell more seals this year than it did in the past, as this has been a year of heavy work, good results, and unusual activity in health services rendered throughout the state. The offices of the Oregon Tuberculosis association are in Portland in the Fitzpatrick building and inquiries about the work of the association, the annual Christmas seal sale and other matters are welcomed. Mrs. R. E. Greene, chairman of the Jackson county Christmas tuberculosis seal sale, states:

NILE DAUGHTERS TO FORWARD GIFT BOXES

(Contributed)
The work of packing the Thanksgiving boxes for the crippled children of the Shriners' hospital at Portland is going forward under the direction of Mrs. Gus Newbury, committee chairman, at the home of Mrs. O. O. Alenderfer on South Oakdale.
The actual packing of the boxes will be done Thursday morning, November 21, and all members of the temple are requested to have their contributions at Mrs. Alenderfer's home by that time. All members have been solicited and if they have promised to contribute to this worthy cause they are under obligations to have their gifts ready to be forwarded when the boxes are packed.
Gift boxes are also being prepared for shipment at Ashland and Grants Pass.

JUNIOR GRIDMEN IN HARD TILT SATURDAY

The Medford Junior high school football team will play its most important game of the season next Saturday afternoon with the Myrtle Creek high school at the Van Scoyde field here. The local team won its games played so far with Ashland, Roseburg, and Glendale, and in meeting the Myrtle Creek team is playing one of the hardest aggregations of the season.
The Medford players have been given special drill by Coach Ray Henderson, and are reported to be in good condition.

BUILD TWO HOMES IN JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Nov. 20. (Special)—Dr. C. E. Jenkins and son Morace Jenkins recently purchased a tract of land on North Oregon street which was owned a number of years back by the Iowa Box company. They have started this week to build there each a home on the property.

DRIVE IS SUCCESSFUL IN JACKSONVILLE AREA

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Nov. 20. (Special)—Mrs. H. N. Hanna and Mrs. E. S. Severance, committee from Jacksonville, on the community chest drive last week succeeded in making their required quota in money and pledges.

TREE LIMB INJURES JACKSONVILLE MAN

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Nov. 20. (Special)—Donald Dorothy had his head cut quite badly Monday when a limb from a tree struck him, cutting quite a bad gash. He was working for the city near the reservoir.

SPEEDING AUTOS PERIL CHILDREN ON MAIN STREET

To curb the speed at which cars pass the Washington school building and to safeguard the lives and limbs of the pupils of that school, the city council last night decided to take the matter up with the school board of having a special officer at school opening and closing times escort the pupils across the street at the Main and Oakdale streets corner and hold all cars back until each pupil is safely across.
After much discussion it was finally agreed that the most feasible plan, providing the school board approved, would be to have the janitor of the school building act as officer with police power, and the streets and roads committee was appointed to take the matter up with the school board at the earliest convenience.
It was brought out during the discussion that many motorists pay little attention to the state speed limit in passing Washington school. The matter was brought before the council by Chas. A. Wing of that body, whose daughter was injured recently on crossing the Sixth and Oakdale corner while on her way to the Washington school.
If the city officials cannot make the crossing of streets at the Main and Oakdale corners safer through the janitor-officer plan, they will go about the matter in some other way, as they are determined that those street crossings be made safe for the pupils.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE IN MEDFORD FRIDAY

Plans for the older boys' conference of the Y. M. C. A.—to include boys from all southern Oregon, and to be held in Medford, December 6, 7 and 8—are fast materializing, according to the secretary, Matt Thompson, of Ashland.
The conference will start Friday afternoon and continue Saturday and Sunday.
"Hattieship" Bennett, the new Methodist minister; Mr. Crumley of Ashland, a Y worker, and some southern Oregon normal school faculty members will lead the discussion groups.

GIDEON INSPIRATION EVANGELIST SERMON

Dr. G. G. Laughton, evangelist in the revival meetings at the Baptist church, last night in a most forceful sermon presented Gideon and his band as inspiration to faith, fulness and dependability. Those qualities he stressed as the greatest need of present-day Christians.
Thursday was announced as a day of prayer with continuous services from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. All are invited to drop in at any time.
Dr. Laughton also announced his "million dollar chorus" will sing Friday night.

BURLESON'S CELEBRATE BUSINESS ANNIVERSARY

Celebrating the first anniversary of business in Medford, Burleson's Ready-to-Wear store for ladies will open a big storewide anniversary sale tomorrow. The sale includes bargains in every department of the store and is expected to attract the general attention of southern Oregon shoppers. A full page advertisement in today's Mail Tribune gives an idea of the extent of this selling event.

SAMS VALLEY GROWER MARKETS FAT TURKEYS

Adolf Schultz, resident of Sams Valley, was seen today urging his car to its utmost speed toward Medford. The springs were taxed to the limit. Thinking it a liquor car trying to escape, a traffic officer stopped him to investigate. Then with much pride Mr. Schultz displayed 50 plump turkeys, dressed and ready for the market.

NO PATIENCE WITH CHILDREN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Steadied Her Nerves

Dalton, Pa.—"I was weak, nervous and run-down before my last baby was born. My other children tired me. I had no patience with them and they just wore me out. My mother told me about someone who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped her. I took it myself and got fine results. I am getting along fine now, thanks to your Vegetable Compound. My husband and I both feel sure that it helped me."—Mrs. RAYMOND STACK, R. F. D. 2, Dalton, Pa.
