

AG CLASSES WILL BE OPENED DEC. 9

According to C. D. Thompson, Smith-Hughes instructor at Medford high school, the three-days-a-week agricultural school for young men between the ages of 17 and 24 years, will start December 9 in the agricultural building at school at 1:30 p. m. The course will be continued for three or four months. "All that is required for an applicant is that he have the ambition to learn, and the willingness to work," stated Mr. Thompson. There is no restriction because of residence. All interested in this course are requested to see Mr. Thompson before the school opens. The class will not be conducted along regular lines, but will consist of supervised study and individual instruction. This allows for specialization, and the adjusting of the work to meet the needs and desires of each individual. Soils and crops, and particularly those in the Rogue River valley will be studied. The day school is part of the vocational work being offered under the joint auspices of the federal government through the Smith-Hughes act, and the Medford school board.

Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has today announced that it has selected the Farmers National Grain corporation, the $20,000,000 marketing agency set up under direction of the federal farm board. TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (AP) — Twenty-nine Florida counties have adopted county flowers. The zinnia and the rose are the most popular.
