THEATER BUILDING SIXTH AND HOLLY IN CONSIDERATION

Plans for the construction of a theater building at Sixth and Holly streets, to cost approximately $35,000, are under consideration by L. Neidermyer and others.

It was stated today by interested parties that "the plans were in a highly formative state, and it will be a week or ten days before anything definite is known."

Earl Tsch still refuses to tell anything about the property. Plans and specifications for the structure are now being drawn, and will be completed within the week.

An unconfirmed report said the theater would be leased, if built, and devoted to the showing of films produced by the Warner Brothers Vitaphone.

L. Neidermyer, principal sponsor of the project and owner of the corner lot upon which the structure will be erected, will return from Portland today, where he went on business in connection with the project. Neidermyer plans to construct a building of architectural beauty, using the same brand of brick as used in the new Catholic church on Galkade avenue.

A small force of men with teams and graders have been at work grading and leveling the site for several days, and this morning a steam shovel was also placed on the work.

The site is located east of the Federal building and is one of the choice locations on Sixth street. It has been linked before with the theater building plans.

The "Pioneer picture" display in the window of the Capes general office building on West Main street, is attracting much attention. Some interesting photos of Medford in 1874 show what a substantial growth the city has made in the last 57 years.

Of still greater interest are some pictures taken in 1874 in which several well known local citizens are prominent. Those were the "horse and buggy" days and lively stable and saloon signs were popular in the business district.

Photos of the "Medford Mail" newspaper office and its proprietor, A. S. Hilton, and staff of employees are included in the collection. Mr. Hilton is a veteran employee of the California Oregon Power company, having renounced the newspaper business many years ago and is now connected with the credit department of the Rogue River division.

In connection with the photo exhibit is shown a pioneer electric stove, the forerunner of the present Westinghouse range. This old-time cooking device presents a striking contrast to the modern and efficient electric range of the present day.

CRATER LAKE STORY ON NATIONAL HOOKUP

Earl U. Yatomuth, acting park naturalist of Crater Lake National park, will arrive at Berkeley, Cal., Monday to attend the conference of park naturalists to be held at Hilgard hall, University of California, November 25 to 30.

Those who have spent the evening at the lodge or community house at Crater lake during the summer season will remember Mr. Yatomuth, who with his staff of ranger naturalists conducted field classes in the natural sciences and delivered lectures on the history, geology and botany of Crater lake.

The fascinating story of the discovery of this unbelievably blue lake, which lies in a vast pit where once stood the summit of one of the highest volcanic mountains on the Pacific coast, will be the subject of a 15-minute radio broadcast on Wednesday, November 27th, from 2:45 to 3:00 p. m., over the National Broadcasting company network, through KGO.

While the nests and sinisters were praying for mates, the rest of the populace enjoyed its annual feast of roast pork and moon cakes. It required more than 10,000 hogs to satisfy the appetites of Shanghai Chinese alone this year.

CHINESE MAIDS PRAY MOON FOR HUSBANDS

SHANGHAI.—(AP)—Nationalist government decrees notwithstanding, Chinese maids of the middle and working classes persisted this year in their annual entreaties to the moon for husbands. The prayers were offered at midnight on the fifteenth day of the eighth moon in accordance with a custom of immemorial age.

It was a part of the mid-autumn festival, annual which nationalist reformers have railed in vain. The more enlightened Chinese have given up this and similar superstitions, but they constitute a decided minority.

NEW ORCHESTRA FOR JACKSONVILLE DANCE

The Imperial orchestra will furnish the music tonight for the Jacksonville American Legion ball dance at Jacksonville this evening, the second of a series to be presented this fall and winter, following the first last Saturday night. The dance will be given in the old United States hall, which has been enlarged for tonight's party by the removal of a stage. The usual delegation of Medford dancers will probably attend.

CECILE COSS TO PLAY IN UNIVERSITY OPERA

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—(Special)—The presentation of the second act of Richard Wagner's opera, "Faust," by Madame Rose McGrew's opera class is one of the coming events at the music building.

Cecile Coss, senior of music from Medford, will play the part of Marguerite. Miss Coss is one of the students on the campus who is active in all musical events. Miss Coss is a member of the Alpha Xi Delta, social fraternity.

JUDGE NORTON UPHELD IN CATTLE THIEF CASE

Considerable interest is manifested in Josephine equally over the trial of the late Harry I. Bayne, court at Salem, of the conviction, in Grants Pass of Harold Christie, as a cattle thief—the first here in many years. Christie was sentenced by Judge H. D. Norton, on February 27, 1929, for stealing a truckload of cattle at Deer Creek and selling them in Grants Pass, to serve two years in the penitentiary.

His appeal was the first ever made against a decision of Judge Norton, and in dismissing Christie's appeal, the presiding judge of the supreme court declared the case was entirely free from judicial error.

Christie now must serve his sentence—Grants Pass Courier.

EGGS DECLINE ON WHOLESALE MART

Portland, Ore., Nov. 22.—(AP)—Eggs will be cheaper for Thanksgiving pies, cakes and puddings if the reductions made today hold good or are followed by other reductions.

The Pacific Poultry Producers announced a decline of two cents on fresh eggs and standards and one cent on fresh mediums. This brings the price to wholesalers to 27c for extras, 25c for standards and 23c for mediums.

Butter prices were unchanged. There is a surplus of fresh meats of all kinds on the market, and jobbers and wholesalers are advising country producers not to make any more shipments until after Thanksgiving.
