Meeting Women's Bible Class of Presbyterian Church

The Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance. The ident, Mrs. Remington, and Mrs. Siedel. All reports of standing committees showed the interest of the class members in many of the church activities.

The calling committee reported sixty-five calls made during the month. There are now two weekly prayer circles formed.

The Sunday attendance is increasing with an attendance of some sixty every Sunday. Much of the success of the class is due to the able leadership of the president, Mrs. Remington, and Mrs. E. N. Warner, the teacher. Rev. Porter briefly outlined the program of the church for the coming months, urging the members to take up more definite work in the church.

Mrs. Garrett was program chairman for the afternoon. She presented Mrs. Porter who led the class in a most appropriate and impressive praise service for the devotional hour. Mrs. Porter read the first Thanksgiving proclamation given in 1789 by President George Washington. Mrs. Porter also read many passages of scriptures portraying the various methods of praise and thanksgiving. She also read excerpts from Wm. Jennings Boykin's address on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. McCullom read by request a missionary poem, "Is It Nothing to You" and Mrs. Clement closed the program with a most interesting paper on the authors of some of our grand old hymns, and the conditions which caused many of them to have been written. The great hymns, such as "Rock of Ages," and "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," have come down through the centuries and are still ever new. Hymns were chanted from the very beginning of our church history. During the reformation the music was completely changed and congregational singing was introduced into the churches.

Miss Anna Detweiler was hostess for the afternoon and Mesdames Fred Payne, G. D. Hodgkins, Frank Albert, McMar R. DeWitt, H. L. Barton, assisted in serving coffee, tea and sandwiches. Mesdames Burr and Hanby poured.

Three members having birthdays in November were the honored guests.

There will be no social meeting of the class in December. All members having birthdays in December will be honored guests with the January members. Regular meeting Tuesday, January 23.

Home Coming of Ladies Aid First M. E. Church

The Ladies Aid society of the First M. E. church met in regular home-coming Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. Vice-president Mrs. M. N. Hogan presiding.

Song, "There's Sunshine in My Soul;" Mrs. A. G. Bennett leading the devotions. Song, "Revive Us Again;" Mrs. Bennett offering prayer. Mrs. W. F. Campbell in behalf of East Side Circle. Presented Mrs. A. E. Lyman, who read, "The Origin of Thanksgiving." Mrs. T. G. Helme in a reading, "The Thanksgiving Turkey."

During the social hour, the East Side circle served mince pie, cheese and coffee.

Woman's Missionary Society First Christian Church

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church, will be held Tuesday, p. m., December 3, in the recreation hall of the church with Mrs. Clarence Boyd's group in charge of the program.

The meeting will be preceded by a 12:30 luncheon given by the ladies of the 1928 reading contest. All those on the winning side will be guests of the losers. Mrs. J. C. Latham being chairman. A large attendance is expected by those in charge.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will meet with Mrs. R. A. Koppes, 23 Rose avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. C. C. Van Sooyon will lead the study. Topic, "The Winning of Europe." Mrs. O. V. Myers will give the book review. Visitors welcome.

The Shearers, Janet and Annie, will give a social concert in the Presbyterian church tonight at 7:30. They greatly pleased the audience at their concert on Friday night.

Christmas Bazaar Presbyterian Women's Association

The Women's association of the Presbyterian church is planning a unique bazaar to be held in the church Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7. The four seasons are to be carried out in attractive booths. The Merritt circle will have charge of the bright, cheery spring-time booth. The Sunny Sisters promise something very unusual in their summer booth. Here you will find a real Christmas tree with gifts for the children. Ever-ready circle and the East Side circle will have an attractive, appetizing booth representing the autumn and the Grace circle will greet you with a cheery winter booth. The association will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 3 at 2:30 p. m.

Latin American People Topic South M. E. Missionary Society

The Missionary society of the South Methodist church held its annual meeting November 19th, at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hines on West Eleventh street. Mrs. Clara Tilley was leader and the lesson was on the home life of the Latin American people.

Mrs. Robt. Taylor presented a lesson on the missionary home work. The hostess served refreshments. The business meeting will be held December 3rd.

Baptist Missionary Society Gives Japanese Program

Mrs. M. E. Frutkin, in her blue Japanese kimono, made a very pleasing hostess for the missionary meeting of the ladies of the First Baptist church at 19 Mistletoe, on Tuesday, November 26.

The devotional part of the service was led by the evangelist, Dr. G. G. Laughlin. From the first chapter of Colossians he showed how it was a good outline for a sermon; and any one of the women could take that chapter and fill the pulpit if the pastor had to be absent some Sunday.

The pastor made the closing prayer. The president then called attention to the Japanese curios. A copy of the largest Japanese paper published in the United States and four Japanese readers were loaned

Weddings

Banning-Russell

Miss Lucy K. Russell and Mr. Charles F. Banning were married yesterday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Pasko. Mrs. Pasko is the bride's sister.

Miss Russell has been teaching at a kindergarten school in Oenka, Japan, and Mr. Banning will take up his duties as pastor of the Richmond Hills Baptist church in Long Island, N. Y., on December 14.

Mrs. Pasko sang "The Hallelujah" by Woodman, before the ceremony and played the wedding march as the bride, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Russell, came down the stairs. The ceremony was performed under an arbor of English ivy, chrysanthemums and roses.

The bride wore a brown transparent velvet dress, brown suede shoes and hose and carried a bouquet of big yellow chrysanthemums.

After the wedding and Thanksgiving dinner the couple left for a short trip to Crescent City. The immediate family and a few close friends were present.

Miss Josephine Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Price, became the bride of Joe Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Price, at a charming ceremony Friday evening in Westminster Presbyterian church, where Rev. Perry C. Hooper read the service. Mr. Price gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was lovely in her gown of egg-shell satin made princess style, the long, full skirt lined pink. She wore a long tulle veil and carried a prayer book. The bride is well known in Medford, and has many friends who became acquainted with her at Crater lake.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stuart of Medford. Following the service, the couple and their attendants went to the Stuart home on Stewart avenue where a delightful dinner was served. The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Price, and her sister, Mrs. R. W. Price.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Claude B. Porter in the Presbyterian parsonage.
