GATORS WIN 20-6 OVER WEBFOOTS

University of Florida Out-plays Webfoots in Inter-sectional Game — Hot Weather Weakens Coast Players—Browne Scores Lone Marker in Fourth Period of Play.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The University of Florida defeated a sweltering University of Oregon aggregation, 20 to 6, in the outstanding inter-sectional game of the week today.

The Gators had the game their own way for the first three periods but gave way in the fourth before a desperate attack that netted the Webfoots their one touchdown.

On the first play after Florida kicked off to Oregon, Londall kicked off Florida tacklers for a 62-yard gain into Florida territory to put the ball on the 30-yard line. Oregon fumbled, Oregon recovering.

Neither team gained in two kick-exchanges, although Cawthon had to combat a brisk wind.

Oregon's attempts to pierce the Florida line were unsuccessful during the first quarter and the Webfoots tried three long passes that were incomplete.

Florida made four first downs during the period, while Oregon made but one.

In the fourth period Sams kicked from behind his goal line to the Florida 35 yard line.

A moment later Walt Browne, Oregon end, got a long pass from the 49-yard line by Shearer and made a touchdown. Oregon failed to make the extra point.

Score: Florida 20; Oregon 6. The game ended with the ball on Florida's 23-yard line.

Passes Polished Penny for Dime to Buy a Drink

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Clarence Vaughn of Wichita, Kas., was indicted by a federal grand jury here on a charge of polishing a penny and passing it for a dime. The formal charge is counterfeiting and a penitentiary sentence is possible under the indictment.

It is alleged that Vaughn gave the penny in exchange for a glass of lemonade at a carnival in Wichita.

CLINIC FOR TRADE ILLS IS PLANNED

Diagnosis and Correction of Business Depression Will Be Function—Committee Composed of Prominent Executives—Men Selected After Conference With Hoover.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A permanent national business clinic to diagnose and correct the ills of American trade when symptoms of depression become apparent, is to be established within the next few days as the first direct result of President Hoover's widely-attended general business conference.

It is to take the form of a committee composed of prominent business executives whose duty it will be to maintain a close and continuing watch over the trends of business in all its phases, quickly recognize signs of retardation in any particular branch, giving warning and recommending remedies.

The names of more than 60 business and industrial leaders selected at the business conference to confer with Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of directors of the United States chamber of commerce, on the selection of the permanent committee were named today.

The men were selected from the many who attended yesterday's meeting and heard President Hoover single out the "good old word—work" as the key to business progress.

Most of those selected remained in Washington or left return after quick trips to their offices, and under Barnes' direction the organization of the permanent council, the membership of which is not limited, will proceed.

The project is to be advanced through a series of informal group conferences which will go over the field of available personnel and consider the question of organization.

The permanent committee is intended to be an important factor in President Hoover's plans for America's economic future. Its establishment was suggested and approved at the chief executive's conference nearly two weeks ago with a group of outstanding industrialists and manufacturers.

The chief executive was much pleased by the encouraging reports of prospective business which yesterday's session brought to light.

PASSENGER LINERS CRASH IN HARBOR

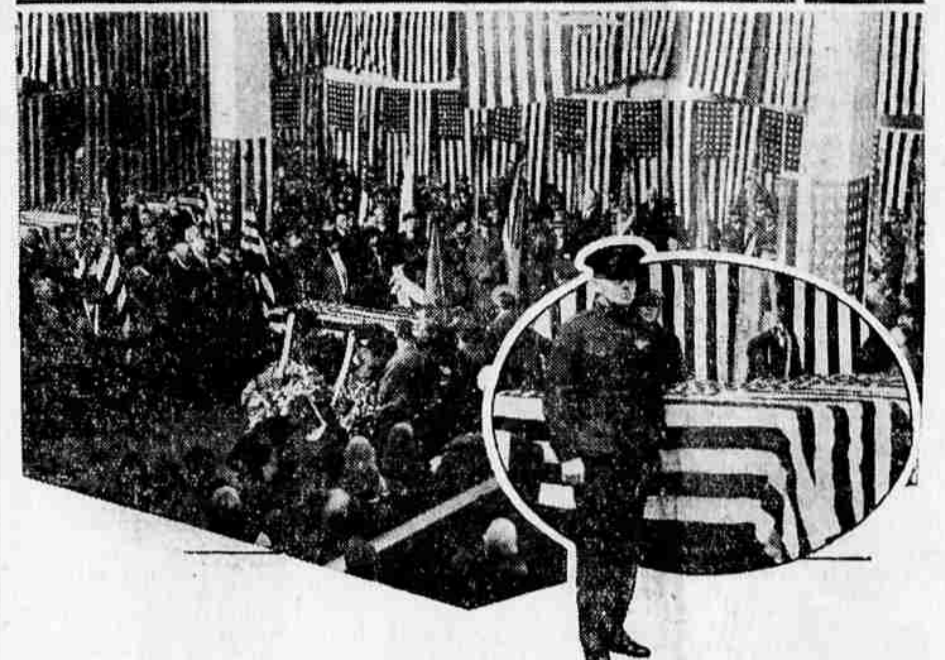

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Two passenger liners, the Southern Pacific liner Creole and the Anchor Line Transylvania, were in collision in the fog-bound harbor off Battery Park today.

Neither ship was badly damaged, according to first reports, both returning safely to their piers. The New Orleans bound Creole, however, was said to have a large dent in her bow.

The harbor had been blanketed in heavy fog for almost 48 hours, but today's collision was the first major accident. The lumber hulk Pacific Cedar, inbound for a Jersey City pier, ran aground on the mud flats off Governor's island yesterday, but was refloated without damage.

Find Bodies. CHIRO, Cal., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The bodies of two men slain during the night were found beside the Pacheco Pass road today, on the outskirts of Gilroy. Near their badly beaten bodies were found a razor, knife, piece of iron pipe and a wooden club.

WHEN THE BODIES OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS CAME HOME

A solemn but colorful ceremony was conducted at the Hoboken pier when the bodies of 75 American soldiers, who died in the Russian province of Archangel during the world war, came back to their homeland. At right is shown one of the 24 unidentified bodies which was selected and set apart to receive the tribute accorded them all.

BOYS TOLD NEED SENATE GROUP NATIONALISTS OF TRAINING FOR FAVORS SLASH THREATENED IN SUCCESS IN LIFE INCOME TAXES CHINA REVOLT

Y. M. C. A. Leader Charles Crumley, Gives Keynote Address at Older Boys' Conclave—Reames Is Elected President.

A prominent scientist made the statement before a high school audience recently that one-half of the persons present will have flown the Atlantic and Pacific oceans within the next 25 years. This was the significant statement used by Chas. Crumley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., as the keynote of a speech delivered before the opening session of the Older Boys' conference, in which he used a well-chosen array of interesting anecdotes taken from recent aviation history, to illustrate his subject, "Choosing Our Course."

"I would rather have 10 years of life in the present decade than 50 years of life in any age in the past, but none of the boys present can hope to succeed unless well equipped and properly trained. Just as the numerous casualties in early aviation history were due to inadequate equipment and improper training, so most of the failures in life's struggle will be due to the same causes," were other statements of interest made by Mr. Crumley.

The conference, opening with a banquet served in the domestic science rooms of Medford high school, by the girls of the cooking classes and the ladies of the Medford churches, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Gates.

Approximately 75 delegates were present from Randol, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Ashland and over 25 from Medford.

The conference was called to order by Ron Green, elected secretary of the conference last year, due to the absence of the president and vice-president.

Invocation was given by Rev. Eaton of the Medford Baptist church.

Ed Reames, president of the A. S. H. of Medford high school, was elected president of the conference for this year, and introduced the Rev. A. G. Bennett of the Medford Methodist church, who served as toastmaster.

The address of welcome for the Medford business men was delivered by J. C. Mann, and that for the students of Medford high school by William Daugherty. The welcoming speeches were responded to by Ben Wilson, leader of the Klamath Falls delegation.

The speeches were interspersed with musical numbers, including a solo by Merland Tolleson, one by Mrs. Paley and selections by the Medford high school band. Group singing was led by J. Matt Thompson of the Ashland Y. M. C. A. The program was climaxed by the delivery of the address of the evening by Mr. Crumley.

The session this morning was held in the organization and meetings of discussion groups, under the leadership of Professors Redford and Caldwell of the Southern Oregon Normal school, Rev. Taylor and Jens Smith of Randol.

The recreation period this afternoon included a tour of the city for the out-of-town delegates and an exhibition basketball game between two teams chosen from the delegates.

The conference will be completed with an informal fellowship banquet this evening at 8 o'clock, and devotional services tomorrow morning.

Except for last Sunday's holiday, the thoroughbred horses have competed nightly before capacity crowds for preliminary prizes, which so far have aggregated

BOOST BOSCH IN CHICAGO SAYS GWIN

Great Fruit Shipping Firm Sees Value of Trade Promotion As Carried Out in Detroit By Winter Pear Committee—Same Effort in Atlantic Cities Needed Is View.

Development of Chicago, as a market for Medford Doses, on the same lines and the same methods as employed so successfully this season in Detroit, is urged by Gwin, White & Prince, Inc., of Seattle, Wash., and J. M. Gwin & Company, Inc., of Chicago.

It is also urged that the Winter Pear committee broaden its activities to include great cities of the Atlantic seaboard, where the Bosch and other winter varieties do not do so well as in the north and west.

W. F. Gwin of Gwin, White & Prince, Inc., a recognized and established leader of the fruit shipping industry, has followed the Detroit campaign from its inception and has been deeply impressed by its results. He has pronounced the trade promotion work of the local committee as "outstanding, and worthy of deep study by all fruit sections."

Gwin also makes the suggestion that the D'Anjou pear growers of the three Pacific coast states unite in trade promotion campaigns.

The following letters are self-explanatory on the attitude of two large concerns, on the work of the Winter Pear committee and its future activities:

December 2, 1929. Pinnacle Packing Co., Inc. Medford, Ore.

Gentlemen: On Saturday I put in my desk a memorandum to you a letter today and suggest that next season instead of the Winter Pear committee looking around for entirely virgin territory in which to conduct their trade promotion work, that it might be a very good thing indeed for them to devote their attention to Chicago.

We are entirely convinced that Bosch pears have never been properly introduced in Chicago and that the Winter Pear committee ought to give that city a complete campaign of education and proper introduction before going into new territory.

This morning we got a letter from our Chicago agents conveying precisely the same idea and are sending you a copy of the letter attached to this one.

We think that Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, in each of which there is some sale for Bosch, should also be attended to by the Winter Pear committee before taking on any new markets.

The desirable thing, of course, would be for the Winter Pear committee to have sufficient funds to enable them to devote a dozen cities next year instead of one.

The grovers of Anjou pears in Washington might well join up with Anjou pear growers in Oregon and California, put on a sales promotion campaign in eastern markets, for, after all, what is fundamentally lacking is demand for winter pears of any variety. We think the business has very great possibilities.

Yours very truly, (Signed) W. F. GWIN, President.

Noti Flash in Pan. Chicago, Ill., November 29th, 1929. Messrs. Gwin, White & Prince, Inc., Seattle, Wash.

Gentlemen: We have followed with considerable interest the results of the Medford Dose program in Detroit, and if the present high market is not "a flash in the pan," to be broken by oversupply of this variety after December 2, when the Medford pear committee program ends, it certainly demonstrates the necessity of putting on a campaign for Doses not only in new markets but in the old established markets as well.

Chicago, with a population of over 2,000,000, certainly should be and take more Doses than to better advantage. If the trade is able to sell Doses at a profit and move them freely without any particular exertion or sales ability, then we have an active market. They will not, however, do any missionary work on any commodity unless vitally interested from a financial standpoint. We therefore believe, and suggest, that a campaign next season be put on by the Medford pear growers in Chicago to stimulate interest in Dose pears among the retail trade.

Yours very truly, J. M. GWIN COMPANY, INC. (Signed) John M. Rogers.

Qu... of Moon Too Big a Load, Black Man Dies

ELDORADO, Kansas, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Tom Fason, negro, bet his week's wages he could drink a quart of "moonshine" without stopping, walk 100 yards without staggering and return.

Fellow employes in a filling station accepted his challenge.

Tom drank the liquor and walked as he had wagered. He died a short time later.

SHOP GIRL A BRIDE OF DARK RAJA

Aga Khan, Descendant of Prophet and Religious Head of Indian Millions, Marries Paris Candy Shop Owner—Gave Her Ring Worth Half Million Before Marriage.

AUX LES BAINS, France, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Aga Khan, powerful Indian ruler, descendant of the Prophet and supreme religious head of millions of Islam Moslems, was married today to Andre Josephine Caron, young French business woman, at a simple ceremony here.

Aga Khan performed the civil ceremony and two Moslem Imams from Morocco placed Aga Khan's hand into that of the French girl, who now becomes the consort of one of the wealthiest Indian princes in the world.

The ceremony was performed in the city hall, which was formerly the medieval castle of the reigning Marquis of Aix. It was devoid of pomp or music, but there was a profusion of flowers, with roses of all colors.

Bridegroom Nervous. Aga Khan appeared more self-conscious than was his wont at Longchamps, Deauville and other race tracks where his colors are famous. He spoke his "yes" in a low, almost inaudible tone.

The bride was dressed in emerald and chocolate brown, her favorite colors and those which were made famous by Aga Khan's horses on the turf of Great Britain and France. Upon her velvet gown, intricately with cream-colored laces, made at Chambrey, the bride had thrown an emerald cape, caught on her left shoulder by a wide band of pink fur. Her bobbed hair was held together by a platinum fastening, in the contour of which glowed a diamond.

The gown was the latest fashion and extended a few inches below the knee. She also wore a magnificent ruby pendant on a gold and platinum chain around her throat.

Impressive touch. Mayor Clerc, when not officiating at Aix Les Bains, is a successful playwright and gave the wedding ceremony a most impressive touch. As the marriage party broke up, one of the imams made a speech in Arabic, which was a eulogy of the marriage.

"I am really very happy and especially delighted at the prospects of going to India next spring," said the bride. "By leaving the city hall the bride dropped a check into the poor box, later said to be equivalent to $10,000."

Aga Khan and his bride left for Italy this afternoon and will remain there a few weeks. Later they planned to live in a chateau on the shores of Lake Bourgas, between Chambrey and Aix.

Ran Candy Shop. A few days ago Mrs. Caron answered newspaper comment that she looked like she was 21 years old with the statement that she really was 21. She formerly ran a small candy shop in Paris.

Despite efforts of Aga Khan, who is a famous owner of race horses, to keep such details secret, it became known she was to receive about a million francs (about $40,000) before the ceremony took place. He recently gave her a $50,000 diamond ring for a present.

HAITI PROBE REQUESTED BY HOOVER

Congress Asked for Authority to Create Commission to Scan Relations With Island Republic—Additional Marines Ordered to Reinforce Troops in Disturbed Zone.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 7.—(AP)—With 500 marines and officers aboard, the flagship Wright of the aircraft squadron of the scouting fleet passed out of the Virginia Capes shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon bound for Haiti in response to emergency orders received yesterday from the navy department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The navy department today ordered the second line cruiser Galveston, with a complement of 300 officers, to Jameel, a port opposite Port Au Prince.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Describing present conditions in Haiti as "intolerable," Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee said today that if President Hoover meant to "clean up the situation, I want to help."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The American government moved with full force today to re-establish order in Haiti and to devise means for permanently maintaining it.

Simultaneously with the arrival of news that United States marines had engaged in battle with Haitian bands and that Haitians had been killed in the encounter at Aux Cayes, President Hoover asked congress for authority to create a commission to inquire into the whole subject of Haitian relations with the United States.

At the same time, he made formal report of the fact that additional marines had been ordered to the island republic to reinforce the 700 now there.

Wants Quick Action. The president asked that there be no delay in authorizing the commission of inquiry which would include members of the senate and house. The reinforcements were on the way even while the special message of President Hoover dealing with the situation was being read to the house. They were drawn from naval bases, principally Quantico, Va., and started on their journey last night.

President Hoover did not mention the number of additional troops necessary to deal with the disturbed situation which had its origin in a strike of students and resulted in the killing of five Haitians and the wounding of twenty

Will Rogers Says: BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. Dec. 7.—Our foreign friends always accuse us of being a loud, boisterous nation. Well, if you don't think America can stand still and keep its mouth shut you just watch it as I have today, when Haggen and Diegel are putting.

The morning paper states: "Another mail pilot crashed on a hillside." Well, he might have been just another pilot to that newspaper, but he was more than that to me. This same boy Nelson, and right out of the same graveyard of aviators, Bellefont, Pa., tried to get me through those mountains to New York one stormy night. He set me and me down that night in a bare spot no larger than a film actress' living room, in my first forced landing, and without a scratch. So you will pardon me if I look on him as a little more than "just another pilot." He was my first hero.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.
