

MANY AMERICANS ENJOY RESIDENCE IN LANDS ABROAD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Nearly half a million American citizens have left the United States to take up residence abroad during the last 12 years.

Of these, 425,000 were native born, while 62,000 were naturalized and the department of labor, in its annual report today, said they had sought "permanent, or at least extended" places of living in other lands.

The figures, which were compiled by the Commissioner General of Immigration, said that during the last 22 years nearly 4,000,000 resident aliens of the United States left with the stated intention of living in some foreign country. About 12,000,000 immigrant aliens were admitted during the same period.

"The number leaving the country has diminished greatly since the quota law went into effect," the report said, "but even now 25 alien residents emigrate for every 100 immigrants who enter for permanent residence, compared to 33 emigrants for 100 immigrants for the whole 22 years."

HOME VALUE AND RADIO ADDICTION ON CENSUS LIST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Five new questions are included in the new questionnaire prepared for enumerating the population in the 1930 census.

For the first time the enumerators will ask the value of the home, if owned, or the monthly rental, if rented; whether the home owns a radio set; the age at the time of the first marriage; whether actually at work; and whether a veteran of the armed forces of the United States, and during what war.

In making public this questionnaire the commerce department said that the question of home ownership would make possible a classification of families according to economic status or the buying power.

The counting of radio sets is expected to give a direct answer to the question as to the size of the radio audiences.

Enumerators will pay special attention to the classification of gainful workers according to occupations and industry and a special schedule for unemployment will contain a number of questions designed to separate those not working into several classes.

EDEN PRECINCT LAND RESPONDS TO EFFORT

EDEN PRECINCT, Ore., Dec. 12.—(Special)—Mr. Bolz, Sr., and his family of near the Ever Shady auto park moved into their new home on the highway this week. Roy Bolz, eldest son, will take possession of the former house, as that one belongs to the portion which Roy bought from his father.

The Bolz farm is an example of what real thrift and labor properly applied can do. About 50 acres of this place had lain waste since the Colvers took up their donation land claims about the year 1864. This tract of pine timber was called pasture land. It was not thought worth the cost of clearing.

Now, that land under proper cultivation, yields about 35 or more bushels of wheat to the acre each year.

If anyone cares to take the trouble to look over this land in the growing season, they will find everything growing on it that can be grown in the Rogue River valley. All because of labor scientifically applied.
