

FARMERS HEAR TALKS BY COLLEGE EXPERTS

A goodly number of farmers attended the farm meeting held this afternoon at the high school under the direction of Dr. J. N. Shaw, veterinarian at the Oregon Agricultural college, and Harry Lindgren, in charge of the livestock extension service of the college. H. E. Crosby, poultry specialist of O. A. C., spoke yesterday at the high school on poultry problems. A similar meeting was held last evening at Eagle Point and one will be held this evening at Sams Valley. The closing session will be held tomorrow at Ashland.

BEGIN TEXACO GAS CAMPAIGN MAIL TRIBUNE

The many readers of the Mail Tribune will be interested in the winter advertising campaign which the Texas company is beginning today in this paper. A series of exceptionally attractive ads, designed and prepared by the Hanft-Metzger Agency will help to tell southern Oregon motorists the "New and Better" Texaco gasoline which is now being dispensed at Texaco stations in this part of the state.

The advertising appearing in the Mail Tribune is but a part of a great campaign being launched by the Texas company in the west which, through 98 large dailies, will reach over 4,000,000 readers. National magazines and west coast farm journals will also augment the newspaper advertising.

The new Texaco advertising campaign will familiarize those who have never used Texaco winter gasoline with the quick starting qualities of this gasoline. The new Texaco vaporizes so readily that it forms a dry gas, an active mixture of gasoline and air, according to E. A. Vallier, representative of the Texas company in Medford.

"This pure, dry gas responds instantly to the action of the spark, giving lightning starts, rapid acceleration and smooth power," says Mr. Vallier.

Extra speed, extra power and extra mileage are promised Texaco users by the Texas company and Mr. Vallier has been gratified at the enthusiasm in which motorists have been receiving the "new and better" gas.

Texaco gasoline is a true Pacific coast product. Conforming in every respect with the exacting high quality specifications of the Texas company, the finished product is the transformation of California crude oil into the best gasoline that science can provide.

Texaco gasoline sold on the Pacific coast finds its origin in many of California's prolific oil sands. Among them are those of Signal Hill, Santa Fe Springs, Yorba Linda, Huntington Beach, Torrance, Montebello, North Whittier, Rosemead, Inglewood, Sherman, South Mountain in Ventura county, Coolidge and Fellows, two Texaco refineries, the Los Angeles Works at Watson near Wilmington and the Fillmore Works at Fillmore, absorb the major portion of Texaco's crude oil from those fields. Seemingly endless miles of pipe lines connect the oil fields with the refineries where the oil is received in huge tanks. From there it is released as crude stills and it is then actually in the process of being converted into Texaco New and Better Gasoline.

After the finished product is ready for distribution it is pumped from the refineries to a terminal for boat shipments, into tank cars for rail shipments or mammoth tank trucks and trailers. From these carriers the gasoline is delivered to bulk plants throughout the Pacific coast and from there distributed to Texaco dealers.

Parents, alumni, and ex-students are especially invited. Students will be admitted only by student body ticket.

Music will be furnished by the Melody Boys, an orchestra composed of the following high school boys: De Luss, Gilbert, Charles Whillock, Peb Stone, Eerie Thornton, and Bob Emmens.

The committees in charge are: Program, Merland Toffelson and Dorothy Whitman; decorations, Geraldine Latham, Siby Harrell, Roberta Stearns, Marjorie Marshall, Grace Gionger, Alberta Knips, Margaret Osenburg, Alice Case, Edna Allen, Jean Frank, Fred Colvig, Robert Kelly, Junior Porter; clean-up, Leon Brown, Harvey Stump, Stanley Smith, Phillip Stone; refreshments: Olive Lantis, Adra Edwards, Florence Peterson and Pauline McNeill.

Musical Comedy—St. Mary's Monday. A musical comedy with a sprinkling of pathos is "Santa Claus Dilemma," a musical play in two acts which will be presented in the auditorium of St. Mary's academy Monday night, beginning at 8:15.

More than 50 students, most of them in the school of music will take part in the production. Chorus, solo and instrumental music will be interspersed with the dialogue throughout the two inter-act acts. The orchestra will play a variety of famous Christmas airs during the evening. The public is invited and a nominal admission will be taken at the door.

It is not known here just how soon this will be, but from the fact that some time ago Superintendent Solinsky ordered a Christmas tree for their home on Queen Anne avenue in this city, it is thought that the family will return to Medford in time to spend Christmas here.

There are 5,500 acres of the finest sugar and other pine in California located in Yosemite park, and there was hardly any need of Superintendent Solinsky making a survey of this timber on private holdings in the park, because he personally knew every tree through his long service in Yosemite park. It is understood that all of these private holdings have been gathered in one ownership for sale to the national parks system as soon as the method for the exchange can be arrived at.

Rialto to Be Scene Of Gay Party Tomorrow.

It will be a real Christmas party with Leo's Wives, the women's auxiliary of the Lions' club acting as hostesses, and all the kiddies of Medford as guests. It will start at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Rialto theater, with Rex, the king of wild horses furnishing the entertainment in his feature picture, "The Black Cyclone." Of course, the guests must present their calling cards at the door—one or more pieces of clean clothing, which will be given to some needy person at Christmas time.

Manager Jules Reisman will assist the ladies in the receiving line and make the young guests welcome at his house which he is donating, along with the picture for the occasion. Invitations were personally extended by Mrs. B. J. Trowbridge, publicity chairman for the party, to all the schools of Medford during the past week. And she wants it known that if there are any little girls or boys who have not as yet heard about the party, this notice in the Mail Tribune is to serve as their invitation.

Following the dinner the large number of guests repaired to the mezzanine floor of the hotel, where the Christmas season was also very much in evidence, and spent the remainder of the evening at bridge. High scores for the evening was held by Mrs. E. Schmidt, while Mrs. A. B. Cunningham came second.

Deviating a bit from the general custom and adding considerably to the enjoyment of the guests was the awarding of two consolation gifts. These were given to Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Will Andrews.

Students Body Dance Tonight. The annual high school student body dance given by the Associated students in honor of the football team will be held in the high school gym tonight beginning at 8:30.

The main feature will be the presentation of football letters by Coach Hagan.

Parents, alumni, and ex-students are especially invited. Students will be admitted only by student body ticket.

Music will be furnished by the Melody Boys, an orchestra composed of the following high school boys: De Luss, Gilbert, Charles Whillock, Peb Stone, Eerie Thornton, and Bob Emmens.

B. and P. W. Club Dec. Meeting Tuesday

"A Trip to the South Sea Islands," will be the subject of an interesting illustrated talk to be given before the local Business and Professional Women's club at their regular December meeting to be held at the Hotel Medford next Tuesday evening. The lecture will be delivered by a representative of the Union Steamship company.

Beginning with a dinner at 6:30, the December meeting promises to be one of exceptional interest to all the members. Monthly reports will be made by the various committees and the latest word on the coming convention will be announced by President Maud K. Chapman.

Eagles to Hold Roll Call Thursday

"Why I Am Allowed to Live," will be the subject of a series of talks given by members of the Eagles lodge at their annual roll call meeting to be held at the lodge headquarters next Thursday evening. While no further entertainment would be necessary, there will be an abundance of it in every way, shape and form. The ladies will bring basket lunches, and the men, who will be measured for aprons and fined in proportion to waist measurements, will climax the program by washing dishes.

Miss Fewell Reported Improved in Health.

Miss Irva Fewell high school reporter and Mail Tribune society editor during the week, who has been seriously ill at the Sacred Heart hospital, due to complications following an appendicitis operation, is reported to have experienced the first drop to normal temperature since her confinement there. She is still unable to see visitors, but has been the recipient of a wealth of beautiful flowers, notes from friends and class mates and a deluge of phone messages.

The Rogue River Valley College Women's club will meet at the home of Mrs. Leland Mentzer on West Second street, tomorrow afternoon.

P. T. A. Institute At Hotel Medford

Attention is again drawn to the fact that the P. T. A. institute will be held at the Hotel Medford Saturday, December 14. This is an all-day meeting, being conducted by Mrs. Roe, national P. T. A. worker, and Mrs. Brice, state president. Mrs. Norma Reeder, county president, urges a full attendance. Luncheon will also be served at the hotel.

The Daughters of Veterans Will Meet at the Armory at 8 o'clock this evening.

All members are urged to attend. Officers for 1930 will be elected.

PELKEY TO MEET FELDMAN FRIDAY

Medford and southern Oregon boxing fans will be given the opportunity of seeing Ray Pelkey, Oakland, Calif., who defeated Gene O'Grady of Ashland in a Portland fight recently, take part in a main event bout in Medford next Friday, meeting Willie Feldman, New York City fighter who has been in Oregon for the past few weeks, at the armory.

Feldman has been fighting at Klamath Falls and has been victorious in all of his bouts. He is regarded as one of the fastest men ever seen in the state, but will run against one of the best lightweight fighters on the Pacific coast in meeting Pelkey, who was champion of the United States army in Siberia for several years.

There will be a good supporting card of preliminaries. Promoter Joe Bickerstaff announced today.

EXPECT SOLINSKYS SPEND CHRISTMAS IN MEDFORD HOME

A letter received yesterday at the Crater Lake National park office here from Mrs. E. C. Solinsky, wife of the park superintendent, states that the family are enjoying their temporary residence in San Francisco, despite the fact that her husband and their young daughter Jane had suffered severe attacks of flu, and that Superintendent Solinsky has been laid up with an attack of the same ailment for several days. The Solinskys have been residing at San Francisco ever since November 4th last, because of the superintendent, who is an expert timber scaler, being engaged in the work, with a legal adviser, to establish a policy for the acquisition by the national parks system of all of the private holdings inside of Yosemite National park, which work entails his alternating his time between western headquarters of the national parks at San Francisco and Yosemite park, until finished. There are 5,500 acres of the finest sugar and other pine in California located in Yosemite park, and there was hardly any need of Superintendent Solinsky making a survey of this timber on private holdings in the park, because he personally knew every tree through his long service in Yosemite park.
