

FLOORS FOR POULTRY HOUSES NEW SCHEME

CORVALLIS, Ore.—(AP)—Chickens have long ago had their natural mothers replaced by mechanical incubators and brooders and now they are in danger of being deprived of "mother earth." A new scheme for keeping poultry off the ground from the time the chicks are hatched until ready to lay has been developed by the poultry department of the Oregon State college. Each brooder house, under the new plan, has a fenced in porch, the floor of which is fine mesh chicken wire. Klamath Falls—Postoffice station No. 2 established in Mills addition.

EUGENE WILL BE SITE FOR AIRWAYS BEACON

EUGENE, Ore.—(AP) Eugene has been selected as the site of one of the radio beacons which are to be erected to guide traffic on the coast air lanes. N. W. Bliss, assistant engineer, and William O. Nicholson, radio electrician of the radio division of the bureau of lighthouses and airways of the department of commerce, have been here inspecting sites. Crabtree's Name Spreads GAINESVILLE, Fla.—(AP)—"Can nonball" Clyde Crabtree, Florida quarterback, has made a name for himself. The registrar received a letter from a prospective student in Michigan who had addressed the envelope to "University of Florida, Crabtree, Fla."
