MEDFORD ICE CO. TO ARRANGE FOR STORAGE OF FURS

The Medford Ice & Storage company will install a special storage room at an early date, for furs. It will be equipped with special machinery, and the furs will be treated to a special process, by use of alternating temperature.

If there should be a moth or any of the insect world, that feast upon fine furs, in the warm folds when it is placed in storage, he will not be there when it is removed. The alternating temperature causes his demise most effectively.

The average insect, with a fine fur as a hobbat, has heretofore been able to survive the cold, by the simple process of going to sleep. He readily adjusted himself to the temperature.

With the alternating temperature system it is different. Say the temperature of the storage room is 28 degrees when the fur is placed in storage. Mr. Bug regulates himself for 28 degrees and starts snoozing. When the temperature is lowered to zero, he is awakened and has to readjust himself to the new frigidity. After a couple of violent changes in the temperature the bug gives up the struggle and dies.

Science has discovered that a bug can keep alive in most any temperature, if it is not changed on him, but that the alternating temperature system is too much for him.

MANY SEAL HELPERS PRAISED BY LEADER

"Many hands make light work," believes Mrs. R. E. Greene, Christmas seal sale chairman. She attributes the success with which the drive is going over to the splendid co-operation of every one. To those who so whole-heartedly assisted her, to the booth saleswomen, to the business men, to the papers, and to those who so nicely responded to the letters sent out. She urges any who intend to send in their money for the seals to do so before the 1st of the year, so that a complete report may be given to the papers for publication.

The Jackson County Health association is already planning their program for 1930 based on the success of thes campaign.

STANFORD-ARMY GAME BROADCAST SPONSORED

The Stanford-Army game will be broadcast Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 by Mail Tribune-Virgin station KMED. The service for football fans will be sponsored by Jackson County bank, Pierce-Allen Motor Co., and Magill Drug Store.

Klamath Dentist Dies.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Dec 27. — (AP) — Dr. Edwin Clarence Briggs, 50, government dentist at the Klamath Indian agency for the past three years, died yesterday after a week's illness. He was born in Seattle.

LOCAL ATTORNEY TO PLEAD CAUSE KIDNAP SUSPECT

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 27.—(AP) Fred R. Goddard, Klamath county judge, has sent a telegraphic request to Governor Norblad for a date to discuss a matter which the telegram says is "of mutual interest to the state and to Klamath county." The messages give no further hint of the nature of the subject.

Governor Norblad arrived here today and went to work at his desk. He found a huge stack of letters and telegrams on his desk pertaining to numerous subjects.

A Medford attorney has requested a hearing before the governor Saturday morning in behalf of Robert A. Wilson, who is wanted in California on a charge of kidnaping his child.

YOUTH CONFESSES CALIFORNIA CRIME

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A youth who gave the name of Maurice Hood, 18, of Huntington Park, Cal., walked into the Chestnut Hill police station early today and told the house sergeants that 22 months ago he killed his brother-in-law, Buddy Roberts, on Willy's ranch, near Horse Thief Canyon, Cal. Police wired California authorities for confirmation of the story.

Hoods said his sister was Roberts' wife and that she was found dead on the ranch. He said he had received information that Roberts had beaten her to death and in revenge he shot robers. Hood said he wandered all over the west, always fearing arrest.

BOOTLEGGER'S LIST IS CAPTURED IN KLAMATH

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Dec. 27.—(AP)—A list of customers containing, police said, names of many prominent business men here, was taken last night from a man arrested for liquor violation, Terry Simpson is the man under arrest. Police confiscated 40 gallons of liquor labeled "bonded whiskey," 12 10-gallon kegs, ageing apparatus and other equipment. The list, police said, indicated liquor was being sold for $90 a case.

PHEASANTS DEVOUR WIRE WORM PESTS

Chinese pheasants are the enemies of the wire worm, a parasite that now invites the attention of congress through a bill asking for the expenditure of $25,000 for its investigation. In a recent investigation conducted by the Oregon State college and the state game commission to determine the damage done to crops by Chinese pheasants it was found that in sections where the wire worm thrives the stomachs of the pheasants were found to contain large numbers of the parasites.

Four Perfect Bridge Hands Dealt in Game

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—(UP) Four perfect hands of bridge were dealt at a party given by the Big Ten club of Youngstown. The four players and the three witnesses all attest that the cards were shuffled and dealt according to the regular rules of the game.

Howard Sutton, Ohio State unicersity graduate, an engineer of the Penn-Ohio Electric company, was so amazed when he saw 13 diamonds in his hand that he laid down his cards. Dr. W. J. McCarthy, a dentist, Sutton's partner, received all the clubs, M. W. Jacobs, a shoe merchant, got all the hearts, while his pariner, Paul Dingledy, a graduate of the University of Illinois school of engineering, picked up all the spades.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Police were searching today for three men who Wednesday night kidnaped a Klamath Falls girl, attacked her and left her at the city limits yesterday. The girl was in a hysterical condition when found but told officers she could identify the men. She said they were intoxicated when they grabbed her in the street and forced her into their automobile.

PAGEANT AT TALENT CHURCH IMPRESSIVE

TALENT, Ore., Dec. 27.—(Spl.) The Pageant of the King, portrayed at the Methodist church in Talent Christmas eve, was the first of its kind ever to be played in this city and was enjoyed by all who witnessed it.

The ancient scenes and dress of the different characters took much time to reproduce.

The old but beautiful story of the birth of the Christ-child was impressively told in song and story.

The church was decorated with evergreens and bright red berries and the stage settings were very attractive. The church was crowded, with many standing.

At the close of the program bags of candy and nuts were passed to everyone present.

The spirit of helpfulness was manifested everywhere and the needy received their share of the Christmas treats as well as Christmas dinner.
