

ORGANIZE FOR SQUAW CREEK MINING WORK

Pacific Mines, Inc., Formed With Capital Stock of One Million to Develop Jackson Property—Prospects Good.

Organization of Pacific Mines, Inc., an Oregon corporation with a capital stock of $1,000,000, which is now engaged in the development of mining property in Jackson county in the Squaw Creek district, was completed here today with the election of its officers and directors.

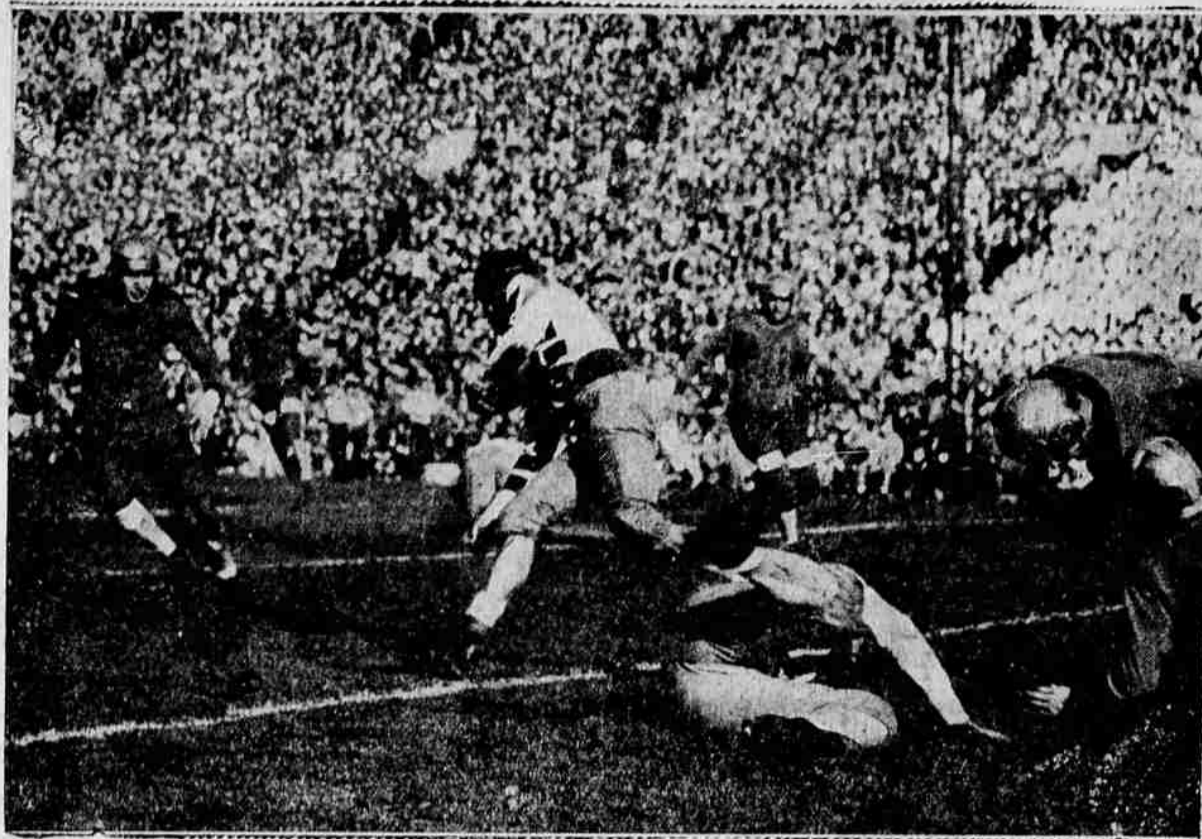

During the past six weeks the company has driven 200 feet of tunnel on the Great Eastern claim of the Buck group on an ore ledge 50 feet in width, which assays 1/2 to 1 1/2 per cent copper. Samples from a vein of 16 feet average 6 per cent copper and $5 in gold per ton.

Charles M. Price, consulting engineer at the mine, stated this afternoon that the development being done was in a large measure justified last Tuesday when the tunnel now being driven out through two small ledges, which will assay high in copper and probably carry gold values.

"Within 50 feet we expect to cut the main vein, this being our objective in the tunnel in which we are working," Mr. Price stated. "Our estimate has been that we would reach this vein within 250 feet in the tunnel and present indications are that our estimate is correct."

Made Thorough Study
"We began our operations after a thorough study of the Squaw Creek and Blue Ledge districts, and after a careful examination by mining experts. Their reports assure us that we are in one of the biggest copper belts in the northwest and that with proper and sufficient development we will give Jackson county a producing copper mine."

Trojan War Horse Plunges Through for First Touchdown

Associated Press Telephoto of Harry Edelson, University of Southern California halfback, scoring the first of U. S. C.'s seven touchdowns against the Golden Panthers of the University of Pittsburgh, in the annual inter-sectional football classic in the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's day. U. S. C. buried the easterners under a 47 to 14 score, mainly through use of an effective aerial offensive in the early part of the game.

Ten men are now working two shifts in the Great Eastern tunnel and are advancing an average of eight feet each 24 hours. Buildings have been erected and a fully equipped camp installed. Idaho and California interests are furnishing the funds for development. The company now has under its control 25 mining claims of 20 acres each.

Officers elected are the following: President, Wm. R. Price, Yuba City, Cal.; vice-president, C. W. Martin, Gold Hill; secretary, treasurer, L. C. Clark, Medford. These, with H. G. Myers, Boise, Idaho, and Charles Moore, Yuba City, Cal., constitute the board of directors. The principal office of the company is in Medford.

Organizers of the corporation first intended to use the name Interstate Mines, Inc., but were required to change to Pacific Mines, Inc., for the reason that the former name had been taken by another Oregon corporation.

Wine Cellar in Doll House
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(AP)—A doll's house eight feet long and five feet high, presented to Kathryn Ray, 5, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, rector of the Little Church Around the Corner, is complete in furnishings even to vacuum cleaners and a wine cellar.

Wild Duck Haven
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(AP)—There's a haven for wild duck near the Washington monument. Driven by hunters' guns from the Potomac marshes, where they like to eat wild celery, they are flocking to the tidal basin lured by food scattered there by order of Colonel U. S. Grant 3rd.

HARTMAN GIVES STUDY OUTLINE IN PEAR WORK

Prof. Henry Hartman of the Oregon State college, assigned to the study of pear marketing and storage conditions, under the auspices of the Fruitgrowers' league and Winter Pear committee, in a report sets forth that investigations are now under way on 14 phases of marketing and storage. Professor Hartman will conclude his study next May, when he will embody his findings in a report in time to be available, if desired, for the handling of the 1930 fruit crop.

Much of Professor Hartman's work centers in the handling of the fruit so it will reach the consumer at the peak of eating condition, and a study of the phenomena known as "blackening" of pears on the eastern markets.

The following is an outline of the study now under way:

- (A)—Time of picking in relation to keeping and dessert quality.
- (B)—Length of time various varieties can be held under various conditions.
- (C)—Keeping qualities in Medford storage and New York plants.
- (D)—Investigation of storage conditions and facilities in eastern markets.
- (E)—Effects of shipping on storage and conditioning.
- (F)—Temperature conditions necessary for proper ripening and conditioning.
- (G)—Humidity conditions necessary for proper ripening and conditioning.
- (H)—Time required to condition pears following various shipping and storage treatments.
- (I)—Keeping quality of pears after they have been conditioned and ripened.
- (J)—Freezing injury and recovery from freezing.
- (K)—September shipments vs. November shipments in relation to keeping quality.
- (L)—Study of "blackening" of pears on eastern markets.
- (M)—Study of the condition of Medford pears after they appear on the market in eastern cities.
- (N)—Types of packages and the methods of packing in relation to the appearance and keeping quality of pears.

MAYOR TO GIVE STATEMENT ON DANCE IMPASSE

There was much talk about the city today, with opinion divided, about the city dance matron, Mrs. Vivian Norman Barto, having been refused admission to the Elks club New Year's eve ball held at the Elks temple on the ground, as maintained by Exalted Ruler Ben Moller and other members who were in charge of the dance, that it was strictly a private affair for Elks and their families and invited friends only, admission to be by ticket.

This position was maintained, despite the fact that at a meeting of the mayor and four city councilmen, the latter themselves Elks, last Saturday, the city officials had ruled that the coming dance was a semi-public one and that the dance matron should supervise it the same as any other public dance.

The Elks lodge has taken no official notice, as a lodge on the matron dance matter controversy—that is, has not voted on it as a body.

Mayor Pipes today had nothing to say about the matron being refused entrance to the Elks building on New Year's eve, and of the contention of the Elks members in charge of the dance that it was a private affair, needing no city supervision, except to maintain that the city officials held a different view and that Mrs. Barto was entirely within the performance of her duties in seeking to attend and supervise the Elks' dance.

The mayor, who also stated that he had had a conference several days ago with Exalted Ruler Moller and Raymond Reter, representing the Elks in charge of the dance, at which they could not agree, said this noon that he would make a public statement later.

In the general comment heard around the city yesterday and today, opinion on the controversy was divided.

JANUARY SALE EVENT AT MANN'S STARTS FRI.

Beginning tomorrow morning, Friday, Mann's Department store will feature their annual January Clearance sale, which is always looked forward to by southern Oregon shoppers.

In order that everyone will be given prompt attention extra salespeople have been secured. Phone and mail orders will also be given prompt and intelligent attention, according to the management. Items included in the sale include large articles such as dresses and coats, as well as merchandise in every department in the store. The men's department is also featuring scores of bargains in men's wear.

TURN TO PAGES

4

AND

5

PLEASE

Watch for the AUBURN

Surprise Announcement

Jan. 5

Again all eyes are focused on Auburn. What will Cord do for 1930? The record of Auburn under his management has been one of amazing progress. Always daring to pioneer—to announce the unexpected. Always keeping ahead of competition. He just recently eclipsed all high-priced cars with his new Front Drive. Now what will Auburn announce? Auburn's policy is different. Auburn thinks only of how to design, build and price the kind of motor cars that the public wants, WHEN they want them. Because 1929 was Auburn's banner year, sales records broken month after month and the only manufacturer continually oversold, Auburn is in the position now to make the most sensational announcement for 1930.

DEL FEL, Inc.

123 South Riverside