TODAY MARKS 40 YEARS IN MEDFORD FOR N. S. BENNETT

"I came to Medford 40 years ago today," said N. S. Bennett, the pioneer nurseryman as he passed around the cigars on Main street this morning, "and if they will let me I hope to live here 40 years more."

What did Medford look like on January 7th, 1890? Well it was a bustling little place even then, and coming from snow-bonded Iowa via Idaho, we thought it looked like the Garden of Eden. It was only a little village of perhaps 1000 people, but it was lively. All the town centered about what is now the Nash hotel and the only buildings were east of the S. P. track. Where the Liberty building and public library are now was only scrub oak and grass.

"But we liked it, and here we have raised our children and hope to live many years more. Our 40th anniversary seemed worth celebrating so I am passing around the cigars. If you don't like the brand, don't blame me. I don't smoke. Blame the man who sold them to me."

During his long residence here, Mr. Bennett has been the leading nurseryman, has set out thousands of fruit trees, shade trees and shrubs, and has taken an active part in the many civic enterprises, having been particularly prominent in the charitable work conducted by the Medford Elks.

KATHERINE WALSH PIONEER OF EAGLE POINT DIST. RESTS

It is with deep regret that we note the passing of each member of our old pioneer contingent, but after enduring the hardship of pioneer life, it is a sweet solace to those who survive that the later pioneers who passed away enjoyed the luxuries which modern existence makes possible.

One of the most beloved of Jackson county's older citizens was Mrs. Katherine Walsh, who breathed her last at her home, 829 South Riverside avenue, at 11:45 p. m. Monday evening.

Katherine Walsh was born at Chillicothe, Pappoe county, Iowa, April 5, 1852, and was aged, at her passing 77 years, 9 months and 1 day.

Mrs. Walsh was a daughter of Alexander Postan and Dien Postan who lived at Chillicothe, Iowa, and were of the oldest families of Iowa, who between 1852 and 1860 helped in many ways to settle different sections of Iowa.

It was some years later, in the year 1868, that Katherine Postan and J. S. Walsh were united in marriage. They lived but a short time in Iowa, moving from there to Nebraska, where they took up homesteading. Seven years later in 1875 they moved to Oregon and made their home for a time at Eugene. Later in 1882 they came to southern Oregon, settling 2 miles southeast of Eagle Point. Mr. Walsh passed away in 1900, and Mrs. Walsh has made her home in the Eagle Point district until 1923, at which time she thought it best to come to Medford to live with her daughter Mrs. Clara Beames. The surviving children are six daughters and six sons, Leah, Thomas of Winlock, Wash., Rex, the Holts of Sams Valley, Corby, Prasse of Spokane, Wash., Emma Messall of Lak Creek, Clarinda Watkins of Oroville, Calif., Clara Bergman of Stockton, Calif., John Walsh of Lake Creek, Ore., Lela Walsh of Lake Creek, D. H. Walsh of Eagle Point, Floyd Walsh of Lake Creek, Bill Walsh of Eagle Point. Also 27 grandchildren and three great grandchildren and three sisters, Emma Grigsby, Mina Clayton and Sarah Turpin, all of Portland.

The funeral arrangements are in charge of the 2627 Funeral Home and will be announced hereafter.
