The laundrymen of the state are here in convention assemble, and not are a prosperous lot, and not dirty shirt among them. Busines are a prosperous tot, and not a dirty shirt among them. Business has been excellent, despite the sale of many new-fangled washing machines. People patronize the laundries because the washing machines are full of the next batch machines are full of the next batch of beer. They keep the mash gently agitated. If the landryman loses a shirt, it is always a $7 shirt. The owner of the shirt always refuses the $7 proffered, but insists on the return of his shirt. All the tablecioths are Irish linen. laundrymen print mystic number on the collars of shirts. Later the police look at this number, add 176, and catch the murderer in Kansas. A base canard has been in circulation for years. It is alleged the laundrymen put a sawedge on the collars. The saw-edge is obsolete. The modern laundry inflicts a rat-tail file edge. They have quit putting 146 pins in the tail of a shirt, as it was as much trouble to put the pins in, as it was for the patron to remove them. The last runaway in this motropolis was staged by a laundry wagon horse. The laundry has much machinery, which does better work than a woman's back. Kansas. A base canard has been much machinery, which does better work than a woman's hack.

CONGRATULATIONS TO KLAMATH FALLS!

ALL OREGON has reason to be proud of Klauath Falls and the showing made in the present census. Everyone knew our neighboring city had made a startling growth, but few suspected the total would exceed 16,000. The total of 16,053, at a Bigned letters pertaining to erroral health and bygiens, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment of the total would exceed 16,000. The total of 16,053, at all be answered by br. Brady if a stanged self addressed errelope is eschased. Letters should be gadership of percentage gains in this state, and outside of the care of The Mail Tribune. California and Florida, probably in the entire country.

Entil the Klamath report, Medford held the leadership in Oregon with a gain of nearly 90 per cent. But the people of this city, gladly hand over the palm to our bustling neighbor across the mountains. It is no small honor to hold second place to such a record-breaking achievement.

Moreover, the more Klamath Falls grows and prospers, the better for Medford and the Rogue River valley. For Klamath is essentially a consuming and distributing center, while Medford is essentially a producing and distributing one. By the nature of things, and with a fine highway connecting the two cities, Medford will profit by Klamath's growth, because there will be one of our best and nearest markets.

Because of difference in soil, altitude and climate, Medford and Klamath are not competitors, but partners in development. There is, therefore, no make-believe in Medford's hearty congratulations to its friend and neighbor. Our felicitations on this splendid showing are absolutely sincere, and that this growth may continue steadily through the next decade, is Medford's carnest wish,

DID THE NATRON CUT-OFF HURT MEDFORD?

SPEAKING OF Klamath, there was a general feeling here-abouts at the time of the construction of the Natron cut-off that it would benefit that district, at the expense of this one. that ent-off did place Klamath on the main line of the S. P., and Medford on a secondary line. But at that time The Mail Tribune maintained this construction would not only benefit the Klamath country, but consequent development there would also benefit this part of the state, for reasons cited above,

Many of our friends, at that time, dismissed this claim as merely a gesture of resignation,—a disposition to make the best of a bad bargain,-a verbal whistling to keep up our courage.

But that we were right in that contention, we believe subsequent developments have clearly demonstrated. Since that time the two sections of greatest growth in the entire state have been in Southern Oregon, in Klamath and Medford.

A ND NOW WE have a very practical example of how this cut-off has failed to injure Medford. The Barnes circus s coming to Oregon. This circus is now owned by Ringling, and there is no business in the country that is better informed regarding the exact business conditions and possibilities, in this ountry, than the aforesaid Ringling.

Follow the trail of the circus and you will follow the trail of the greatest material prosperity in the United States. Ringling has a corps of experts who do nothing but study the latest population statistics,-facts and figures regarding economic development, etc., etc., -and when they decide to show in a place, one can be absolutely certain that decision rests upon no sentimental consideration or desire to please, but absolutely upon facts,-definite knowledge that that place offers a better chance of making money than any other, in the given district.

WHAT DOES Brother Ringling do regarding Oregon? He bills Klamath for May 17. Does he then shoot through over the Natron cut-off toward Eugene?

No. He figures what this would save him in transfer and transportation costs,-undoubtedly a tidy sum,-then he looks op Medford and the Rogue River valley, and promptly routes his caravan back over the same ground, figuring,-and figuring correctly,-that the extra profits by so doing will more than repay him for the increased expenses.

Could anyone ask for more convincing proof, that regarders of railroad costs or mileage, money goes where the business is. What Ringling has done, other Big Business has done and will continue to do.

The Natron cut-off did not benefit Klamath Falls at the expense of Medford, but by developing a new section of Southern Oregon, benefitted this and every community in it.

STREET WILL BE REPAIRED.
