Mother is Honored in Churches, Homes of Medford Today

Today is Mother's Day, and in all churches of the city sermons and programs will be given in observance of this holiday dear to the hearts of all people. In every tongue it is spoken—for in lands here and across the seas—her name carries the same sweet sentiment. Creeds are cast aside as sons and daughters honor the one heroine to whom the world grants first place.

It is an observance program free from prejudices and filled with tenderness in which people of Medford in homes and churches join people of other cities.

Mesdames Baker and Brayton Hostesses
Spring flowers in tones of red blending with red candles brought a glow of warmth and beauty to the tables for the luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Everett Brayton and Mrs. C. T. Baker at the latter's home. Following the luncheon there were three tables of contract bridge in play.

Surprise Party Monday Event
Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Severson entertained with a surprise party at their home Monday evening honoring the birthday anniversary of Olaf Jr. Members of his Sunday school class and other friends were guests.

Mrs. Glenn Hale and children of Chiloquin spent the week-end in Medford shopping and visiting friends.

Mrs. Mosher Resigns Leaves for Boston

Mrs. Isabelle Mosher, who recently resigned her position as principal of the Valley school, left Medford Wednesday evening, accompanied by her two children, for Boston, where she plans to make her home. She will accept a position in an eastern school. Mrs. Wendell VanLoan is succeeding Mrs. Mosher as principal of the local school for the rest of the spring term and will continue in this capacity the next school year.

Medford Girl On Orchestra Tour

Friends in this city of Miss Beulah Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gore read with interest news of the tour of the University of Oregon orchestra in which she plays violin. Along with the other programs held in the state during the past week in observance of national Good Music week the university orchestra made a tour of towns, neighboring Eugene.

Picnic Club Meets June 1

The Montana Picnic club will again have their annual picnic at Ever-Shady auto park Sunday, June 1. An all-day picnic is planned. Bring your picnic lunch and own service and there will be furnished coffee, cream, ice cream and lemonade. With the cooperation of the chamber of commerce we will have a speaker who will give an address of welcome. These picnics are growing larger each year, as last year there were two new families came to Rogue River valley, to make their homes, after receiving a paper with the account of the annual picnic.

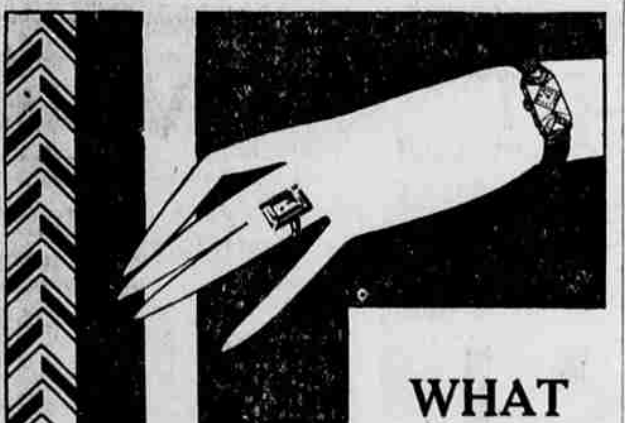

Over three hundred former residents of Montana attended the picnic. There were people from Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Chiloquin, Ashland, Central Point, Eagle Point, Jacksonville and Medford.

The picnic is a sure place to meet old friends and spend an enjoyable day, so be sure and come.

Young Medford Student Sings in Ashland

Miss Leone White, a promising young singer of Medford, sang several songs in the May Festival which was held in Ashland during the past week. Miss White has also sung over the Medford radio several times.

Miss Jessie Stovall, student at the University of Oregon, is in this city visiting her brother, J. C. Stovall and wife at their apartment on 10th street.

WHAT Do Graduates Want?

An Elgin Watch is always a most fitting remembrance for the graduate. It commemorates commencement day in a most lasting way. It is received with enthusiasm... it is treasured as something precious... it always brings grateful thoughts of the donor.

The girl graduate will appreciate this exquisite engraved Lady Elgin. An accurate dependable timepiece that will be a lasting reminder of the giver's good judgment.

Life is Most Enjoyable When Wisely Planned

While some wives are drudging at home, others, similarly situated are out and away enjoying themselves. Does this mean that some wives take no pride or pleasure in their homes?

Not necessarily. In most instances it means that some wives have learned the secret of planning—making the best possible use of TIME available.

Think of the busiest women you know. They seem to find time for everything. How do they do it?

Use who accomplish the most.

do nothing by hand which ELECTRICITY will do equally well. ELECTRICITY works much faster than human hands—leaves women free for the things they enjoy doing.

The following appliances are used by women "who seem to find time for everything."

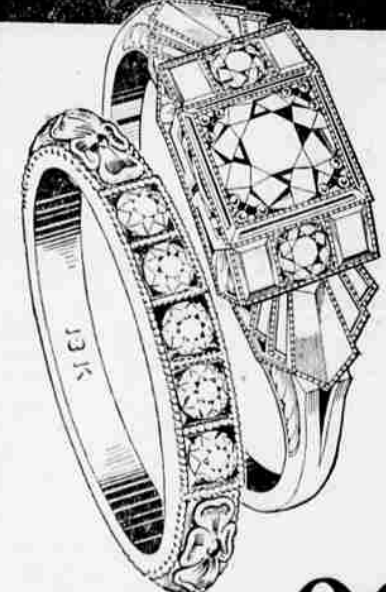

- Dishwasher
- Vacuum Cleaner
- Washing Machine
- Sewing Machine
- Floor Polisher
- RANGE
- Ironer
- Muffle Iron
- Toaster
- Grill
- Refrigerator
