Delphian Club Ends Year's Work With All-Day Session

The last meeting of the Medford chapter of the Delphian club was held at Mrs. Glen Fabrick's cabin on the Rogue river Wednesday, May 7th, with an all day session.

The officers in charge for the last time were Mrs. Vivian Norman Barto, president; Mrs. R. V. Williams, supervisor; Mrs. D. G. Tyree, first vice president; Mrs. Louis Ulrich, second vice president; Mrs. R. W. Sleeter, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Rose Scheffelin, parliamentarian. Group leaders for the year were Mrs. John Crews and Mrs. Scheffelin.

The history and study of music has been the subject that held the interest of about twenty-five Delphians for the past year ending with a study of Italian, French and German opera, during the past three months.

A vote of thanks was given to KMED for broadcasting a program of German opera beginning at eleven o'clock Wednesday, complimentary to the officers and members of the Delphian club.

This program occurred just previous to the bountiful buffet luncheon that was served on the wide veranda overlooking a spot where the Rogue is at its best.

The first part of the day was devoted to business and after the luncheon, the regular program of study arranged by the supervisor, Mrs. R. V. Williams, was given by the following ladies:

"Mozart, The First German Composer," Mrs. O. C. Boggs.

"The Marriage of Figaro," Mrs. D. G. Tyree.

"Don Giovanni," Mrs. Crawford Lemmon.

"The Magic Flute," Mrs. R. E. Green.

"Lohengrin," Mrs. N. B. Newcomb.

"Tristan and Isolde," Mrs. Myron Root.

"Das Rheingold," Mrs. C. C. Furnas.

"Du Walkure" and "Siegfreid," Mrs. Rose Scheffelin.

"Die gotterdammerung," Mrs. T. E. Malmgren.

"Wagnerian Viewpoints," Mrs. R. V. Williams.

At the business meeting which was in charge of the president, Mrs. Barto, there was a telegram from Mrs. Lena Latham Goble read in which she accepted an invitation to attend an assembly of Ashland, Klamath Falls and Medford chapters to be held in Medford May 22nd. As this invitation had been sent to Mrs. Goble over a month ago and owing to the fact that because of her traveling, the invitation had only just caught up with her, and her answer came at such a late date, there was much discussion as to whether it would be possible to get a good attendance at a "Southern Oregon Assembly" upon such short notice.

A committee had been appointed at the last chapter meeting to invite all Delphian ladies who had not participated in this year's work to come back into the club for next year's work.

The work as outlined by the Delphian board is instructive, educational and entertaining. It is just difficult enough without being a burden and brings to the woman who cannot be constantly attending educational courses at college just the intellectual inspiration necessary to keep her abreast of the times and aware of modern values.

Owing to the fact that vocal and instrumental music were added to the past year's program, not so much in the way of modern literature has been given this year, although book reviews, current events, etc., have not been left out entirely.

The year's work has been heavy and demanded intensive study but withal, intensely interesting. Before the close of the business meeting the new officers for the coming year, as follows were elected and are looking forward to a wonderfully enjoyable year:

President, Mrs. Nina Cole Mulholland.

First vice president, Mrs. Glen Fabrick.

Second vice president, Mrs. Louis Ulrich.

Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Aletha Vawter.

Mrs. Grant has been recommended for supervisor but this appointment comes from national headquarters, therefor no official statement can be made at this time.

In order that the former members who are coming back get their books on time, it would be well to order them at once, and anyone desiring to do so had better call Mrs. R. V. Williams, telephone Jacksonville 501; Mrs. Vivian Norman Barto, 964-L or Mrs. R. W. Sleetter, 859. By so doing business affairs may be less complicated for the new officers in the autumn.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Be Guests

Mrs. Geo. B. Young at "Orchard Home," will be hostess for an all day meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Baptist church, Tuesday, May 13, 1930. Those who have room in their cars and those who have no cars, please meet at the church at 10:30. A covered dish luncheon at noon—please bring service. At 2:30 the regular meeting will be called for a short business session, and snappy reports of the association held last week in Grants Pass.

Mrs. E. B. Day and children of Portland are guests in Medford this week of Mrs. Day's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Sweet.

Study Club Holds Last Meet of Year

The Wednesday Study club met in the library, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. J. O. Grey presiding. This was the last regular study meeting of the year.

The next meeting will be the social and business meeting at which time will be the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Carlton Janes of Capitol Hill has invited the club members to be her guests at her home that afternoon, Wednesday, the 21st.

In the absence of Mrs. L. B. Humphrys Mrs. Janes read her paper, "The Future of Japan, Her Problems, the Monroe Doctrine for Asia and the Future of the Yellow Races." This excellent paper showed great thought and insight into these various phases of the Japanese problems. Having been shut in their small island for the many centuries until America came thundering at their door, they now take their place in the affairs of the world and are one of its great five world powers. Japan now has a dense population, as there are 360 persons to the square mile. All this plays a very great part in their national life, and they are being compelled to seek better industrial conditions.

Japan lacks great forests which causes a scarcity of lumber, and there is also a lack of rich minerals, especially coal and iron. The rapid rise of corporations is causing economic problems for the government, and the lack of raw materials for the manufacturing is another serious problem. They rely greatly on their silk industry, for which they find the United States their greatest consumer. Japan resents the Anti-Asiatic immigration act of the English-speaking people, of America and Australia.

There has been a pact formed by Russia, China, India and Japan which might be termed somewhat similar to our Monroe doctrine, but China and India are doubtful of this agreement and fear Japan means Asia for Japan.

Japan is proud of her art and culture, and is fast becoming a nation where illiteracy is unknown.

Mrs. Humphrys' paper was most scholarly and enlightening and fittingly closed the year's helpful and instructive study of our neighbors of the Pacific.

Mrs. Wold gave a most timely book review on the life of Mahatma Gandhi, by C. F. Andrews, the peace leader of India. Mr. Andrews has been an intimate friend of Gandhi for many years, and a resident of India for some twenty-five years. A great part of the book is letters and lectures, these lectures having been given by Gandhi before students throughout India. Gandhi came from a very prominent family, his mother was a most devout Hindu, where no doubt Gandhi received much of his religious training.

Gandhi studied law at Oxford university in 1890. His profession took him to Africa, and seeing the need of these people he cast his lot among them. He believes in the doctrine and teachings of Tolstoi, and Mr. Andrews says it is not true that Gandhi has lost his influence in India. He sees good in all religions and still hopes to bring about a peaceful conquest for India. This book should prove very interesting reading at this time when Gandhi is causing much concern in India.

Mrs. W. E. Crews chose as her magazine article the story of the Japanese cheery trees in our national capital, found in the last Literary Digest. Mrs. Crews also read some amusing poems depicting the early life in Alaska, from the Frontier Magazine. This is very much a northwest magazine, in which most of its contributors are residents of this western country.

Birthday Dinner for Rev. Wallace Friday

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Campbell of 804 East Main street, gave a delightful dinner Friday evening in honor of the 90th birthday of Mrs. Campbell's father, Rev. H. H. Wallace.

Rev. Wallace is a retired Methodist minister, and a veteran of the Civil war, coming from Spring Valley, Minnesota, several years ago, he has made his home with his daughter. Rev. Wallace has made many friends in Medford where he is widely known for his wonderful Christian character and remarkable power of activity for one of his years.

After the guests assembled at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, they were entertained by Rev. Wallace who recited poetry, and told stories, and talked on all the current topics of the day until the dinner hour, when to his surprise he found the table decorated with flowers, and a large birthday cake with the figures 90 in colors and many candles burning brightly. Rev. Wallace performed the ceremony of blowing out the candles, and the cake was cut and passed to his guests. Rev. Wallace posed several times for his picture, and enjoyed opening his many greeting cards and gifts during the afternoon and evening, being the last to bid his friends good-night when they departed at 9 o'clock.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCulston, George Voachum and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gilmore of Medford.

Mrs. Janes in Eugene

Mrs. Carlton Janes is among Medford mothers who are spending today in Eugene visiting students at the University of Oregon, where a week-end of festivities has been planned for the special entertainment of mothers. Mrs. Janes is guest of her daughter, Miss Betty Janes.

Mrs. Barto

Mrs. Vivian Norman Barto, retiring president of the Delphian club, who will be succeeded by Mrs. Nina Cole Mulholland, elected at the all-day meeting held at the cabin home of Mrs. Glen Fabrick during the past week.

Mrs. T. P. Tollefson Entertains Guild

An interesting program of music and stunts, spiced with lots of humor was enjoyed by members of the Crater Lake Guild of the First Presbyterian church at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. P. Tollefson, Central Point, Monday evening. There were about 35 members present and Mrs. R. E. McElhose, who plans to leave Medford soon for Grants Pass, where Mr. McElhose will be transferred, was a guest of honor. Among charter members of the organization present were Mrs. Ella Pennington and Mrs. Lorraine Thomas.

Members, who took part in the skits presented were: Mrs. Dade Terrett, Mrs. Eunice Hillis, Mrs. Emily Dynan, Mrs. Sadie Howard and Mrs. Berna Field.

Following the program refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Tollefson, Miss Myrtle Toby and Mrs. F. G. Bunch.

Mermaid Tavern To Give Two Plays

Jo Anne Smith is directing two plays being put on by members of the Mermaid Tavern at the Guild Hall Thursday evening, May 22. "Embers" by John Middleton is to be presented with Roberta Stearns, Winifred Warner, Charles Barnes and John Reddy in the cast.

Hariet Kayser, Clyde Davis, Victor Dallaire, Bob Nelson, and Jewell Waddell will take part in "Aria Da Capo," written by Edna St. Vincent Millay. This play is a combination of Harlequim play and a pastoral tragedy. It is written in blank verse.

The next regular meeting of the Mermaid Tavern will be held at the home of Miss Roberta Stearns, May 19. This club has been contributing book reviews for some time to the Medford Mail Tribune.

At the club meeting, William Dougherty and Norris Porter will recite "The Congo" and other poems by Vachel Lindsey.

Visits Campus

Mrs. Tom Fuson and daughter, Clara May, returned to Medford the early part of the week from Eugene, where they spent the week end visiting friends at the University of Oregon. While there Miss Fuson was guest of Miss Betty Janes of this city at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Mrs. Clarabelle Elliott, who has been visiting in San Francisco for the past month, has returned to Medford. While in the southern city she was guest of honor at several social events.

Miss Pearl Hall of Lakeview was a guest this week at the home of her brother, Court Hall of Medford.

Local Artists Will Entertain Women In Coming Convention

"Relax! Relax!" five dashing young maidens cry—and as they dance their way through the Three Arts Revue, "Two Feet High," everyone is going to do that very thing. Rehearsals of the musical comedy, to be presented Saturday evening, May 16 in the Junior high school auditorium for entertainment of delegates to the state convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and invited guests, are bringing to light much talent Medford didn't know she possessed. Cast for the comedy, directed by Tom Swem, includes of course such well known local artists as Jo Murray Rostel and Fletcher Fish, who recently appeared in the laugh provoking comedy-drama, "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh," and Dixie Ambler Harvey, local dancing instructor.

Hector Fox, however, who takes the part of the office boy Danny, is appearing on the Medford stage for the first time as is his brother, Douglas Fox, and Lanore Dalara, who make their local debuts in dance specialties. The last three named were formerly with Fanchon & Marco and will entertain the crowd with clever and intricate dance steps.

The curtain will raise on a prologue in which will appear the stenographer and office boy choruses, composed of students of Miss Ruth Luy's dancing classes.

First act of the clever dialogue, composed by Mary Greiner Kelly, will follow with the cast of characters interpreting the theory of Dr. Olga Stastnty, "Put Your Feet on the Desk," which is also the subject of the theme song, composed for the comedy by Miss Jeunesse Butler, along with the other song numbers.

A dream interlude introduces another chorus, students of Dixie Ambler Harvey's a specialty tap dance by Douglas Fox and a love song, sung by William Kirkpatrick, and interpreted by Lanore Dalara in her leading dance number.

The entire cast appears in the grand finale to sing with increased emphasis, "Put Your Feet on the Desk."

Local Girl Appears In University Show

Friends in this city of Miss Ellow Mae Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wilson, are interested in learning that she was one of the students chosen to participate in the junior vaudeville, recently presented by the University of Washington student body in Meany hall, Seattle. Miss Wilson, who has entertained local people with her solos many times, sang and whistled "You're The Theme of My Love Song," with orchestra accompaniment. This song, composed by a student won first place in the contest held prior to the vaudeville.

Miss Erma Templeton was hostess Wednesday evening at the past week to a group of friends at her home on Park avenue. Cards were the leading diversion of the evening.

The following officers will be installed at the final meeting of the Washington Parent-Teachers association Friday, May 16: Mrs. Hodgkins, president; Mrs. Grout, first vice president; Mrs. Childers, secretary; Mrs. Coverstone, treasurer.

Past Matrons Give Luncheon for Alpha Chapter of Ashland

Bouquets of columbine, iris, bridal wreath and other spring flowers, combined with sprays of smilax and corsages given each past matron in attendance, created a beautiful table for the luncheon given Monday by past matrons of Reames Chapter, O. E. S. for past matrons of Alpha chapter of Ashland at Hotel Medford.

Covers were laid for forty-two and a delightful program enjoyed during the luncheon. Two harp solos were played by Betty Stennett and Mrs. C. O. Larison, soprano, entertained the guests with two numbers.

Following the luncheon the guests adjourned to the Masonic club rooms which were decorated in dogwood blossoms, red peonies, iris and bridal wreath. Here cards and pool were enjoyed for several hours, high score for Ashland ladies was held by Mrs. Mabel Kinney and high score for Medford ladies by Mrs. Ann Brayton.

Chairmen of committees responsible for the success of the event were: Mrs. Edna Isaacs, program; Mrs. W. H. McGowan, reception; Mrs. Jennie Merritt, decorating, and Mrs. C. D. Thompson, cards.

Miss Loomis Campus Guest

Miss Adelle Loomis, who with her mother, Mrs. Edith Loomis, has been a guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Thayer, of Medford for two weeks, spent several days during the past week visiting friends at Oregon State college, Corvallis. While in the northern city Miss Loomis was entertained at the Alpha Chi Omega sorority of which she is a member.

Picnic Postponed.

The Oregon State College picnic which was to have been held Monday, May 19, has been postponed until May 26 on account of the Al G. Barnes circus being shown in Medford on that day.
