Merit Circle Honors Mrs. L. L. Robinson
Thursday afternoon the Merit circle of the Presbyterian church met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. W. Merritt. There was a short business meeting for reports and unfinished business after which the ladies were entertained in a most delightful social as guests of Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. H. S. Garfield, honoring Mrs. L. L. Robinson, one of the active members who leaves Sunday to spend the summer in Massachusetts.

In keeping with the season, a list of flower anagrams was passed around. A rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but carnation in an anagram loses much of its beauty. Mrs. Claude Porter succeeded in bringing one hundred percent order out of chaos, another demonstration of her executive ability, and was rewarded with a charming bouquet of waxed sweet peas.

A search was then made for flowered place cards and the fifteen ladies found seats at tables in the dining room. Colors of pink and green predominated throughout the room and the table was beautiful with candles, silver and glass service.

Mrs. Merritt spoke a few words of appreciation of Mrs. Robinson's past help in the circle and her ever ready willingness to do any line that presented to itself, and expressed the circle's regret at losing her for the summer, their best wishes for her trip, and hopes for her return in the fall. She then presented Mrs. Robinson with a box of waxed carnations, to keep the memory of her friends fresh in her mind. There was also a souvenir booklet in which all present wrote their names and best wishes for a pleasant trip.

Pocahontas Lodge Entertains With Dance
One of the social events of the week was a dance given by the Pocahontas lodge at the Redmen hall Friday evening.

The hall was decorated with Japanese lanterns which added much to the gaiety of the affair. Several clove dances, along with music furnished by Dickey's orchestra, helped everyone enjoy the evening. The committee in charge of the entertainment was composed of Harriet Watson, Dorothy Dickey and Jack Dooms.

Refreshments were served at a late hour in the banquet room, where the tables were lovely with bouquets of sweet peas. Those on the refreshment committee were Maude Abbott, Millie Numoyer and Glenn Abbott.

Hostess at Dinner

College Mothers Are Guests in Corvallis

Mothers of Oregon State college students are being entertained today in Corvallis. The annual mothers' week-end festivities opened yesterday morning. Invitations were sent out to 3600 mothers of men and women students.

A reception was given last night in the Memorial Union building in honor of the mothers followed by the annual banquet at which Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, former mayor of Seattle, was speaker.

An annual all-women's Barometer was published for the mothers by the co-ed journalists. Dehlla Hawkins, Klamath Falls, acting as editor; Mildred Kramer, Portland, business manager; Elayne Seating, Portland, and Dorothy Crawford, Oregon City, associate editors with Florence Hoagland, Astoria, feature editor.

Local Girl Pledged To Music Honorary

Miss Geraldine Thompson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thompson of Medford and student at the University of Oregon, has been pledged to Phi Beta, national music and drama honorary. She will play in a string quartet at a vesper service in honor of Mother's Day, today, at the university. The program is given by Tau Delta Delta members. She will play the viola.

Miss Thompson will also play several violin numbers in a public recital in the Music building on the evening of May 29. Her selections are "The Waves of Balaton," Hubay; "Rigandon" and "Minuet" by Mozart.

She is studying violin and viola with Rex Underwood and doing orchestra and ensemble work.

Activities of Legion Auxiliary

This coming Monday night the American Legion Auxiliary will honor its mothers and charter members. Just two weeks ago the 8th of May, a band of twelve women answered the call of George Coddling, the commander of the Medford post of the American Legion at that time, and met at the public library to form an auxiliary. Several clubs composed of mothers and relatives of men in service were in existence at that time, among them the Next of Kin club and an auxiliary to Medford's own company. These merged into the auxiliary in 1920.

The "Next of Kin club" presented their service flag, which they had stitched during the war, to the new auxiliary and to this day it is one of its most cherished memorials and appears at all appropriate functions.

The first officers were: Mrs. Mary E. Jacobs, president; Mrs. S. L. Leonard, 1st vice president; Mrs. R. A. Holmes, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Lorraine Cornish, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. B. H. Bryant, chaplain.

The charter petition was held open a month or so and when it finally left for headquarters it had over a hundred thereon.

The work of this organization is well known. Prevention of war by preparedness, unending help to the veterans and his family, and community service are outstanding rays from their spectrum. The work is as varied and shaded as the color spectrum.

An invitation is extended to all charter members, Gold Star Mothers, Mothers of Legionnaires and Mothers of Auxiliary members to come as guests of the auxiliary to help celebrate this Founders Day. A pleasant evening renewing old acquaintances and reminiscences is planned. The program chairman has arranged an interesting program. Eight o'clock at the armory.

A most enjoyable hour's entertainment has been arranged and a large audience is already assured.

The Pocahontas and Redmen will get together in a big powwow Monday evening with a 6 o'clock covered dish dinner in honor of the great Redman chief, St. Tammany. After the dinner there will be dancing and a short program, along with a few speeches.

Funds will be raised for the June 14th entertainment at which time great chefs of California, Oregon and Washington will meet in Medford for a monster powwow.

Mrs. Chas. Strong is in Seattle this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Helen Holmes and young granddaughter.

OREGON PRISON HELD FIRE TRAP; CHANGES URGED

SALEM, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—A survey just completed by the state fire marshal's department and made public today says the Oregon state penitentiary is obsolete, inadequate, and a serious fire hazard.

Installation of reasonable safeguards would not materially improve the plant and only a new building will bring permanent relief from the existing hazards.

The survey, however, makes a number of recommendations among which is the installation of three pumps with a capacity of not less than 1000 gallons per minute. One of the pumps would replace all the old and inefficient pumps now in use and the other two would be placed outside the prison walls in a building constructed of fire-resisting material and located near the flume, an entire new water system, also is recommended.

Other recommendations include automatic sprinkler system, to be installed in the flax plant, commissary department, hospital, basement, dining room, first and second floor of the chapel and other strategic positions; replacement of present heating plant; that all wood ceiling partitions on the second floor of the chapel be removed and wooden stairways be lined with metal lath and hard cement plaster; and that a fire brigade be organized and drilled at least once a week.

CAPONE BEGS FOR LAW'S PROTECTION AS MIAMI NAGS

MIAMI, Fla., May 10.—(AP)—Alphonse Capone, Chicago gang leader, today sought protection of state courts from the announced plan of Miami City officials to arrest him whenever he is found within the city. His federal court plea yesterday for such protection was fruitless.

The legal tangle in which Capone has found himself, since arriving at his Miami Beach residence April 29, was enlarged today with the arrest of Nathan Grobstein, Miami real estate man, on a contempt of court charge that he offered Circuit Judge Paul D. Burns $5,000 "or more if necessary" to decide padlock proceedings instituted against Capone's palatial Palm Island home "according to law."

In an order issued out of Judge Burns' office, Grobstein was assigned to jail until further notice. The order said Grobstein approached the judge on two occasions with the offer. Attorneys for Capone said the man had come to them with a proposition to have the case decided for them but said they had refused to listen to him.

CLEAN-UP WEEK WELL UNDERWAY

In conjunction with Clean-up Week the Garden club yesterday distributed bulbs and shrubs to people living along the highways of the county, to plant for decorative purposes, and Boy Scouts inspected yards. It is expected the coming week will see a general interest. The Garden club is taking an active interest and the county and city officials are co-operating.

EUGENE, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessie Honeyman, chairman of the Eugene Garden club committee in charge of the annual clean-up campaign in Lane county, said tonight that Lane county highways had been given a thorough cleaning by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other groups that have been working in the campaign.

This writer once rode in such an elevator in London. It moved slowly, the cars attached in an endless chain, that turned around and came down without turning upside down.

An inventive mind could make a fortune with endless chains of express and slow elevators.

Tomorrow will be Mother's day. For a man fortunate enough to have his mother there should be 365 Mother's days, every year, and 366 in leap years.

A man needing to be reminded of his mother by her "day" might remember that the best present is something pretty.

CADAVALS, Portugal, May 10.—(AP)—Wine growers of this important wine district have been fighting a new scourge which attacked the vines, this spring. The most powerful poison sprays have had little effect upon the parasite.
