

Adrienne's Attractive Eureka Apparel Shop Is Now Open

Adrienne Steward's third apparel shop for women was opened April 18 in Eureka, Cal. She is carrying out plans which Mr. and Mrs. Steward had been formulating for some time.

Handelman, formerly head of Adrienne's store at Grants Pass. With the opening of the Eureka shop Adrienne now employs from 15 to 25 girls and women. All of the office work is taken care of at Medford, and the local store is also the distributing center for the other branches. "We are well pleased with the reception our California store has met thus far, and the association of shops enables us to feature special exclusive lines of women's apparel." Mr. Steward said yesterday. The same high quality is carried in all three cities. In 1921 Adrienne started in business on a small scale in this city and since that time has built up an ever-increasing patronage.

PAYROLL BANDITS MAKE DEBUT IN TROPICAL LAND

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 10.—(AP)—A payroll robbery near Bucaramanga today, something new in Colombian crime, resulted in the death of Paul Leroy Keating of 602 Clay St., paymaster for the Tropical Oil company.

Keating, accompanied by three other employees and a member of the constabulary, was carrying payroll funds of 25,000 pesos (about $11,200) in a pay car and had reached the plant that was his goal safely.

When he began paying the workmen, robbers appeared and opened fire with revolvers, killing Keating. Then they seized the car and compelled the driver to speed them away, later putting him out. The Colombian government began searching for the assassins and notified the American state department it would do all it could to capture the slayers of the 35-year old American.

Because of the spectacular nature of the holdup, which has greatly excited Colombian police, believe it was the work of foreigners.

START SURVEY OF COLUMBIA MOUTH

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—United States engineers this week will begin the annual survey of the entrance to the Columbia river. It is estimated that the work will take two weeks.

The government tug G. H. Beards will carry the survey party. At the conclusion of the 1929 survey it was reported that the depth of water on the entrance narrows was 47 feet.

While the survey party is in the vicinity of the mouth of the river it will establish monuments at certain points, in accordance with certain changes in harbor lines.

CENTURY TOO LONG TO LIVE, SAYS DAVE

COPENHAGEN, May 10.—(AP)—600 sat is not an enviable lot, according to Miss Pauline Hjort, who has just died at the age of 181.

"I do not live," she said shortly before her death. "I merely survive. I am sorry that my human life I always possessed but condemned me to live on. I will be no to nobody, least of all to myself."

Miss Hjort lived nearly 50 years in Boston. She left Copenhagen in 1824 in a sailing ship and arrived in America after a six-week stormy voyage.

One of her idiosyncrasies was a dislike of the radio. "Whenever I listen to it I have an uneasy feeling of peeping through a keyhole," she said.

PEIPING, China, May 10.—(AP)—Forty-seven civilians have been killed in Chengchow, and many others injured during an aerial bombardment of northern troops by government forces.

OREGON CHIEF SEEKS HIGHER DUTY ON WOOL

Gov. Norblad Wires President Maximum Protection Essential to Keep Sheep Industry at Profitable Stage.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—Governor Norblad announced today that he had sent the following telegram to President Hoover:

"The sheep and wool industry of America is experiencing the most disastrous decline in wool and sheep values in its history. Wool declines are largely attributed to foreign importations of wool in competition with American production.

"When the present tariff law was enacted fine and fine-medium territory wool was worth from $1.50 to $1.30 per clean pound. On this date the same wool is quotable on the American market at 70 to 75 cents without any depreciation in the elements of production cost.

"Congress provided flexibility in the provisions of the tariff law to meet such emergencies as these, and I respectfully request that you use your power and give the maximum protection to American wool.

"The highest tariff that you can impose will be inadequate but it will very materially aid the American woolgrower to exist through the period of depressed values and readjustment."

PRESIDENT GETS A FULL BASKET ON ANGLING TRIP

ORANGE, Va., May 10.—(AP)—President Hoover spent today casting for trout in the waters about his Rapidan river fishing camp and emerged with the maximum allowed under Virginia law.

Hoover led his party in the day's fishing with Larry Richey, one of his secretaries next with 17 trout, three under the total caught by the president.

Others who enjoyed the day's sport which began almost after the party arrived at the mountain camp early today were Associate Justice Stone, Secretary Wilbur, Walter Hope, assistant secretary of the treasury; Captain Joel T. Boone, White House physician; Mark Sullivan, a newspaper man, and Dr. Hubert Work, former chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mr. Hoover had chosen one of the most beautiful times of the year to visit. Rhododendron was breaking into bloom as he passed over the winding mountain trail to his camp. The rock garden built at the instance and under the supervision of Mrs. Hoover also was fragrant with new spring flowers.

Leaving the White House after an early breakfast, the president and his party made a swift run to the camp. They had hardly arrived before Mr. Hoover had donned his fishing garb, high topped rubber boots and he was soon in the stream casting his favorite bait.

Loitering about the camp later he found succor from the heat of the sun and relief from political struggles. Mr. Hoover expected to return to his office Monday.

One member of the party who was unable to take full part in the day's sport was Secretary Hurley who has been resting at the camp for several days. He has suffered for weeks from a stomach ailment and this week after attending the Tuesday cabinet meeting he accepted the invitation of the president to convalesce at the Rapidan camp.

Mrs. Hoover was unable to accompany her husband. A wrenched back which she suffered last month has kept her confined to the White House.

FARMER VICTIM OF GIRL AFTER COLLEGE LIFE

Echo, Ore., Man Signs On a Dotted Line, and It Afterwards Proved to Be a Blank Check—She Was Member Magazine Crew.

PENDLETON, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—Protesting that they were "working their way through college" by selling magazine subscriptions, a crew of nineteen men and women were afloat the law here today. One girl, Dorothy Gordon, was ordered held on a check charge.

Police here says Miss Gordon approached an Echo farmer here, asking him to subscribe to a magazine. The farmer declined. The girl explained a contest idea, asking for his vote, and requesting that he write his name on a line on a folded slip of paper she gave him. The rancher did this.

The folded slip of paper was a blank check on a Walla Walla bank, police said. The girl was unable to cash it in Pendleton, but is said to have gone to La Grande where it was honored. She was taken into custody and brought back here for the district attorney.

HIRED MAN TURNS OUT EX-CONVICT

PENDLETON, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—George (Cutley) Scott, alias Clayton E. Foote, Jack O'Day and George E. Hill, an escaped prisoner, was arrested by deputy sheriffs at a ranch near Echo today. He is being held for Federal officers from Alcatraz Island prison from which he escaped in 1927. He was serving a five-year sentence for assault, robbery and desertion from the army. He is a boxer of considerable ability and had appeared on several cards in Pendleton.

JOHNSON TOLD TO CATCH PROWLER

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—Colleagues of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, whose office was ransacked last night, reminded him today he is the senate's most prolific reader of detective stories and called upon him to solve his own mystery.

"I am up a tree," confessed the senator when reminded he had a detective job of his own. "There were no tobacco ashes on the floor so I will have to give up. Like the detective of fiction, I am looking as wise as a hoot owl and saying nothing."

ISTANBUL, May 10.—(AP)—The Crocers' Guild here has complained to the Turkish government that almost everyone who falls at other business comes here and opens a grocery, with the result that there are 700 establishments, one for each 100 inhabitants. They ask the government to limit grocery licenses.
