George Bancroft Is Star of Rialto Hit

George Bancroft, the mighty thrill-man, is coming to the Fox Criterion theatre again. This time the busy Bancroft, who has become a man among men in screen-dom, will be seen and heard as Joe Forzatti, the steel worker who fights his way to success as a building construction contractor. The picture, "Ladies Love Brutes," is based on the original play, "Pardon My Glove" by Zou-Arks. According to the fascinating plot, Bancroft, having attained a moderate amount of wealth, decides that he now needs social position. He makes a play for Mary Astor, young society matron. But now comes the villainy, purveyed by Stanley Fields, racketeer and agitator, and the critical moment finds Bancroft with a big decision to make. He must choose death for his own little boy or for the child of the woman he loves. It doesn't take the mighty George long to decide that momentous crises are best overcome by the fist-cuff method, and he plunges into the battle with Fields and his toadies with telling and string effect.
