Aviation continues its progress. St. Louis yesterday celebrated quietly the anniversary of Lindbergh's great flight.

Miss Johnson, 22-year-old English girl, flying alone from England to Australia, crossed the Sea of Java, landed, for lack of fuel, then started again.

The Graf Zeppelin is above the Atlantic, under way from Spain to Brazil, flying through a part of the air ocean that had never seen a dirigible.

President Hoover yesterday reviewed warships and fighting airplanes, in an interesting "mimic battle" off the Virginia Capes, the silvery Los Angeles sailing overhead.

It was a pleasant spectacle, and President Hoover, commander in chief of the army and navy, doubtless found time to remember that one-half the air force of France could destroy everything that he saw on the water and in the air, and do it in less than half an hour.

Ex-President Coolidge, Republican but a real democrat, recently sat on the porch, before his half of a two-family house, close to the road, undisturbed by automobiles, well loaded, stopping and gazing, once every six seconds.

Mr. Coolidge said that it is the people's duty "to back the President." National success depends on this support.

On the other hand, it is the public's duty to be frank with the President, and let him know public opinion.

It is unjust to a President not to let him know the thoughts of the 115,000,000 Americans that he will never see.

Mussolini believes in emphatic words and energetic deeds to back them. Last week he told a crowd of 100,000 in Florence that Italy was prepared for everybody, France included.

Now he is adding 22 submarines to the Italian navy.

With those 22 submarines Mussolini could do a great deal to the peace of mind of France, Great Britain and other ship-owning nations.

Peace is beautiful, but Mussolini means to be ready for the other thing.

DEUEL TO BUILD NEW STRUCTURE

Fire-Gutted Building Will Be Replaced Say Owners— Loss Placed at $30,000— Russell Store Stock Loss About $50,000.

When questioned at noon today, H. S. Deuel, with other members of the family in charge of the property, indicated that a new building will take the place of the destroyed structure and it is probable that the brick walls, now standing, will be removed if thought unsafe for building purposes.

The Deuel building although not one of the oldest in Medford, was constructed in 1909.

Fire starting about 1:45 a. m. today gutted the Deuel building on East Main street and destroyed the stock of Russell's, Inc., department store with an estimated loss of $50,000, covered by insurance. Cause of the fire was still undetermined today, but the blaze is believed to have started toward the rear of the two-story structure.

The crackling of flames and odor of smoke awakened two women, Mrs. Mable Wilson and Miss Helen Peterson, and the former's daughter, Dorothea Wilson, 14, barely in time for them to escape from an apartment in the building. Every exit door they opened poured in billows of smoke and flame.

The alarm was telephoned to the fire department from the Lewis Super-Service station by M. M. Harvey, who was operating a street sweeper.

When the fire department arrived, the entire structure was a mass of flames and firemen were unable to break inside the store to save stock or place salvage covers thereon. Seven lines of hose from the city's two fire pumps were laid and firemen, aided by 15 members of the volunteer department, battled until daylight before the fire was subdued.

The heat was so intense that power lines running parallel with the building were damaged and the city's supply of electricity was off an hour before Copco electricians could remedy the trouble. The damage to electrical equipment is estimated at $500.

Flying sparks menaced adjoining buildings and started a small blaze on the roof of the Snieles Dairy and Produce company a block away. Firemen gave the building a thorough soaking. Men were on the roofs of other buildings to prevent similar occurrences.

Interior a Wreck.

Destruction by the flames was complete. The interior of Russell's store today was a total wreck and stock, upon which no value was placed.

WALTER BOWNE BUYS PROPERTY ON ROGUE RIVER

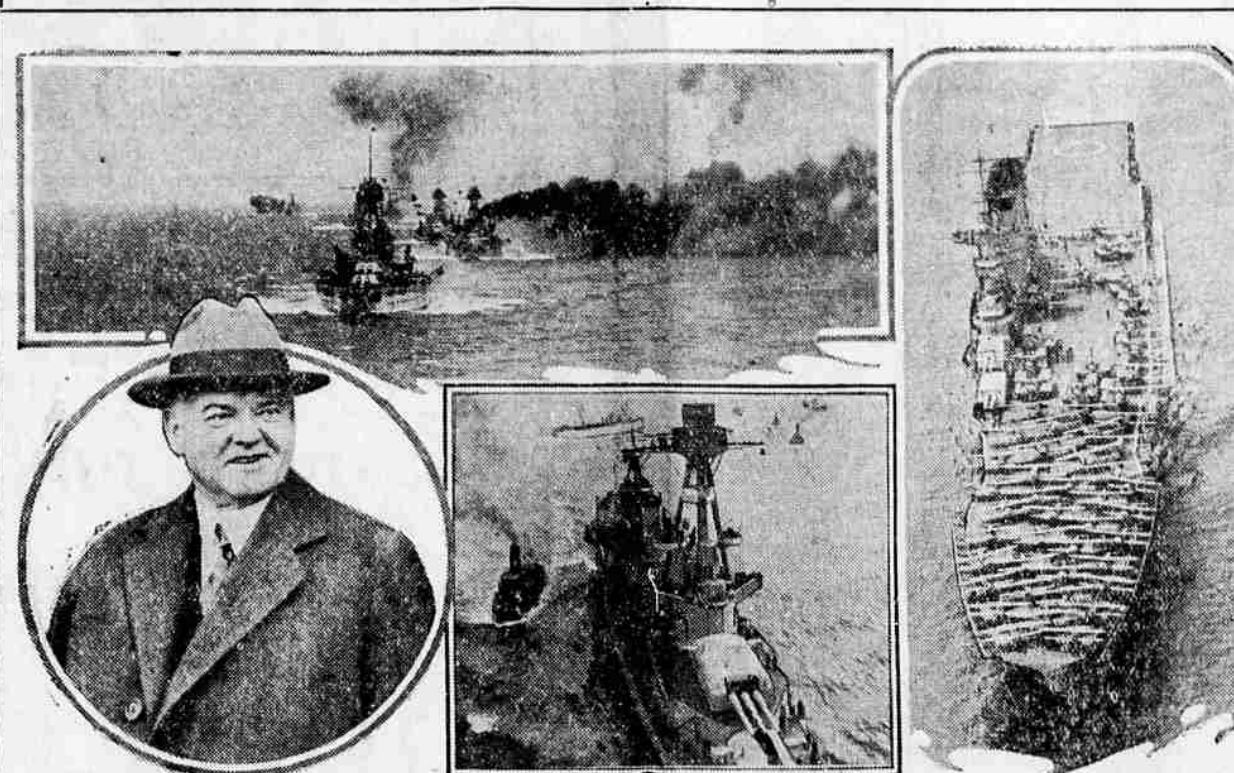

Former Resident Secures 200 Acres Near Cascade Gorge—To Build Fishing Lodge Next Year.

Walter Bowne, a former well known resident, who has returned to the valley after spending a few years in southern California, today joined many other prominent sportsmen of the Pacific coast and purchased a large tract of land on Rogue river.

Mr. Bowne plans to build a fine fishing lodge on the property but probably won't start construction until next year, using the land for fishing and camping this year.

The property consists of 200 acres on both sides of the Rogue, with three-quarters of a mile of river front and is situated just above the Peyton bridge, including the river canyon near Cascade gorge. It is said to be one of the most picturesque sections of the entire river.

CURTISS ATTORNEY'S OFFICE SEARCHED

CHICAGO, May 21.—(AP) States attorney's detectives late today raided the office of George Williamson, sought in connection with an investigation of legal fees paid to Harry K. Curtiss, son of the vice president, and found the files hurriedly rifled. Williamson was absent.

ASTORIA, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—The Portland tug, Vigilant, with six men aboard and towing an empty barge to San Francisco, was reported lost today after the craft left the mouth of the Columbia river late Monday in the face of one of the worst "blows" experienced in this section of the coast.

E. M. Cherry, British vice-consul and veteran tug-boat man, said the Vigilant, owned by the Kern and Kibbie company of Portland, crossed out from Astoria Monday in good weather and made fine time as far south as Tillamook rock. Between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon clouds appeared and by nightfall a south-west gale was blowing.

W. W. FLANDERS NEW MANAGER S. OREGON GAS

San Francisco Man Here to Assume Work of K. I. Dazey, Resigned— Policy Will Be Continued.

The policies established in the past will be continued in the future in this city by the Southern Oregon Gas corporation with W. W. Flanders, who yesterday assumed the position of manager, from which K. I. Dazey recently resigned, heading the local organization, T. A. Hopkins, vice-president, here from San Francisco, stated this afternoon.

Mr. Hopkins added, "but feel that we have in Mr. Flanders a very capable manager, who will carry out the same methods. Mr. Flanders has had much experience in the gas utility field. He will continue the policy in civic activities established by the corporation here in the past."

Speaking of Medford, Mr. Flanders, who also comes here from San Francisco, stated: "I think that it is the prettiest little city I have seen, and it has a substantial look that one does not find in California. The milk and cream here is the finest I've tasted."

Although Mr. Flanders has never before lived in Medford, he says he already feels at home for he is very well acquainted in the state of Oregon, having homesteaded a timber claim in Douglas county, soon after his arrival on the coast from the east.

Mr. Hopkins will remain in Medford for the rest of this week and perhaps longer, he explained this afternoon, if someone will take him fishing.

Mr. Dazey will leave sometime next week to assume his new position in the south.

Portland Is De After Dark, A Chamber Officials

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—More space in the night life of Portland was asked by the chamber of commerce today of the city council. The chamber asked that the ban on dancing in hotels and other public places after midnight be discontinued and that dancing be allowed until 1 a. m.

"Retail trade would be stimulated," the chamber officials said.

JACKSON IS 5TH AMONG THE WICKED

Lane County Leads State in Prison Guests, Outside of Multnomah— Cow Counties Less Wicked Than Effete Centers.

SALEM, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—Figures at the state penitentiary revealed today that Lane county, except for Multnomah county, headed the list of sending prisoners to the penal institution. Lane had 78 prisoners.

Contrary to what is ordinarily considered true the western Oregon counties where college and presumably culture abound are the law-breaking counties, and not those in the eastern part of the state that are often referred to as frontier or cow counties. Possibly population has something to do with it. An exception is Umatilla county, which comes next to Lane with a state prison enrollment of 68.

The prison population again broke all records today with 906 on the roster. By counties the commitments are: Baker 13, Benton 8, Clackamas 40, Clatsop 19, Columbia 11, Coos 21, Crook 2, Curry 2, Deschutes 11, Douglas 29, Gilliam 5, Grant 7, Harney 10, Hood River 7, Jackson 45, Jefferson 1, Josephine 11, Klamath 66, Lake 6, Lane 78, Lincoln 3, Linn 13, Malheur 17, Marion 32, Morrow 4, Multnomah 235, Polk 6, Sherman 2, Tillamook 21, Umatilla 68, Union 19, Wallowa 8, Wasco 2, Washington 23, Yamhill 22 and Wheeler 4. There are eight federal prisoners.

MEDFORD GIRL'S POSTER IS BEST PLEA FOR MILK

Esther Froehrich of Roosevelt School Depicts Fluid As Pied Piper— Many Fine Posters Made.

"The dear old cow all red and white, they love with all their hearts!" Without a doubt children of Jackson county agree with Robert Louis Stevenson in voicing an opinion of that amiable animal, most frequently brought into the newspapers by an extra high-powered kicking of the bucket or passage of a new milk ordinance.

They aren't demanding the apple tarts either, the post described in such mouth-watering syllables, so long as she produces the milk and cream, judging from the 200 posters submitted in the contest, carried out through the office of Mrs. Mabel Mack, home demonstration agent, as a feature of the program sponsored by Oregon State college to make people want to use more milk, butter and cheese.

Esther Froehrich of the Roosevelt school in Medford made the poster which was yesterday afternoon chosen by the judges as the one most complimentary to the cow, entered by students of the first class district, which includes Medford and Ashland. She will receive a $5 grand prize and a $3 first prize.

Poster Described
This poster carries the slogan, "The Modern Pied Piper of America," and pictured a pied piper carrying a bottle of milk above his head, climbing a hill toward health castle, followed by children of all ages and sizes. In addition to encouraging the people to drink more

OPENING OF EIGHTH ST. OBJECTIVE

City Council Favors Referring Matter to Public Service Commission— Committee Will Outline Plan— S. P. in Opposition.

When considering the largely signed petition, recently presented by property owners and business concerns of Eighth street, and of business men generally in the business district, that the city council take steps at once to open that thoroughfare over the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, the city council at its meeting last night decided to begin such action as soon as possible, and referred the method of action to its streets and roads committee with the understanding that if found necessary that committee prepare a plan to ask the public service commission to order the improvement in.

This decision followed the statement of Mayor A. W. Pipes that he had already been contacted by representatives of the railroad and told that the S. P. would fight any effort to open Eighth street across its tracks. The mayor, who took the lead in the discussion, stressed that the contemplated opening of the dead-end street in the business district was one of the most important and worthy projects for the welfare and the development of the city; related that it took years of negotiations and quibbling with the railroad before the latter granted the opening of Sixth street across its tracks, and said that the city officials did not want a repetition of that fight and long delay in the Eighth street opening.

Up to Commission
Therefore, as the council seemed to feel the same way, Mayor Pipes suggested that the proposed street opening be put up to the public service commission for a hearing, in hopes that the commission would order the improvement, as a public necessity.

The councilmen agreed, and the mayor's proposal was further augmented to incorporate that the recommendations of Jacob Crane, the city planning commission expert, for the opening of important dead-end streets including Eighth, Fourth and Clark streets be included in the public service hearing.

"We might not get all we asked for on the commission at such a hearing but would get something at least," the mayor said.

Inasmuch as all the councilmen—E. M. Wilson, R. B. Hammond, J. O. Grey, J. C. Collins, P. M. Kershaw, C. A. Wing, P. M. Kershaw, Eugene Thorndyke—regard the opening of Eighth street as of paramount importance to the city's welfare and were unanimous about the matter of procedure to bring it about, it appears certain that unless the Southern Pacific recedes from its reported attitude of opposition the city officials will endeavor to bring about the improvement through a public service commission hearing.

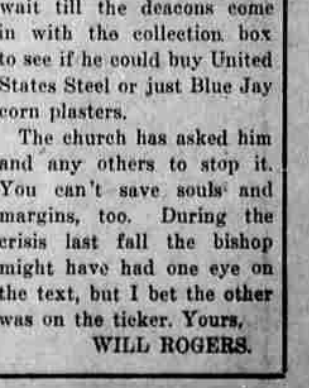

The streets and roads committee, to which the matter of a plan of procedure was referred last night, will probably make a report at the next meeting of the council. A delegation of signers of the petition and others interested was present at last night's meeting.

ASTORIA—The law firm of Norblad and Hesse, one of the oldest in the district has been dissolved. One of the partners is Governor A. W. Norblad.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 21.—See where the church freed Bishop Cannon for plunging on Wall Street. They figured a man's losses were punishment enough. Imagine a preacher having to wait till the deacons come in with the collection box to see if he could buy United States Steel or just Blue Jay corn plasters.

The church has asked him and any others to stop it. You can't save souls and margins, too. During the crisis last fall the bishop might have had one eye on the text, but I bet the other was on the ticker. Yours, WILL ROGERS.
