Gifford Pinchot wins the Pennsylvania Republican primaries and will be the next governor of Pennsylvania, probably. A wet will run against him.

Some that do not agree on the wet and dry issue with Mr. Pinchot will be glad to see in office a governor who is an exception to the rule of government by organized capital. Organized capital does not own Gifford Pinchot.

When you read this the Graf Zeppelin will have landed in Brazil. Von Wiegand, Hearst correspondent on the airship, reports a pleasant passage, with shortage of water, some passengers using cologne for bathing.

We are far from the days when the average American family waited until Saturday.

The Zeppelin voyage is a tribute to German energy, efficiency, science and determination.

France permitted the Graf Zeppelin to sail over all her West Indian colonies, except one place, on the island of Martinique.

Britain gave permission to sail over British Caribbean territory.

That nonsense about giving other nations permission to use the air should end. Anybody can use the ocean, of water, and do what he pleases on it, eight miles out. The other ocean, of air, soon to be more important, should be similarly regulated. Anybody allowed to use it, anywhere, one mile or two miles up. International law should settle that.

New York's racketeers and gunmen can teach their Chicago brethren something new in crime technique and daring.

Chicago gangsters shoot other gangsters, or, at worst, little people.

New York racketeers were displeased with Albert J. Schwarzer, wealthy contractor and property owner. Apparently, he had not obeyed their orders. They stepped up to his automobile, shot him through the body and departed in a red roadster. Schwarzer may live to realize that in our kind of civilization it is not wise to disobey racketeer gunmen.

LAKE ROAD ALL CLEAR BY SUNDAY

Earliest Opening of Snow-bound Route in History of Park—Week Marks 28th Anniversary Government Supervision.

Good news for the people of Medford and other parts of the valley, as well as tourists and other visitors, is that by tomorrow evening cars can be driven all the way to the rim of Crater Lake. It is announced by Superintendent E. C. Solinsky, who returned from a two days visit at the national park last evening, and who also announced that the snow storm of the week, during which 12 inches of fresh snow fell on top of the old snow, ended Thursday and that yesterday was bright and sunny. The snow plow will surely have the road to the rim open by Saturday evening, as well as the fresh fall off the Klamath Falls and Medford entrance roads.

Twenty-eight years ago last Thursday, Crater Lake was established as a national park by the Act of May 22, 1902 (32 Stat. 202). To the park personnel this date is accepted as the birthday of Crater national park, says the latest official park bulletin.

This season of 1930 will be recorded as the first year in the history of the park that cars have been driven to the rim of Crater Lake as early as May 24. The loop road through the park between Medford and Klamath Falls has been open to travel since April 14, which is two months earlier than in 1929, when, as in previous years, it was necessary to remove the great depths of snow from these highways with hand shovels.

The army of men who were in past years employed on this snow removal work are not in the least envious of the ability of the park's latest piece of equipment, a Snow snowplow, in its capacity toward cleaning the highways of hard-packed snow, which during this time of the year is weighted with 50 per cent of water.

The task of opening these roads this far, has been accomplished by this powerful machine and the two men who operate it, in less than 10 days, as compared with 30 many weeks, had this work been done by the more costly, old method.

During 1929 bob-sleds, hauled over the snow by a tractor, solved the transportation problem. This year, with modern snow removal equipment, the former method is passe, and all government supplies are transported into Crater Lake camps by trucks.

PHOENIX CHILD'S LIFE IS SAVED BY LOCAL MEN

Playing too close to water in an irrigation ditch this forenoon nearly cost the life of Glenn Kerr, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Kerr of Suncrest Orchard No. 28, on the highway detour road near Phoenix. The child was playing with his four-year-old sister when he slipped and fell into the ditch. The girl rushed to her mother, who stopped three Medford men—Bilas Heine, LaVerne Newman and Oliver Gaylord—who rescued the boy from the water. He had floated down the stream for a quarter of a mile and had gone through a culvert when Gaylord pulled him out of the water in an unconscious condition. Resuscitation by H. G. Frohbach of Medford, who arrived on the scene, saved the boy's life. The local men were driving by on the detour when the mother sought their aid.

Corbett of Portland for the Republican nomination for governor, says a statement of campaign expenses filed with the secretary of state today. The item reads: "Corbett-for-Governor club by Harry L. Corbett in behalf of the candidacy of Harry L. Corbett." In addition to this Corbett personally reports an expenditure of $902.87, making a total of $33,231.37.

PEAR CASE HAS MUCH INTEREST FOR FRUIT MEN

C. and E. Claim Against Oakland Cannery Concern Shows Bargain With Grower Preferred.

Trial of the suit of the C. and E. Co., of this city against the Pacific Coast Cannery, Inc., of Oakland, Cal., for some of money alleged to be due, for non-fulfillment of contract, continued today in the circuit court before Judge H. D. Norton. The case will go to the jury late tomorrow morning.

R. E. Weaver, representative of the canning company, was the principal witness yesterday and again this morning. It developed from the testimony of Weaver that canners prefer to buy direct from the growers, instead of from shippers, and that in 1928, the time the contract in litigation was in force, the price was reduced from $40 to $35 per ton, locally, to hold the price down. The plaintiff maintained the price "dynamiting the price."

Not Personal. He said there might have been some business ill-feeling, but there was no personal bitterness. Previous testimony had intimated that the air was blue upon the occasion.

Guy W. Conner, who acted as local representative of the canners, testified to business details of the contract. The case is attracting considerable attention among local shippers and growers, a dozen being slated to appear as witnesses.

The Pacific Coast Cannery, Inc., cited that by the terms of the contract the C. and E. company agreed to deliver 300 tons of Bartlett pears at $25 per ton, and ceased delivery when 18 tons had been delivered, alleging that the move was taken to take advantage of a rising price. They allege they provided 12,000 boxes for the handling of the contract, and that by the contract non-compliance they lost the use and rental of the boxes. In their counter-suit they ask $6627.27 and costs.

CROCK SEIZURES LIMITED BY LAW

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Commissioner Dorian today instructed prohibition agents that under the recent supreme court decision upholding the seizure of kegs, bottles, labels, etc., used in the manufacture of intoxicants, it was necessary for the government to produce proof that such paraphernalia was intended for use in manufacture and sale of liquor before it could be seized. He said it was erroneously believed in some quarters that seizure of empty containers and other apparatus could be made merely because they were displayed for sale.

LUMBER TRADE CITY TO OFFER CHOICE LOTS COAST REPORT NEXT MONDAY

Orders Exceed Production Realty Board Members Will Conduct Sale Delinquent Property—Half On Payment.

SEATTLE, May 23.—(AP)—Orders exceeded production in Pacific northwest mills last week for the first time since the first of the year, the West Coast Lumbermen's association reported here today. Reports from 211 mills in the Douglas fir region of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for the week ending May 17 showed that orders increased approximately 22,000,000 feet while production declined about 3,000,000 feet as compared with the previous week.

Export and local markets accounted for the increase in orders as domestic cargo and rail trade markets were unchanged. Orders reported by the same mills during the first 20 weeks of the year were 8.09 percent below their output. Reports for the first 20 weeks of this year from 303 mills which had been operating about 38 percent below capacity, showed that production was 9.81 percent below the cut during the same period last year.

Unfilled orders increased about 6,500,000 over the previous week. The city of Medford announces for sale, beginning Monday, May 26th, through the members of the Medford Realty Board, about 50 choice lots, half of which are on paved streets.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 23.—(AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson announced today his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Texas' first woman governor, would take his place as a candidate for governor in the Democratic primaries. The supreme court held today Ferguson was ineligible to make the race himself. Mrs. Ferguson was defeated for re-election by Governor Dan Moody.

Rebel Monk Savonarola Honored On Anniversary of His Execution

FLORENCE, Italy, May 23.—(AP)—Flowers were piled high today at the foot of the Neptune monument in the Signoria Square, in memory of the famous revolutionary Savonarola. At the base of the monument is a little tablet recording the fact that May 23, 1498, Savonarola was hanged and his body burned on that spot. The newspapers did not print reminders of the rebel monk's anniversary, but the fact seemed, as in other years, to have lingered in memory. People came from many quarters and deposited their floral offerings at the Savonarola tablet. Many Americans were among them. Savonarola had two great loves—the Christian religion and the republic of Florence. He proclaimed Christ king of Florence and placed himself in opposition to the ruling Medici family. For a time, with the aid of King Charles VIII of France, Savonarola ruled, based on the law of Christ, prevailed in Florence. But Savonarola went too far and the people of Florence turned against him. In some quarters he is regarded as a forerunner of the reformation.

HIGHWAY IN USE AGAIN IN 42 DAYS

Concrete Completed Soon Is Report — Open Parts of Route As Spreading of Black Top Progresses—Weather Hindered.

The concrete shoulders will be completed within six or seven days on the five and .87 miles of new highway under construction south of Medford and laying of the black top started immediately. J. H. Neef, state highway residential construction engineer, located in the First National Bank building during repair of the Pacific highway, stated this morning. About 42 working days will be required to complete construction of the new strip but part of it will be opened to night traffic as soon as pouring of the black top is started. The highway is now open from 12th street to the city limits and will be opened as the black top is poured except where the concrete shoulders are "green."

Constant traffic over the detour now used is rapidly wearing down the road. Mr. Neef stated and considerable time is spent trying to keep it in condition. Traffic on light days averages over 840 cars in eight hours traveling this road, a recent check proved. Every effort is being made by the state to have the Pacific highway open again at the earliest possible date. The weather has interfered with the progress of the work, Mr. Neef explained, by affecting both the road and the paving materials.

The contractor on the job has men employed exclusive of those at the gravel plant and 10 trucks endeavoring to rush the project through. With traffic increasing at the customary rate with arrival of the tourist season the detour cannot be expected to hold up, Mr. Neef stated, although it is being repaired frequently to accommodate the many cars now taking that route. In view of this fact, the state will take no chances on delaying the work and it is hoped that weather conditions will be favorable to completion of the program.

WATCH IDENTIFIES SISKIYOU SKELETON

SHASTA PASS, Ore., May 23.—(AP)—Sheriff E. H. Lister returned here today from the Siskiyou mountains where he identified a skeleton, found by an Indian, as that of Fred Eberhardt, who was lost in the wilderness during a hunting trip in November, 1913. The skeleton was found on the head waters of Lost creek. Identification, the sheriff said, was made by a watch found near the bones.

QUOTA BASIS IN FAVOR OF JAPS TO BE SOUGHT

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—(AP)—A resolution requesting congress to consider the Japanese exclusion act and place citizens of that country seeking admittance to the United States on a quota basis, is expected to be carried before the general meeting in today's final session of the seventeenth annual convention of the National Foreign Trade council.

The resolution, sponsored by the Portland, Oregon, delegation yesterday was circulated among the 2000 delegates in printed form, and a copy of it was given to the chair. No official vote was taken, however. Members of the Portland group said they would insist that official recognition of the matter be taken before the close of the convention.

FISH INTERESTS ARE LATE WITH PROTEST VIEWS

Should Have Acted Years Ago When Poaching at Height — Canning Not Factor Now, Is Claim. In reply to the article published yesterday in The Mail Tribune regarding the commercial fishermen's criticism of the game commission's recommendation for closing of Rogue River, members of the Jackson County Game Protective association stated this morning that the Commercial Fishermen's association should have started making all the fuss a few years ago when poaching and bootlegging were at their height. Instead of waiting for the people to take action in the case.

The Rogue River committee added that no objection would be made to the commercial fishermen making any statements they wish to the game commission, as it is the duty of that body to protect the interests of all the state, not just those of the people at the mouth of the Rogue. And that they have no fears regarding the stand the commission will take to protect the people's interests.

No Longer Factor. It was pointed out that the commercial fishermen at the mouth of the river have ceased to be a factor to be reckoned with from either a commercial or industrial standpoint. The Macloy cannery, which is supposed to get 60 per cent of the fish, packed only 1700 cases of Chinook salmon during the past year. When it is considered, the local sportsmen added, that 75,000 to 100,000 cases of salmon make up the average pack for a profitable cannery, it would not appear that there are enough fish left in Rogue River to make commercial operations pay.

SHASTA TRAINS SPEED UP JUNE 15TH IS NOTICE

Faster schedules for Southern Pacific coast and transcontinental trains will become effective June 15th, according to James A. Ormandy, passenger traffic manager, who reports a general speeding up of practically all Southern Pacific trains on that date. Four Shasta Route trains between Portland and San Francisco and Los Angeles will be affected in the revision of schedules. Southbound time of the Shasta will be reduced 50 minutes; northbound, 40 minutes, making the run between Portland and San Francisco in 25 hours and 40 minutes, via the Siskiyou line.

Under the new schedule, both north and southbound Shasta time here will be changed, the trains arriving in Medford at a more convenient time and reaching San Francisco and Portland earlier than at present. The schedule will be as follows: Shasta Southbound. Leave Portland 8:10 a. m. Leave Medford 7 p. m. Arrive San Francisco 9:50 a. m. Shasta Northbound. Leave San Francisco 7:40 p. m. Arrive Medford 10:40 a. m. Arrive Portland 9:20 p. m.

LEP BEGINS FLIGHT AT SUNSET

Third Lap of Journey Will Take Big Airship South From Pernambuco—First Sight of Dirigible in Brazil Creates Stir.

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 23.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin was moored safely today to a squat red and white mast here at the end of its first trans-equatorial flight and its sixth trans-Atlantic crossing. Tonight, after the tropical sun was set, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the ship's master, will start it on the third lap of its 18,000 mile journey from Friedrichshafen, still further southward to Rio Janeiro.

The Graf arrived over Camp Giquia, the landing field here at 6:30 p. m. (4:30 p. m., E. S. T.) just 61 hours from the time it circled La Tablada airbase twice at Seville, Spain, and started south eastward toward Brazil. Its nineteen passengers and crew disembarked, happy at being once more on terra firma, but there was not the atmosphere of having survived successfully an hazardous ordeal such as old timers in Zeppelin traffic among them said had existed after previous flights. After a rather elaborate reception they all sought beds in hotels here.

Eckener Hails Brazil. Dr. Eckener gave a message to the Brazilian press: "I salute the great Brazilian people and wish for them peace and prosperity, which is my hope also for all the people of the two American continents. I hope that this glorious flight for my fatherland may be received by you as a solemn demonstration of the fraternity between Germany and the two Americas."

Arrival of the Graf created a sensation here. It was the first time a dirigible has been seen in these parts and people came from all over northeastern Brazil, many from surprising distances from out of the way places. As the huge ship hove into view the crowd cheered themselves hoarse. When finally it had been pulled to earth guards almost had to fight with the crowd to keep them away.
