THE HOME OF BREAD LIKE MOTHER MADE

DO YOU REMEMBER

Do you remember when mother used to bake—and how when we came home from school—that odor of the fresh bread just made us so hungry we could hardly wait until mother cut the fresh crust slice and spread it with jam. And such crust, childish appetite, you will say—may be so—but let's be sure. Suppose we get some of the same kind of bread—and see if we'll relish it the same as ever.

And you can get the same kind—made from the same materials—and baked in the same way.—Come in tomorrow and get your Sunday's supply—you will relish it as of old—and it may be some satisfaction to know that your childhood relish of food is not just a memory—but is still with you when you have the same kind of food.
