

“Lest We Forget”

BUY A POPPY!

All America honors the soldiers, sailors and marines who fought in the great world war. These heroes struggled and died for the principles of enduring liberty we now enjoy. The peace and prosperity of this great commonwealth is their heritage. We must honor them; we must not forget them!

The rumble of big guns and the shout of men in battle have become a distant echo. They have given way to the hum and roar of mills and factories. Though America's great war is but a memory, let us ever keep fresh in our minds the sacrifices of her heroes—those who made the world safe for civilization and democracy!

So that we might enjoy the peace, prosperity and liberty we now enjoy, thousands of valiant heroes fought and died on the battlefields of France. Their blood of sacrifice turned the poppies of Flanders to a darker hue and today these poppies are blooming, where the legions of war once fought, with greater glory.

These same poppies on the battle-scarred fields of France are inspiration for America's little memorial poppy, fashioned by the hands of those same heroes who now are suffering in veterans' hospitals. We could pay no higher tribute to America's ideals and to those who made so much sacrifice for us than to buy a Memorial Poppy.

We must brighten the lives of these heroes—make their lives a little more worth living—WE MUST NOT FORGET—we must BUY A MEMORIAL POPPY!
