TIMES TOLL IS SEEN IN G.A.R. RANK

Only Five Veterans in Local Parade—Exercises at Bridge Honor Navy Dead
— Patriotic and Civic Bodies in Ceremonies.

The Memorial parade of today was equal to, and in the opinion of many surpassed the Memorial day parades of previous years, the threatening weather not deterring many hundreds of members of patriotic, military and civic organizations and the youth of the city turning out in memory of the soldier dead of past wars.

The parade moved at 9:30 and the long line of march found its way down Main street to the Bear Creek bridge where the customary exercises were held, honoring the memory of those who had given their life on water in past wars of the United States. A well arranged program at the city park followed this feature of the Memorial Day observance.

Glaring evidence that time is making deep inroads into the ranks of G. A. R. members, veterans of the civil war, was the presence of only five veterans, three of whom walked with sturdy step in the head of the procession, two riding in the car behind. The G. A. R. was represented by William Colvig, J. C. Woods, William Bayor, H. H. Wallace and Frank Mengoz, the latter of whom has passed the age of 81 years. The presence of William Lyman, who had never missed a Memorial Day observance and parade, was missed. He has been sick for months past.

Bands Play Dirge
Sombre, overcast skies, with raindrops falling occasionally, added to the solemnity of the day, impressed further by funeral dirges played by the Elks and high school bands in the line of march. Sergeant Grover Owen, United States Army recruiting officer, and a soldier of long years standing, riding a spirited brown horse, was parade marshal. The line of march was as follows: Elks band, Oregon National Guard, Headquarters Company, O. N. G., Civil War Veterans, Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Union Veterans, Daughters of the American Revolution, Spanish American War Veterans, 23 marchers, Spanish American Auxiliary, American Legion drum corps, American Legion members, Jackson County Humane Society, Salvation Army, Royal Neighbors, Poppy Float, American Legion Auxiliary, De Moley chapter, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Junior high school marchers.

The humane society entered a decorated car in the parade in memory of dogs and horses killed in past wars. The machine was heavily decorated with flowers.

Honor Navy Dead
The parade paused at the Bear Creek bridge to pay homage to the navy and soldier dead. Rev. W. H. Eaton delivered the invocation and heads of several hundred people were bowed and bared, with tears stealing from the eyes of many.

Members of the W. B. C. cast flowers on the muddy waters of the creek, members of a small procession casting a few flowers each, striking the sluggish waters and floating westward to the sea in memory of sailor men who had died in conflicts fought on the water. A squad of Oregon National Guardsmen fired three rounds into the air as salute in memory of soldier dead.

The ever sad taps, blown on

Baby Kidnaped From Homestead By Black Bear

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 25, 1928.—(AP)—The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Gosko, homesteaders west of here, is believed to have been carried away from the cabin yesterday by a black bear.

The bear was seen about the home in the afternoon, and a little while later the mother hastened to neighbors for the baby, who had wandered into the yard.

Farmers and provincial police joined in a search.

ZEP DUE IN LAKEHURST TOMORROW

Shortage of Fuel Causes
Change in Plan to Visit
Havana—Making 65
Miles Per Hour at Dawn
Today, Is Information.

(By the Associated Press.)
The Graf Zeppelin will reach her American home port at Lakehurst, N. J., sometime tomorrow morning on a direct journey from the island of Porto Rico, over which she was reported at 5:04 a. m. today.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, in a radio message, today made known he could not go to Havana, Cuba. Shortage of fuel, due to a shortening of the Graf's load at Puerto Rico, where the dirigible was water-soaked, was believed by observers to have been the cause of the changed plan.

At dawn the Graf was approximately 1,600 miles from Lakehurst. She was making 65 miles an hour on a straight northeasterly course, radio advices from San Juan, Porto Rico, stated.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(AP)—The navy department was notified by the naval radio station at San Juan, Porto Rico, today that the Graf Zeppelin had passed over there at 2:44 a. m. E. S. T. No further information was contained in the message.

The message was sent at 5:04 a. m., E. S. T., while the airship was above San Juan, Porto Rico.

It read: "Heading for Lakehurst directly. Expect arrive there Saturday morning."

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(AP)—The third contingent of Gold-Star mothers, numbering 257, arrived here today aboard the steamer, George Washington, and left shortly afterward for Paris, like those preceding them, they will visit the graves of their war dead who are buried in France.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hutchins of Oakland, Cal., aged 91, led the procession of mothers down the ship's gangplank on the arm of Consul Houck. Their trip, she said, was pleasant. Others said that she was the life of the party coming over.

During the crossing the mothers elected Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, aunt of Congressman James of Michigan, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier at Paris. All aboard were presented with medals on which the steamer's likeness had been engraved.

COUNTRY IN HOMAGE TO WAR DEAD

Graveyards of America Visited in Annual Memorial Day Services—Tomb of Unknown Soldier Scene of Ceremony By Vets.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(AP)—America today honored its soldier dead.

From the broad fields of Arlington and Gettysburg to the graveyards which dot the countryside, the tombs of those who fell in their nation's defense were set apart for special Memorial day ceremonies and decoration.

The spirit of the anniversary was optimized at the site of the great Civil war conflict in services reaching their culmination in an address by President Hoover.

The chief executive and a small party of friends left early in the day by motor for the great national cemetery dedicated by Abraham Lincoln with his famous Gettysburg address.

Ceremonies here converged upon the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington.

Places Wreath
They were made especially notable by the presence of Sergeant Edward S. Younger, who nine years ago designated the unidentified doughboy that should become the unknown, by placing a wreath of roses upon one of four caskets in a small makeshift chapel at Chalons-sur-Marne, France. It was arranged that Younger should place a similar wreath on the handsome marble slab beneath which the unknown rests.

Brief services at the tomb were arranged also by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled Veterans, with the annual ceremonies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of the Potomac, following shortly afterward in the amphitheatre close by.

Two tombs at the national (Episcopal) cathedral were marked also for special honors. They were those of Woodrow Wilson and Admiral George Dewey. A wreath from the White House was prepared for the former, together with one from the Woodrow Wilson foundation.

MEMORIAL DAY

WASHINGTON, May 30.—(AP)—An assertion that most Washington lobbyists are "simple parasites preying upon the public" was made today by Chairman Caraway of the senate lobby committee in a review of the accomplishments of the committee's seven months' investigation.

As the life of the committee neared an end Caraway told newspaper men that the vast majority of the lobbyists are simply taking advantage of the "stupidity or desires of individuals and groups away from Washington."

"They serve no useful purpose," he asserted, adding that if the public has followed the investigation it will refrain from supporting "these utterly disreputable and selfish interests." Caraway explained, however, that there were groups which were "honestly seeking to bring about helpful legislation or executive action" and he did not intend to reflect upon them.

"All agree," he said, "that every citizen has the right to present his views on any public matter to any branch of the government. To do so is not only a constitutional right but is a right that should be exercised."

"The investigation has given a fairly accurate picture of the leading groups who have infested Washington and sought to influence legislation and executive action for a number of years."

"In most cases it pretty clearly appeared that the chief concern of the lobbyists was to find credulous people and induce them to contribute funds which were alleged to be accumulated for the purpose of accomplishing ends they professed to seek."

Money Wasted
"But in very many instances the contributions found their way into the pockets of the professional lobbyists."

"Of the hundreds of associations and individuals who are domiciled in Washington, and who may properly be described as lobbyists, the vast majority are simply preying upon the stupidity or desires of individuals and groups away from Washington and whatever money is contributed is pocketed."

"They make no effort to influence legislation or executive action and have no influence to accomplish either. They are simply parasites preying upon the public. They serve no useful purpose."

"However much they may profess, the fact is that most of them have no speaking acquaintance with anyone in the legislative or administrative branches of the government."

The coroner's jury after investigating the shooting pronounced death due to accident.

Superintendent Amrine advised the other convicts that prison officials would stand "no foolishness." They quieted down after Mazello had been shot.

For several days the convicts had been causing disturbances in the cell blocks by destroying stools, bed clothing and other furnishings.

Students Bathtub Voyage; Plug Comes Out

PORTLAND, Ore., May 30.—(AP)—In the good old days a man could put to sea in a tub if he liked and fall in with many adventures.

But in these days of modern plumbing adventuring in tubs is ruined.

Two Columbia university students, who prefer not to have their names mentioned, set out in a bathtub this week and attempted to paddle it from the campus to the Portland airport.

The plug came out.

PEN GUARD SLAYS CON IN ESCAPE

Ohio Prison Farm Scene of Riot—47 Attempt to Bathe From Cell Block—Unruly Men Transferred From State Pen.

LONDON, Ohio, May 30.—(AP)—Sam Mazello, Trumbull county convict, was shot to death today when prison guards at the London prison farm fired on 47 convicts who attempted to batter their way from the cell block.

The convicts attempted to break from the cell block and when they refused to obey instructions of the guards to quiet down they were fired upon. Bullets struck Mazello in the heart and head.

The unruly prisoners were among the delegation brought over to the prison farm from the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus following the fire of April 21 in which 320 convicts perished. They had been causing disturbances in the prison farm cell block for more than 48 hours.

Fired on Order
The guards fired on the rioters on orders of Superintendent W. F. Amrine. No prison wall surrounds the farm and after escaping from the cell block the prisoners would have had free access to the outside.

Mazello, who was 29 years of age, was received at the Ohio penitentiary in 1925 to serve one to 15 years for burglary and larceny. He was paroled in 1926 and returned two years later as a parole violator.

The coroner's jury after investigating the shooting pronounced death due to accident.

Superintendent Amrine advised the other convicts that prison officials would stand "no foolishness." They quieted down after Mazello had been shot.

ARNOLD IS WINNER IN AUTO RACE

One Death and Accidents
Mar Annual Indianapolis
Event—Young Chicago
Driver Gains $55,000 in Prizes—Canton Second.

SPEEDWAY, INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—(AP)—Billy Arnold, youthful Chicago driver, won the 200-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Speedway today by 10 miles, with a record-smashing crowd of 165,000 cheering him to victory.

Arnold won close to $55,000 in cash prizes. His time was 4:58:39.72, an average of 100.448 miles an hour.

Arnold led from start to finish, with the exception of two laps. He drove the entire distance, stopping only once in the 278th mile to take in fuel and change tires.

William "Shorty" Canton, Detroit, finished second, three laps behind Arnold.

As Arnold got the checkered flag signaling him as the winner, the crowd cut loose with a tremendous cheer.

Arnold is a graduate of the dirt tracks and a protégé of Cliff Woodbury, noted Chicago driver, who gave up racing after a serious accident a year ago.

Canton's time was 5:05:57.18, an average of 90.054 miles an hour.

Schneider, finishing third, covered the distance in 5:08:30.85, an average of 97.241 miles an hour.

Arnold drove a straight eight, front drive car, the first of its kind to win the 500-mile race.

Louis Meyer of Southgate, Cal., finished fourth. His time was 5:14:57.97, an average of 9.253 miles an hour.

SPEEDWAY, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—(AP)—With a record smashing crowd of 165,000 viewing the spectacle, Billy Arnold, care-free 23-year-old Chicagoan, led the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway today at the 200-mile mark.

Arnold had reeled off the 200 miles in 1:57:28.81, averaging 102.143 miles an hour.

Accidents and motor trouble had knocked 17 of the original 35 cars out of the race.

Two major accidents tinged the nerves of the spectators watching the drivers in their death-defying dash around the two and a half mile track.

In one smash-up, six cars were in collision when a car owned by Peter de Paolo, but driven by Fred Roberts, of Danville, Ill., swerved and collided with a car piloted by Marion Drexler, of Indianapolis. Four other cars crashed into them.

Crash Into Wall.
Cy Marshall, Indianapolis driver and his brother, Paul, of Detroit, riding as mechanic were seriously injured when the speeding car crashed into the railing wall on the treacherous north turn, went completely over it and dropped 25 feet to the ground below.

Arnold had won $3700 in lap prizes, receiving $100 for each lap in which he led. He was leading the race from the start.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 30.—Funny to watch these senators switching back and forth on prohibition. Jones, an ardent dry, says he will go wet in a minute if enough wets will vote for him to keep him in there. Walsh of Montana says he would rather change his mind that his present address. Sheppard of Texas hedged out the same way. He would be only too pleased to represent Texas even if they wanted slavery and manslaughter and poor Freylinghausen is waiting to see if the mosquitoes in New Jersey are wet or dry before he changes for the 12th time. Politics is a great character builder. You have to take a referendum to see what your convictions are for that day.

Robert W. Sawyer, removed yesterday from the state highway commission by Governor Norblad, announced in a signed statement today that he will not contest the governor's action. Rumors had it yesterday when the governor issued the removal order, that Sawyer would challenge Norblad's authority in removing him.

Sawyer said that shortly after the May primary Norblad visited him and assured him that there were to be no changes in the state highway commission personnel. The governor's announcement yesterday came to him as a distinct surprise, Sawyer declared.

The Bend publisher said he was at a loss to understand Governor Norblad's statement that Sawyer was not in sympathy with the Roosevelt highway program. In his signed statement Sawyer suggested that the governor release to the public all communications that have passed between the two men and let the people of Oregon judge for themselves whether he was in favor of or opposed to the coast highway.

"Although Governor Norblad gave his reasons in the case of the two other removals made at practically the same time as mine," Sawyer said, "he is reported as saying as to mine that he never liked explanations. Under the circumstances it is not difficult to explain this dislike."
