

MERITS OF DOG ARE DISCUSSED IN LOCAL CASE

The damage action of Bert C. Rostel, Central Point, against J. G. Love, orchestra and resident of the same city, was expected to be completed in circuit court this afternoon. The plaintiff is seeking $500 as the result of alleged killing by Mr. Love of a Lewolyn setter dog last April. The dog was owned by the plaintiff and is claimed to have been trained as a hunting animal.

The defendant was on the stand shortly before noon, admitted killing the dog and claimed that it had damaged his property by chasing game birds, by digging a hole under the fence and by running through his alfalfa field. He testified the dog had made four such trips and on the fourth trip he went to his house, obtained a shotgun and killed the animal, as a protection for the birds and his property.

The defendant also admitted that he had killed a dog before that he had been convicted of a similar offense. He denied the testimony of Mrs. Bert Rostel, witness for the plaintiff, who in opening the case told of a conversation she had with Mr. Love when the latter was connected with the death of the dog. She testified that the defendant because of the fact that he was connected with the death of the dog, she had placed on the dog in the conversation. The defendant claims that value was placed and the plaintiff declares that such price was refused without hesitation.

The plaintiff also brought out that no complaint had been made that the dog was ranging on property of others and that the dog was gentle and kind, was a watch dog and a general household pet. The defense set forth that the dog was a killer and that it had been seen chasing birds, including meadow-larks and molesting nests.

The defendant claimed that the dog had been on his property eight times around the house, but had never molested it there. Several more witnesses were to be called this afternoon. Neighbors of the plaintiff testified that the dog barked at night and was a nuisance. A neighbor, Mrs. Moore, testified this forenoon in behalf of the plaintiff that barking had never disturbed her. Mr. and Mrs. Heigropf and Mr. Milton, a wood dealer, were to testify this afternoon for the defense. Colton E. Kelly is representing the defense and Attorney T. J. Enright, the plaintiff.

Newspaper Picture at Rialto Tomorrow

Typically American, thoroughly modern, is "Young Man of Manhattan," the Paramount filmization of Katharine Brush's big-selling novel, which comes to the Rialto theater tomorrow. Here is a rip-bang romance-drama of newspaper life that runs along at a high tempo, with never a moment's let-down in comedy, action or heart-interest. Those who read the book, or its earlier form, the serial, in the Saturday Evening Post, will recall the big moments when Toby meets Ann at the Dansey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia; when Toby and Ann have their first battle over who shall pay the rent; when Toby meets the "lit-toting Puff Randolph; when Toby learns that Ann has been blinded by drinking supposed whiskey which he had left in their apartment. Here are all these punch-packed scenes—alive on the all-talking screen, with Claudette Colbert, exotic charmer of "The Lady Lies" and "The Big Pond" as Ann; Robert Taylor, "Broadway" head of Broadway's "June Moon" as Toby; Ginger Rogers, whirlwind comedienne of "Two Weeks"; the Broadway smash-hit as Puff, and Charles Ruggles, of "Gentlemen of the Press" and "Road House Nights" fame, as Shorty Ross.

German Version of War at Craterian

"All Quiet on the Western Front" from the narrative by Erich Maria Remarque will go on exhibition tomorrow at the Fox Craterian theater. It was directed by Lewis Milestone, whose name will be recalled in connection with "Two Arabian Nights." A film marked out by a strain of fantasy and an excellent set of comedy values. For his latest assignment in a realm remote from comedy, Milestone was entrusted with a carefully chosen company of actors and, it is stated, $1,500,000.

An book "All Quiet on the Western Front" compelled admiration from a world public. It is the work of a German, one of the Kaiser's "schoolboy soldiers" who witnessed the war at close range and at an age when memory leaves an indelible impress. The producers have attempted to change nothing of the original, but to effect a faithful transfer of Remarque's story to the screen. The actors were chosen strictly on the basis of their ability to portray the types described by the author. Final, the cinematography is played by Lew Ayres, a youthful newcomer to the screen. John Wray, William Bakewell, Slim Summerville, Louis Wolheim are others in the cast.

The first Shamrock entry for America's cup was beaten in 1929 by Columbia, American yacht.

POOR YEAR FOR MONTE CARLO IN BALANCE SHEET

MONTE CARLO—(AP)—Gross receipts, $5,739,000, net profits, $2,500,000. Such is the balance sheet presented to the board of directors of the casino for the gambling year ending March 31. And the directors called it the poorest year.

The receipts were maintained at the level of the last five years, but there was a large increase in the expenditures. The personnel, ranging from croupiers to street sweepers, cost the kitty nearly $200,000 more than in 1928-1929.

Publicity also came higher: about $40,000 more than usual. The task of supplying gas to the residents of Monaco, although having no direct connection with publicity, which is aimed at non-residents, also came higher by $20,000 than in any former year.

An item which showed considerable loss on the wrong side of the balance sheet was the moving of the Casino de Monte Carlo to the new site. The task of supplying gas to the residents of Monaco, although having no direct connection with publicity, which is aimed at non-residents, also came higher by $20,000 than in any former year.
