13 INSANE CRIMINALS IN ESCAPE

Threaten Night Guard With Death Unless Gate Is Opened — Armed With Knives and Razors — Posses Take Trail.

IONIA, Mich., June 3.—(AP)—Thirteen insane criminals, five of them slayers, armed themselves with knives and razors, imprisoned two guards, threatened the night supervisor with death and escaped from the state hospital for criminal insane early today.

Two of the fugitives were recaptured on highways a few miles from the institution within a few hours.

Before leaving the institution the inmates opened cells releasing 24 prisoners but none of the others joined in the break. They also cut telephone wires.

Dr. Perry C. Robertson, superintendent of the hospital blamed the break on the limited facilities which made it necessary to confine 18 men, with dangerous reputations, in a ward rather than in separate cells.

Told of Attempt

The night supervisor, Gene Owen was called to the ward on the third floor by U. S. Davis and Bert Hill, guards, at 2:30 a. m. after the latter had been told by an inmate that some of the men there were trying to escape. As they opened the door the three men were set upon by the prisoners. The two guards were locked in a washroom. Owen was taken thru the building to the front gate.

One of the men held a knife at Owen's throat and told Guy Carbaugh, guard, that Owen would be killed unless the gate was opened. Carbaugh let them out. They took Owen outside the gate before scattering.

A guard was dispatched to Ionia, a mile and a half away to notify Sheriff William Franch, who started a search, aided by officers of other counties and state police.

GRAF HEADS OVER OCEAN FOR RETURN

Will Stop at Seville On Trip to Friedrichshafen—Capt. Eckener Tells of Plans for Three Zeps On Regular Schedule.

LAKEHURST, N. J., June 3.—(AP) Grey veteran of far flung trails through the sky, the Graf Zeppelin, her motors singing a deep and solmn farewell, was headed out over the Atlantic ocean today for the seventh time.

The giant ship started on her homeward journey at 9:12 p. m. (E. S. T.) and at 10 o'clock was passing over New York City. At 1:10 a. m., she reported in a radio message, she was passing over Nantucket lightship, off the Massachusetts coast, about 215 miles from New York. Nantucket light is the last marker off the American coast for trans-Atlantic ships.

The Zeppelin on her trip to Friedrichshafen, Germany, plans a stop at Seville, Spain, which her commander expected to reach in 50 hours. She also stopped at Seville on her flight to this country via Brazil.

Eckener Tells Plans.

A few minutes before she rose gently last night into a sky so blue and spangled with stars so golden that the effect was like a backdrop in a theater, her commander indicated that the end of the Graf's career was in sight.

By a year from next fall, said Dr. Hugo Eckener, he hopes to have three big ships, each able to carry 24 passengers and 20 tons of mail and freight, sailing on schedule across the Atlantic. And by that time, he added, the Graf Zeppelin "can be put in alcohol and preserved."

Of the 22 passengers aboard, four were women. One of the women, Mrs. John H. Graves of New York, had never been up in any kind of aircraft before. Two more, Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York and Mrs. Charles B. Parker of Cleveland, set out last night to cross the Atlantic abroad the Graf Zeppelin for the second time. Two other passengers were Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, and Lady Wilkins.

Joseph and Thomas Mannix.

The suit was brought by Sutherland to recover from the three defendants alleged damages resulting from their dealings with the property of the E. Henry Wemme company, which is separate from the E. Henry Wemme endowment fund.
