

COPS COMB GANGLAND FOR KILLER

Big Rewards Posted for Slayer of Chicago Tribune Reporter—Gun and Silk Glove Clues—Tentative Identification.

CHICAGO, June 10.—(AP)—One of the greatest murder hunts Chicago ever has seen, was organized today.

Police, state's attorney's men, private detectives and the organized power of the press joined to track down the man who killed Alfred (Jack) Lingle, 38-year-old reporter for the Tribune yesterday.

Rewards totaling $30,000 were posted—$25,000 by the Tribune and $5000 by the Chicago Evening Post. The Press Club of Chicago issued a statement that it stood ready to post an additional $10,000.

Two hundred or more persons were within a few feet of Lingle when he was shot down at 1:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, yet the slayer not only escaped, but left witnesses with a confusion of stories as to just what happened.

Have Revolver.

Police have the killer's gun, a pocket revolver of .38 calibre; and they have the black silk glove worn by the killer to prevent telltale fingerprints being left on the pistol butt. That is about all.

There were many witnesses, and almost as many different stories of what happened. Several, however, tentatively identified rogue gallery pictures of Sam Hunt, Capone gunman, as closely resembling the man who killed Lingle. Hunt, carrying a shotgun in a golf bag, was arrested a fortnight ago on the northwest side shortly after a gang running, in which the body of the victim was spirited away. He is out on bond under charges of carrying concealed weapons.

The Tribune reporter, reputedly wealthy enough to retire but staying on the job through pure joy of the work, was working on the chain of gang murders that have been committed within the last 10 days. He himself became the 11th victim.

EDUCATION AN ENEMY OF LIQUOR

Wickersham Says Methods of England and Wales More Effective Than Fines and Imprisonment—Sympathy, Help Need.

BOSTON, June 10.—(AP)—Prohibition enforcement agencies could find "coast suggestion" in the experience of England and Wales of better methods of attaining the object of the 18th amendment than those pursued during the last decade, in the opinion of George W. Wickersham, chairman of the national commission on law observance and enforcement.

A general process of education "into the evils of excessive drinking and the advantages of other forms of innocent amusement" have been credited in large part with marked decreases in drunkenness in those countries, he said here last night in addressing 5,000 social workers attending the 5th national conference of social workers.

He declared that no attempts at education as to merits of the national prohibition law have been made since its enactment, temperance work has been abandoned and dependence for enforcement has been placed upon the power of the government to impose fines and imprisonment.

The problem of law enforcement is a matter of education in law observance. Preventive measures rather than penalties should be emphasized, sympathy and helpfulness, rather than the rod, the cell and the stone pile, should be tried in order that lawlessness be reduced to the lowest point.

FARMERS SHOW KEEN INTEREST IN DRAIN TEST

Demonstration and Talk On Williamson Tract Attended By 50 Fruit Men—Second Test at Tolo.

Awakened interest in the drainage problems of the Rogue River valley was shown this morning by orchardists and farmers, when a drainage demonstration test and lecture was held at the Williamson tract on Beall Lane. Fifty fruitmen attended the meeting.

This afternoon a similar demonstration is underway at the Paul Scherer orchard near Tolo, with promise that the attendance will reach the 100 mark.

At the morning meeting, County Agent L. P. Wilcox discussed the effects of a high water table on trees, and illustrated with trees on the tract.

Arch Work, engineer in charge of the drainage survey here discussed the solution of drainage problems, and showed the work now under way on a drainage ditch being constructed to alleviate drainage troubles. Engineer Work also discussed the drainage situation locally, and gave some of his observations.

Prof. C. L. Lewis, irrigation expert of the Oregon State College, talked upon the drainage problem in general, its effects and cures, and answered questions.

All the speakers stressed the danger of a high water table, such as now prevails in many valley areas, and urged forehanded action to forestall any future damage.

WELTER CHAMPION LEVELS PORTLAND BOY IN 3 ROUNDS

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10.—(AP) Young Jack Thompson, welterweight champion of the world, showed his mettle here last night by knocking out Jimmy Dolan, rugged Portland Mexican welter, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight. Dolan weighed 149; Thompson 147.

The Oakland, Cal., negro found Dolan's chin early in the fight and dropped him for a count of nine in the first round.

Dolan came back hard in the second round but the champion easily dodged all the blows that would have done damage had they landed.

Thompson dropped Dolan for a nine count again in the third round. Dolan got up only to go down a minute later for a count of 10.

Jack Kentworth, 148, and Ray Nelson, 152, both of Portland, fought six rounds in a draw in the semi-final. Able Israel, Portland, 114, defeated Jimmy Ketchell, 116, Seattle, in four rounds. Johnny Hansen, Portland, knocked out Bobby Dugger, Portland, in the first of a scheduled four-round fight. Ray Morgan, Portland, defeated Fred Welch, Portland, in four rounds, and Dutch Easter, Los Angeles, scored a technical knockout over Lee Davis, Portland, in the third round.

Mr. Kennedy stated this morning.

EARLY SEASON PARK VISITORS SET NEW MARK

Chief Ranger Reports 1535 at Crater Sunday—Fine Weather Prevails—Trail to Be Opened.

Crater Lake national park was visited by 1535 persons Sunday, William Godfrey, chief ranger, reported last night. This is believed to be the largest number ever to visit the park during June. Unusually fine weather has prevailed at the resort for the past week, Mr. Godfrey says, and the lake has been most beautiful. The water has been unusually smooth for this season of the year. Reflections have been close to perfect.

The south entrance checked in 878 persons and 248 cars Sunday while the west entrance was entered by 657 persons and 209 cars, included in the construction work being done in the park is a new guard rail at the Anna Springs checking station. Also, an extension is being built on the Goodbye bridge near Anna Springs.

Improvement work for the 1930 season has not yet been started, however, Mr. Godfrey says. In general, park officials are just getting things lined up and making preparations for an unusually busy season of activity. Ward Weber, associate engineer of the park, is now in San Francisco conferring with national park engineering officials there. He will return in a few days to start survey work on the new rim road and other projects.

Beele Expert Here

Paul Keene is now in the park from the Portland office of the bureau of entomology inspecting the pine beetle eradication work being carried on. This work will continue for two or three weeks longer, or until the time when the insects begin to fly. A crew of 30 men is now engaged in the work in several parts of the park.

Removal of snow from the lake was started this week. Mr. Godfrey expects the trail to be opened to the water's edge by next Sunday. Recent warm weather is melting the snow rapidly, he reports.

R. W. Price, manager of the Crater Lake National Park company, arrived at the resort yesterday to make preparations for opening the lodge and other concessions at the rim. The lodge will open June 29, although the official opening date for the park is not until July 1. The cafeteria will probably be opened earlier, according to Mr. Price's plans.

TIRE SLASHERS TO BE ARRESTED

Investigation of the slashing of tires on the Ford car used by State Traffic Officer Herb Moore, will likely lead to three arrests, State Traffic Sergeant C. P. Talent stated today," says the Ashland Tidings.

"The tires were slashed Saturday night, near midnight, while Officer Moore was in the Jackson Hot Springs dance hall, looking for a man thought to have been responsible for a traffic mishap. Moore left his new car, a Ford coupe, parked in the parking lot and when he returned 10 minutes later, the four tires were flat, each with one or two holes slashed in them, and investigation revealed the "spare" had been given like treatment.

Investigation has revealed evidence which involved three local youths, according to Sergeant Talent, and an immediate clean-up of the case is expected.

"The offense, tampering with a state car, or any state property, is a felony, with imprisonment in the penitentiary as the maximum penalty."
