

PRESSURE COOKER IS DEMONSTRATED AT M-W COMPANY

By special arrangement with the factory, Montgomery Ward & company has secured the services of C. S. Alexander of the National School of Pressure Cooking to give demonstrations twice daily at 10:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. all this week on the main floor of the store at 17 South Central.

At these classes Mr. Alexander is proving to the many housewives throughout Medford and southern Oregon who are attending the demonstration the benefits derived by the use of pressure cooking.

Mr. Alexander, according to Mr. Andres, local manager, will demonstrate to the satisfaction of the housewives that it is the most economical way to cook or can fruit, saves two-thirds of time and labor, saves two-thirds of fuel bill, saves one-third of meat bill and retains valuable vitamins and mineral salts absolutely essential to health and growth.

The pressure cooker is endorsed by leading authorities on health and nutrition.

Mr. Alexander cooks an entire meal of meats, several vegetables and a dessert over one burner obnoxious to every good housewife.

HER HAIR WAS FALLING OUT QUITE BAD AND TURNING GRAY

Began Using Lea's Hair Tonic and Delighted with It. Hair Back Again to Former Color

Minnie Hersch

FEW WEEKS USE DID WONDERS, SHE SAYS

"It is amazing and wonderful the way Lea's Hair Tonic will stop falling hair and give it back its exact former shade before turning gray," writes Minnie Hersch, who like hundreds of women here, praise it to the sky. "Nothing I ever heard of equals Lea's and I used a great many different preparations because my hair was falling out bad and turning gray too. After massaging a few drops into my scalp each night for several weeks I looked years younger and my hair was all as even colored and nice as when I was a girl. I certainly recommend it," continues the girl whose photo is shown above and who lives at 1516 Ninth Avenue, Scottsbluff, Neb.

groomed with Lea's Hair Tonic. Anyone may obtain the same results at little expense in their own home and defy even an expert to detect its use. Note the abundance of hair and its pretty wave in picture above. Gray hair and dandruff are a detriment socially or in business. It certainly is such a simple matter now to have beautiful even colored youthful appearing hair no one should appear old and gray. Druggists here are authorized to sell Lea's Hair Tonic on a positive guarantee of complete satisfaction in six weeks or less or money back without quibble or question. If preferred send dollar bill, check or money order to Lea Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md., for bottle return mail.
