

WELFARE PLAN EXPLAINED FOR LOCAL LEADERS

Volunteers of America May Use Former Luke Ryan Home As Local Retreat—Policy Told.

A resume of the past accomplishments in Oregon of the Volunteers of America, with an outline of the work to be carried on by the organization in this city with establishment of a welfare home in the former Luke Ryan house on West Jackson street and a social center at 13 Fir street, were given yesterday noon by Lt. Col. Jesse F. Starks, commander of the Oregon battalion, at the luncheon at Hotel Medford, to which representatives of the various clubs and organizations of Medford were invited by Mrs. Ida N. Hayes, member of the advisory board of Portland. In this city with Col. Starks to organize a local post of the philanthropic society.

"No Creed But Christ, No Law But Love." Col. Starks gave as the motto of the Volunteers of America, and cited various attainments of the organization to prove that the members have adhered to the motto. The projects which are segregated in Portland under the heading of home for underpaid working girls, day nursery for children of working mothers, home for deserted mothers and children and various other social welfare works, will be combined in this city.

No Fund Drive.
No drive for funds will be made by the organization in agreement with the plans of the Community Chest. When the Volunteers of America have proved to the local public, however, that they are doing a worthy and needed work, they will ask to be included in the community chest budget.

"We do not feature our religious work," Col. Starks stated, "or force our beliefs upon the people we help. Within our organization are people of various faiths. We are not a denominational organization. We cooperate with the churches and clubs in accomplishing our objective. Our aim and method in life is to give people a chance. We do not believe in pauperizing them."

"We hold few street meetings and do not play bass drums or use tambourines on the street. We do not believe in cheapening ourselves."

Mann in Support.
J. C. Mann, who was called upon to give his opinion of the organization and its work, stated that he would give the group his support and felt sure that the community would if a definite need for it could be cited.

County Judge Alex Sparrow, in speaking of the need, referred to the danger of overlapping by the Volunteers of America and organizations existing here at the present time. He added, however, that he was sure the group could find plenty to do here if able to finance themselves without aid of the county.

Hamilton Patton, president of the community chest, also cited duplications in charitable work now being done, but promised the aid of the community chest to the Volunteers of America when they prove they are fulfilling an actual need.

Gates Sees Need.
Care of children in broken homes and reorganization of families were then pointed out by C. E. Gates as a need. After 18 years of contact with the charitable work done by organizations of Medford, he explained, he has come to realize that there is a need that all of them have left unfilled.

"The children of broken homes are now shunted out of the community," he stated. "I am perhaps a bit sentimental about the situation, but I would like to see them kept here and I feel that the old Luke Ryan home on Jackson street would be an ideal place for them."

He suggested that the members of various organizations go through their attics and bring forth the toys and playground equipment their children have outgrown, and donate them to the home.

Medford Center.
The speakers were introduced at the luncheon by Mrs. Hayes, who will head the organization of the home and social center in Medford. Col. Starks, who has been here during the past week, plans to leave today for Portland. With establishment of the post in this city, Medford will serve as center for the work of the Volunteers of America throughout southern Oregon.

Although no drive has been made by Mrs. Hayes or Col. Starks in this city, the sum of $1000 has been promised by individuals toward the purchase of the home, chosen by the group.

EDISON LEAVING FOR N. J. HOME

FORT MYERS, Fla., June 12.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison, who last night told interviewers that he would urge President Hoover to seek a second term, will say goodbye to his miniature rubber plantation here tonight and return to his home at West Orange, N. J., to continue his experiments there. Mr. Edison will carry with him to New Jersey a complete herbarium of plants and weeds which have been found to contain a percentage of rubber in the process of more than 10,000 tests.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ASKS BRANCH LINE APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—The Southern Pacific company today asked the interstate commerce commission to approve its acquisition of control of the Valley and Siletz railroad company, operating in the Willamette valley, Oregon. The price to be paid was not stated in the application.

The NEW Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloon

A really STUNNING TIRE you ought to see

It isn't enough to call the new Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloon an extra-mileage tire—it's an extra-style tire as well.

Once your car is shod with them, it takes on a new and smarter look; it stands proudly on a more solid and distinctive foundation.

In the first place this new Heavy Duty Balloon is bigger, handsomer, more massive; and around its sleek black side-walls runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

Then the outer rows of All-Weather blocks on both sides of the deep-cut extra-thick tread are prised down into the side-wall, a touch as arresting as anything in modern sculpture.

The essential merit of this tire of course is in its capacity for extra mileage—it is made stronger and tougher in every part to withstand hard, fast, rocky-road driving.

Before you buy your next tire be sure you see this stunning Goodyear Heavy Duty — you owe it to yourself not to overlook its remarkable advantages.

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."
