

CAFETERIA AT LAKE TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Early Season for Tourists Causes Advance of Plans—Old Staff Retained—Big Year Seen.

So big is growing the increasing daily visits of tourists and other visitors at Crater National park, that there is much snow still there and because the lodge will not be open for business until June 28, the cafeteria at the rim near the camp ground will open for business tomorrow, and a crew of six cooks, helpers and the like will leave here this evening to operate it.

This information was given out today by R. W. Price, vice president and general manager of the Crater Lake National Park company, which operates the park concessions.

Another crew leaves this evening to prepare the lodge for the opening and to clean up the grounds surrounding the big hostelry.

The auto cabins will be ready for occupancy in three or four days.

While the lodge will be open for business on June 28, three days prior to the official opening of the Crater Lake season on July 1, the stages will not begin running between Medford and the lake until July 1st, making two round trips daily out of Medford and more from Klamath Falls and Chiloquin to the lodge.

Retain Old Staff

It is announced by Mr. Price, who arrived here several days ago and has been up to the park daily since looking after preliminary arrangements, that approximately 80 per cent of the help employed at the lodge last year and the other concessions will be on duty this season again. A number of the employes have been with the lodge for several years past, including the capable head chef, Mr. Dean, who has been with the lodge

Medford Ministers To Pay Tribute To Old Dad During Sunday Service

Few poems have been written of him and no doubt fewer songs—but he will have his fitting Sunday in spite of cartoonists, humorists and promoters, who portray him as a dolt. For Sunday is Father's day. And wives, sons and daughters will join in expressing a little tribute to Old Dad.

He's not so much in the funny papers, but he's awfully essential at home. Signing checks, battling for dollars, wearing frayed neckties and remembering anniversaries with a little prodding, may not inspire the poet and composer to lyrics and song, but families are appreciative (if reminded). And they're going to be Sunday. For most of the churches at Medford are going to devote a little time to the man who goes fishing but remembers to pay the bills.

Through the efforts of Todger for the past seven years. Mr. Price looks forward to a very large business this year, possibly exceeding that of last season, basing their anticipation on the number of reservations already made, and tourist parties already made, including three Whitcomb land cruises for 225 passengers. Trains for these land cruises will be routed through the Klamath section.

Early this afternoon Mr. Price, accompanied by his daughter Katherine, departed for the lake where he will spend the entire summer. Katherine is 18 days hence will leave for Portland to spend a month at Rhododendron with other members of the family, and then accompany them to Crater Lake lodge for a long stay there.

BUSINESS MEN WILL BANQUET 6:30 TONIGHT

Third Annual Home Products Banquet Community Event—Marshall N. Dana Will Speak.

The third annual Home Products banquet, staged by the Medford Chamber of Commerce, promises to be one of the outstanding community events of the year, with great interest being shown in the program by business and professional men of the city, and many of the farmers of the surrounding country. The affair is to be held at the Hotel Medford at 6:30 this evening.

The committee in charge of the dinner has secured the services of Marshall N. Dana, associate editor of the Portland Journal, as principal speaker of the evening, and his address will be of particular interest to those associated with the dairy industry. His topic, as announced in last night's Mail Tribune, is "Expanding Southern Oregon's Dairy Industry" and his investigations into the production and marketing methods employed in this industry make him particularly qualified to speak on this subject.

C. E. (Pop) Gates will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and musical entertainment will be furnished by the Medford Elks' band, in their first concert appearance of the season, and the Jacksonville Grange quartet.

Business men and others expecting to attend should be at the Hotel Medford promptly at 6:30, as it is the desire of the committee to start the banquet promptly on time, and to avoid all unnecessary delays in conducting it. Ladies are invited to attend.

Storage water from the Fish Lake reserve was released Wednesday morning, according to Edward Leach, manager of the Medford Irrigation district. It will probably take three days for the water to reach the floor of the valley, he stated this morning.

Water users are urged to make as economical use of water as possible, and should desist from undue use and waste. The supply, which is being released, will last about seven weeks.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH CO. ACCEPTS TELEGRAMS FOR CHARGE TO PHONE

Subscribers in Medford today will be able to telephone their Postal telegrams direct from home or office telephones to more than 78,000 points in the United States, Canada, Europe, South America, the Orient and to ships at sea, according to Miss Bernice Cameron, manager for the Postal here.

Miss Cameron explained that inauguration of the new service today virtually gives every telephone subscriber here the facilities of a Postal telegraph office at his or her telephone and is part of the Postal telegraph development in this section.

Subscribers desiring to telephone their telegrams will ask the operator for Postal telegraph and will then give the message to a Postal operator. The charge will appear on the monthly telephone bill.

"Through its affiliation with the international system," Miss Cameron pointed out, "Postal telegraph goes to Europe, Asia and the Orient over commercial cables, to the West Indies, Central America and South America over all American cables and to ships at sea via Mackay radio and the new system of 'telephoning your telegrams' permits persons to send telegrams, cablegrams or radiograms to any of these places."
