Captain F. C. Hingsburg, Washington, D. C., head of the airways division of the United States Department of Commerce, accompanied by W. T. Miller, assistant, were visitors in Medford over an hour yesterday inspecting the Medford airport and airways radio station, which they reported to be in excellent condition.

The airport drew special remarks or praise from Captain Hingsburg who is touring the nation by plane inspecting landing fields, emergency fields, lights, radio stations and all matters concerning commercial aviation.

The visitors left in their plane yesterday afternoon for Seattle and were to stop at points en route.

OPEN ELKS LODGE AT GRANTS PASS

Medford will take the lead in the program at Grants Pass tomorrow evening in connection with the establishment of an Elks lodge in the Climate City. Officers of the Medford lodge will be in charge of the installation of officers and initiation of new members and a big delegation of local members are expected to be present at the ceremonies.

A banquet at 6:30 will start off the evening's activities, followed by the lodge session at 7:30. Dancing will be on the program following the close of the lodge business.

Aaron Schollars' Pension Increased

A special bill introduced by Senator Charles L. McNary, providing for an increase to $30 per month in the pension of Aaron Schollars of Medford, passed this session of congress and has been signed by President Hoover.

Pennzoil to Lubricate Ships

An older oil can proved an appropriate sign when N. B. Mamer (Flight) of the Mamer Air Transport Company signed a contract for gallons of Pennzoil to lubricate his slips on the new Spokane to St. Paul air route. At left is Robert E. Bennett of Salt Lake, district sales supervisor for the Pennzoil Company. Center, O. B. Isaacs, sales manager of the Nott Atwater Company of Spokane, district representatives for the Pennzoil organization. The Colyar Sales Co. is Pennzoil distributor.

Ten Candidates for Miss Medford Chosen by Committee During Dance

Saturday evening ten more candidates were chosen from the Dreamland dance floor, by members of the "Miss Medford" beauty contest committee.

The following names are those received up to the present time by the committee. Anyone planning to enter a name in this contest is requested to mail or phone in his suggestion to J. B. Brault, Box 1050 or phone 526, at the earliest possible moment.

Elsie Williams, Edna Allen, Thelma Van der Hellen, Helen Ross, Evelyn Snyder, Dorothy Orth, Helen Croft, Mae Allen, Olive Lantis, Dorothy Combs, Margaret Hennessy, Edna Mae Wells, Maxine Vaughn, Vivian Meter, Dorothy Riddell, Clara Mary Fuson, Margaret Childers, Myrtle Beelby and Kay Smith. In former issues a mistake was made in the spelling of one name which corrected, enters Eleanor Skates Harwood (not Howard) in the contest as a nominee.

The girls chosen Saturday evening from the Dreamland dance were: Elsie Williams, Gladys Thompson, Ruth Goussier, Irma Whiss, Irma Smith, Lucille Sidel, Ida Wilson, Lucille Plummer, Virginia Duhava and Lucille Elison.

MENTION REAMES IN CHAIRMANSHIP DEMOCRAT GROUP

A well known Medford Democrat was sprung into the limelight of state Democratic politics in Sunday's political gossip of the Portland Journal, when in speaking of the necessity of the election of an able and aggressive man for chairman of the Democratic state committee to conduct the coming campaign, and active and positive candidates for that position, the writer goes on to say: "One other has come into the discussion, without his own knowledge or discussion—Evan Reames of Medford. Reames for long has been one of the outstanding members of his party, as well as one of the outstanding lawyers and citizens of the southern section of the valley, and of the state at large. He is removed from and untainted by the factional differences that have wracked the party during the past few years. It is the understanding that he will be urged to let his friends both inside and without the state committee put him forward for the chairmanship of the campaign."

P. A. T. PILOTS APPEAR WITH O. D. UNIFORMS

New olive drab uniforms have been furnished pilots of the Pacific Air Transport company and Ralph Virden was the first to make his appearance in such apparel today when he arrived from San Francisco.

Overseas caps are a part of the new uniform, which also displays stars for every thousand hours flown by its wearer for the Pacific Air Transport. Virden has three stars.

New Salesman for Proctor & Gamble

J. A. Crowe is the new salesman in this territory for Proctor & Gamble Co., manufacturers of soap and washing powders that are well known and generally used all over the world. Mr. Crowe will have his headquarters in Medford and succeeds the popular salesman, C. A. Marcey who has had charge of this territory three years and who has been given a better position with the same company.

RAIL EXECUTIVE LAUDS AIR VIEW OF CRATER LAKE

J. W. Roberts, assistant vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in Medford from New York city on his second annual visit to the northwestern and western territory, enjoyed his first glimpse of Crater Lake from the air yesterday and was enthusiastic this morning in his praise of the spectacle. He has traveled by plane over the Yosemite, the Rockies, and Algonquin, but Crater Lake surpasses them all in his estimation.

A general improvement in eastern as well as western business conditions, is reported by Mr. Roberts, who came to Medford Sunday from the apple districts of Washington.

Boost Air Service. Plans by the railroad he represents Mr. Roberts said, "The officials are particularly interested in airplane service, being the first railroad to back air-rail service from coast to coast, reducing the time from four to two days. I am referring to the Trans-Continental Transport. This company, as well as others, is constantly studying conditions to see where the service may be extended to meet the public demands."

Mr. Roberts is in Medford to establish contacts with the growers and producers to bring them more closely together with the Pennsylvania railroad, which now handles a tremendous amount of fresh fruits from this section. "While the company does not have rails out to this country, our management feels it is a distinct part of Medford and surrounding country since it connects this section through the Pacific." Mr. Roberts stated, "The Pennsylvania railroad during the past five years has expended in excess of twenty million dollars to provide improved terminal facilities in New York, Jersey City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit and a number of smaller markets."

"I have always been favorably impressed with Medford and at this time am particularly so since announcement of the estimated increased production of pears for this season," he added.

Conditions in the Wenatchee district also point to a big fruit crop, Mr. Roberts stated. He spent most of today visiting the orchard areas of the Rogue River valley.

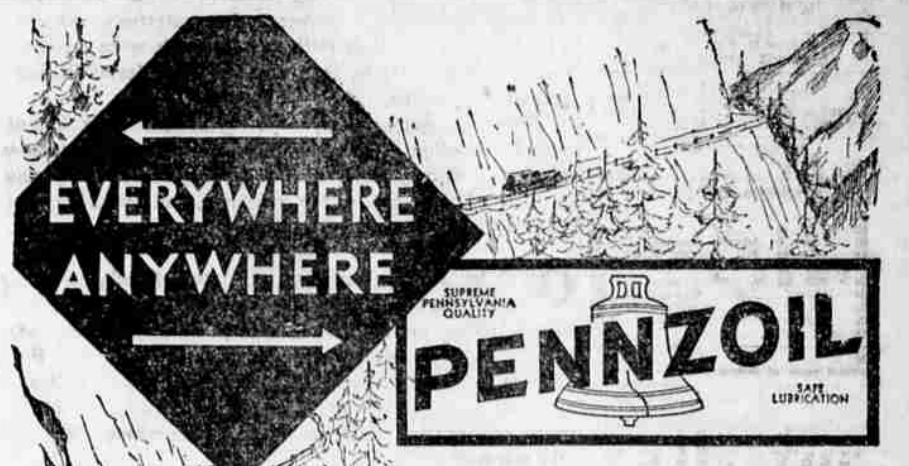

86 CHILDREN IN CHURCH SCHOOL

Eighty-six children were registered this morning at the daily vespertine Bible school being conducted at the First Christian church by the local churches. Although no accurate check had been made pertaining to the number in each division, a decided majority was registered in the junior department.

Recent was held after the assembly where all of the pupils met in the main auditorium. The younger group, from four to seven were in charge of Mrs. Gregory. A special program is being carried on for this group.

The enrollment is expected to reach one hundred tomorrow morning, according to Mrs. F. J. Wilnot who has charge of registration. Those who did not register Friday or today may do so tomorrow morning.

American oranges and grapefruit are becoming popular in British Malaya.

Vacation calls for PENNZOIL: not just "Eastern"

Wise vacationists forget this word, "eastern". Why say "eastern" when it is just a nickname for any and every oil produced East of the Rockies, and doesn't mean any oil of known quality? They specify Pennzoil, because they know it's guaranteed 100% pure Pennsylvania Oil of Supreme Quality.

They know it's made for safe and economical lubrication, no matter how far they travel or how hard they drive.

What's more, they know the added convenience of finding Pennzoil anywhere and everywhere. 13,000 Western dealers display the Pennzoil Sign.

After George Bernard Shaw had finished an address at Hampstead, Eng., recently, a nervous clergyman arose and asked him, "Are you a Christian?" "I am," smiled G. B. S., "but I often feel very lonely."

A London woman has just discovered how to preserve laurel leaves and used extensively for which for centuries have been made mostly of Italian magnolia leaves and used extensively for memorials.

EXPECT BOULDER DAM TO ATTRACT TOURISTS

WASHINGTON—GP—When it is completed, with a column of water 575 feet high behind it, Boulder Dam will be one of the tourist wonders of the west, says the interior department. Elephant Butte dam on the Rio Grande, in New Mexico, 296 feet high, is the nearest approach to the spectacle which Boulder will present. At Elephant Butte dam, air vents left at the bottom to relieve suction caused by the rushing water led to a peculiar tragedy. Two workmen, passing near the great air hole, were impaled and killed by the suction. Toy peddlers of Havana, Cuba, report that Sunday is their biggest sales day.
