Norris Drama is Well Presented

"Oh, it's so plebian!" (With the accent on the first syllable), was the favorite phrase of Jean Meredith, the younger romantic girl, in the Helen Norris radio drama last evening, "Jilliet Up to Date," which was given over station KMED during Copco hour.

The part of Jean was well taken by Suzette Stennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Stennett. Her romanticism, which had been kindled through the constant reading of "Romeo and Juliet" and other of Shakespeare's plays, echoed in every word and action of the young player.

Helen Brayton, as the older sister of Jean, who was in love with Archibald, who "fairly dripped poetry," and was ready to elope, when her young sister brought out that there was nothing of interest in Archibald except his poetry. She then turned her thoughts and affections again to Jim Abbott, the young lawyer. This part, as well as that of Jake Simpkins, the lover of Nan, the Meredith maid, was taken by Fletcher Fish, who is well known for his participation in radio presentations.

Nan, played by Stella Quisenberry, was to elope with Jake Simpkins, due to arrangements made through letters written by Jean, with Nan's name signed by Jean.

Phil Quisenberry was quite natural in his part of Dick, brother of Jean. He was to build the balcony for Jean and members of her club to act out "Romeo and Juliet."

Many of the radio listeners both last night and this morning expressed their satisfaction and enjoyment of the play, which was written by a local author.

BEAUTY CONTEST WILL WIND UP AT BALL JUNE 28TH

June 28 was named as the date for the grand finale in the Miss Medford beauty contest, being sponsored by the local Lions' club at the noon luncheon held today at Hotel Medford. A dance will be held at Oriental Gardens on that evening and the winner in the pulchritude race will be chosen to represent Medford in the state contest at Portland, July 16.

There are now 25 contestants in the local race. Jean Brault, chairman of the campaign, informed the Lions. Photographs of the entrants will be taken at an early date by J. Verne Shangle, who volunteered his services today. The girls are urged to call at the Shangle studio as soon as possible. There will be no charges for photographs and swimming suits will be furnished by J. C. Penney.

Great interest in the contest was expressed by all Lions, especially Don Collier, who managed to get himself on the committee for arrangements, after giving a long speech on the requirements of a beauty race. Lion Ernest Scott also agreed to help promote the contest. The press was complimented for the co-operation offered throughout the campaign.

Lion G. W. Newberry entertained the club today by responding to memory and vocal tests, given by Lion Collier, in which pasts and futures of numerous club members were revealed. His ability to remember questions and recognize voices of people he has never seen was amazing to all persons present. A list of 10 questions was read through by Lion Collier. Lion Newberry then answered them with approximately three errors.

Questions were then asked by members of the club and answered by Lion Newberry in such a way that his recognition of the identity of the questioner was made known to the club.

Great interest in the junior and senior life saving work is exhibited by members of those classes.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury in an automobile collision.

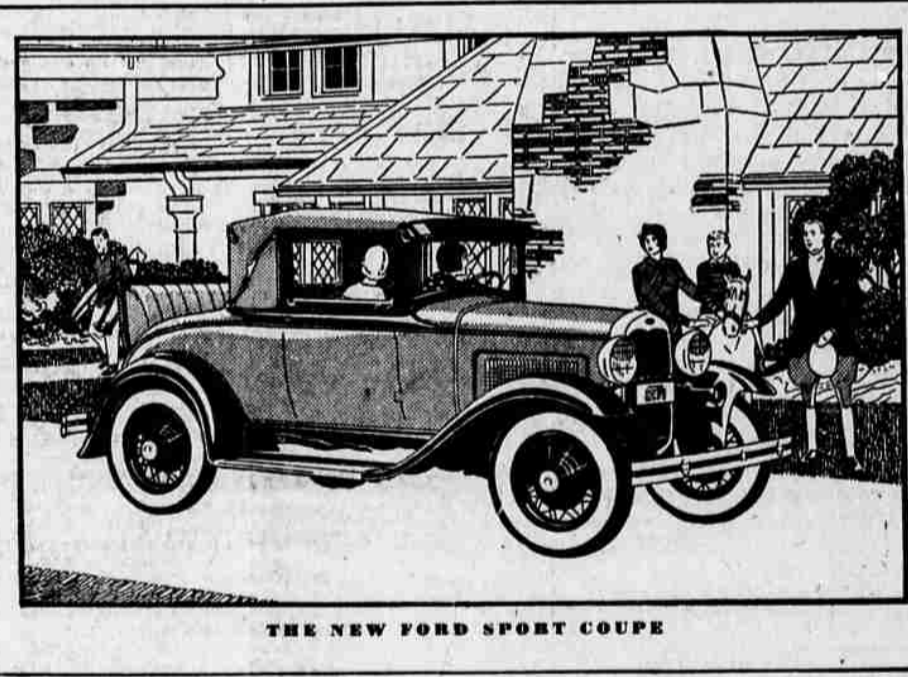

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.
