

Bobby Jones Leading Field in British Open Golf Tournament

MOE TIES WEGEL, SMITH FOR 4TH SPOT

Horton Smith in Third Place — Von Elm Takes 79 Strokes to Lose Right in Friday Final.

WYLAKE, England, June 19.—Bobby Jones led the field by a stroke and five other Americans were in the first nine at the close of the second round of the British open golf championship. Jones scored 72 today for a 36-hole total of 142, just topping Fred Rolson, veteran British pro, who scored 143.

Horton Smith, New York pro, was in third place with a two-day score of 145. Three Americans, Moe, Wegel and MacDonald Smith, were tied for fourth with two British pros, Archie Compston and Phil Rodgers, all scoring 147.

George Von Elm, Detroit, required 79 strokes for his second round today, giving him a 36-hole total of 150, enough to remove him from the final 36 holes of competition tomorrow.

Moe's Putting Aids. Moe scored 38 for the first nine holes, in spite of a 6 on his card. His card:

Moe, out, 445 354 364—38.

"It was my putter that helped me out," said the smiling Moe, obviously pleased with his scoring in the home ward nine.

He holed a 15-foot putt at the tenth, one of eight feet at the eleventh for a deuce, and then missed a three-footer at the fifteenth.

Visits to rough on three holes during home cost him fives and prevented an even more sensational score for the last nine holes.

Booze and bad booze at that, writes Charley Paddock in Collier's, has been the prime factor in what he describes as the decadence of American post-war athletics, citing the dwindling first places scored by Americans in the last three Olympics and expressing the conviction that present-day performances (in track and field especially) do not compare with those of two or three decades ago.

Good-time Charley is as far from the actual facts, it seems from this corner, as he was from finishing anywhere in the last Olympic 200 meters event at Amsterdam.

A variety of causes contributed to Yankee reverse in the Olympic games, ranging all the way from bad management and bad breaks to over-eating and over-confidence, plus the fact that world competition has become keener.

If American boys have failed to conquer athletes like Douglas Lowe, Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola on Olympic tracks, they hardly can be blamed, since the foot-racers have yet to appear with the ability to beat these runners at their best.

Moreover, if there is any decadence in the Yankee ability to run faster, jump higher or toss the various athletic implements farther, it has not been manifest this spring in the greatest college track and field season of all time.

With the exception of the middle distance running, in which there has unquestionably been a

WESTERN TOUR DIFFICULT FOR EASTERN NINES

Success at Home Not Always Possible in Enemy Parks—Giants Have Narrow Squeak.

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

To a disinterested observer it would appear the scene of a ball game should not make much difference in the result to such seasoned campaigners as major league players, but it does not always work out that way.

The eastern National league clubs, just opening their second western tour, found surprising success at home but it is rather doubtful whether they will continue it on the road.

The New York Giants, who routed their inter-sectional opponents to the tune of nine victories in 12 games at the Polo grounds, had trouble yesterday in taking their first game, 4 to 3, from the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won but four out of 13 away from home.

The Indians, after pushing to within striking distance of the league lead, when they came east again yesterday, the Philadelphia Athletics have a real championship team despite eight defeats in 14 games.

SEALS BATTER SERAPHIM FOR 15-5 VICTORY

Indians Take Revenge On Sacs — Beavers Defeat Acorns Through Errors to Even Series.

By the Associated Press

San Francisco gained yesterday what at this stage of the game amounts to a considerable step in the Pacific Coast league, downing its persistent rival, Los Angeles, 15 to 5, while Sacramento lost to Seattle, 2 to 9. Oakland and Mission, which have been threatening the three leaders, both lost.

A wild second inning saw the Angels drive Miljus out of the box and score four runs, only to have the Beals come back in their half to ruin Ballou and Peters and score nine.

The Indians got revenge for the shutout of the day before when they drove Flynn from the mound in the first inning at the capital city. Hubbell held the Sacs to seven singles while Seattle was adding tallies off Gold and Hamilton.

Oakland errors and misjudged plays were largely responsible for their defeat by Portland, 7 to 6, which evened the series. They knocked Ortman out of the box in the eighth to tie the score but a wild throw to the plate in the ninth let in the winning run.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN WALLA WALLA

As the flames leaped high into the air, burning embers started numerous grass fires at the western limits of the city, but no other buildings caught fire, although warehouses at the United States Veterans' hospital were threatened for a time.
