

HEALTH EFFORT IN COUNTY IS TOLD IN SKITS

Annual Meet of Society and Election of Officers Held, 'Dramatization' of Work Effective.

By Eva Nealon
Dramatization of the work of the Jackson County Public Health association it was called—the jolly program presented yesterday afternoon in the club room of the First Presbyterian church at the closing session of the annual meeting of the association.

Reports from various committees of the valley were called for by President Mildred Carlton and the entertainment, which followed, provided so many laughs from the congenial audience, all members left the church with far healthier dispositions as well as valuable information regarding the accomplishment of Medford, Ashland, Phoenix, Gold Hill, Central Point and Jacksonville. They didn't realize they were being educated but when the fun was over the facts remained.

A study of nutrition was presented by a group of children from Gold Hill. This journey milk makes from the good old cow to the consumer was dramatized, with each child representing one of the processes through which the milk goes. The dubious dairyman was also present to ask about the fixings city folks add to his product. The 19 children, who appeared in the clever skit, were: Marjorie Cameron, Edith Rommel, Patsy Spaid, Allen Shorb, Mildred Smith, Jimmy Martin, Craten Thompson, Buster Mullin, Kelly Clement and Leonard Kell. It was prepared by Mrs. Minnie Sargent and Mrs. Nora Shorb, teachers in the Gold Hill schools.

Helen Patton and Josephine Butler, all dressed up in women's clothes, engaged in a friendly gossiping-tee and related the work of the Medford group. The necessity of educating people to the benefits of the health program, carried on by the Jackson County association, was emphasized in a clever monologue, given by Mrs. Frank Salisbury as report of the Jacksonville unit. Representing an ignorant woman with a great desire to chatter Mrs. Salisbury gave in detail the lay woman's first impression of county doctors, nurses, members of the association, baby clinics and surveys. Miss Curtis, Mrs. Lydia King, health nurse, and her dog, Jerry, as well as Dr. B. C. Wilson and other members of the staff were brought into the picture. The story ended with the grandson's adenoids removed, the baby's colic ended and everybody happy. All because they found out about the health association.

A lesson in bed-making, which was a revelation to most persons present, many of whom admitted they were still being sunned, was given by Mrs. John Gammill and Mrs. H. Wilcox. "The proper bed for a sick person," the dolls used to represent the invalid went through some strange contortions while sheets were removed and replaced. The Phoenix group sponsored a class in home-nursing this year for women and hope to conduct one in the high school next year.

To prove that people are never too old to learn or be educated to the new accomplishments in the field of health work, the Ashland group presented a skit, featuring Mrs. G. G. Eubanks and Mrs. F. D. Wagner, which was a fitting finale to the afternoon's program with Auntie's last wish for a "rheumatism survey."

The story of Ashland's work was told in a letter, supposedly received by the old lady from her niece in Ashland, when Mrs. Eubanks completed the reading of the letter "Auntie" (Mrs. Wagner) was convinced her 12 children would still be alive and her own teeth in good condition if her own teeth and dental surveys had existed in her day.

Central Point chose the motion picture screen as medium for relating events at the health center in that city. Miss Margaret Nelson operated the machine and many familiar faces were viewed in "A Day at the Health House."

FRUIT GROWERS 50 DAIRYMEN OF TO HEAR BOSC CALIFORNIA ON PLAN TUESDAY VISIT TO VALLEY

Fruitgrowers of the Rogue River valley, will meet Tuesday evening at the Elks Temple, to hear the full report of Professor Henry Hartman, O. S. C. expert, on his years research work in New York City on market and storage conditions, and the Bosc market expansion program for 1929, as prepared by the winter pear committee, David R. Wood, chairman.

The most important of the year for growers and shippers is a large percentage of the growers will be present. It is the plan of the winter pear committee to open three new markets, Pittsburg, Cleveland and Chicago, this season and continue in the Detroit market, where a notable success was made last year. It is planned to ship 75 cars of Bosc to Detroit, and 70 cars each to Cleveland and Pittsburg, and as many as market conditions will warrant.

It will probably be announced at the meeting that Professor Hartman has been retained for another year, to continue his storage and marketing investigations.

The winter pear committee is composed of Leonard Carpenter, Dr. J. E. Spitz, Harry Rosenberg, J. C. Barnes, Dr. George W. Deane, W. F. Biddle and David R. Wood, chairman.

CEDERWALL GIVES 125 REGISTER FOR FRUIT CROP DATA

L. H. Cederwall of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., has just returned from a trip to Washington and northern Oregon, including Hood River and finds crop prospects as follows:

Wenatchee: The original estimate for apples for this district early in the season was from 22,000 to 25,000 carloads. Since that time, however, various things, such as frost, and other damage has occurred, and estimates from new informed sources place the Wenatchee apple crop between 18,000 and 20,000 boxes for 1929. Pear crop for Wenatchee is similar to that of last year.

Yakima: Prospects for this district is for approximately 40,000 tons of Bartlett's, and approximately 14,000 cars of apples.

Hood River: This district is anticipated approximately 3000 tons of Bartlett's, and approximately 800 cars Anjou's, and 3200 cars of apples (of which between 1800 and 2000 will be Newtowns).

Good-habit talks have been given by Rev. C. B. Foster, Rev. Moll, and Rev. W. H. Eaton. Dramatization of stories has been carried out also in the first week's work.

YOUTH HELD FOR KANSAS KILLING IS COOL, CALM

Steadfastly maintaining his innocence, O. D. Irwin, 23, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Oscar Dunford at Phoenix as a suspect for a murder in Kansas, is calmly awaiting the arrival of officers from Columbus, to take him in custody for the killing last May of Ralph Price, 13 years old. Irwin claims he drove the real alleged murderer, Charles Gibbons, to the southern Oregon town of Kanem at the point of a gun and left him at Phoenix when he became ill.

Irwin says he knew nothing of the murder until the deputy sheriff took him in custody yesterday. However, he knew the murdered man and said that Gibbons had been paying attention to his sister. Price attempted to have Gibbons discontinued such practice and as a result met his death, press dispatches from Kansas indicate.

The suspect is being held here on a fugitive from justice warrant without bail, following a hearing in the Jacksonville justice court yesterday.

Blake Doodmond, Hutchinson, Kas., youth, started serving a sentence of six months, five hours after he was arrested on a theft charge.

Robert Carter, who was a student in Medford high school, graduated this last week from Santa Maria, Calif. high school. Robert was one of our fourteen qualifying to enter any college or university in California without entrance examinations.

They were accompanied on their return by their daughter, Beulah, who is a student at the university.
