

Coast Oarsmen Are Among Favorites in Poughkeepsie Classic

CALIFORNIA AND HUSKIES RATED HIGH IN POWER

Thursday Regatta Pits Nine Great Crews in Varsity Event—Columbia, Navy Have Chance.

By Ted Voshburgh,
Associated Press Sports Writer.
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25.—(AP)—Nine of the most evenly matched varsity crews in the 35-year history of the Intercollegiate Rowing association regatta were pitted today for the biggest sporting spectacle of the college year.

The broad expanses of the Hudson tomorrow will be picked by two far western universities, one from middle west and six from the east will fight it out in the four-mile feature battle of a regatta that brings into action a record-breaking total of 23 eight-oared crews.

With the big event just one day away, assembled experts and even coaches whose business it is to know, were certain of nothing except the struggle would not end up in a foul.

Victor Hard to Pick.
Asked to pick the probable winner, most of them started off by naming Washington, made a couple of false starts and then mentioned Columbia, Navy and California, winding up with the emphatic statement that Syracuse, Cornell, M. I. T., Wisconsin and Pennsylvania cannot be figured out of the running, which makes it just about unanimous.

If there is a favorite it is undoubtedly the defending champion, Columbia, but the towering eight from University of Washington, which has come up to this climactic event with two victories and no defeats on its record.

In fact, there is some disposition among loyal Washington alumni to declare the boys from Seattle may carry not only the varsity event but the junior varsity and freshman races as well, thereby performing the unprecedented feat of sweeping the river in three eight-oared events.

Huskies Unbeaten.
None of the Husky eight has yet been beaten and as a result all three are among the favorites.

But history records that such hard-rowing crews as the Navy, Columbia and California have been able on occasion to take the measure of the tall redwoods from Seattle, and they will be out to do it again.

These four are the colleges that have monopolized varsity honors on the Hudson ever since the war, and if any of the other five contenders comes through, the result will be an upset of the most sensational kind.

Of the "big four" none is better equipped physically than Washington, whose average altitude is six feet three inches, and whose weight is 170. The Huskies constitute the tallest crew on the river and probably the lightest ever seen here.

California bristles with raw power, but is the youngest aggregation of them all, with an average of only 20 years. There are four sophomores in the Golden Bear boat and three veterans of the 1928 crew that won the intercollegiate and Olympic titles.

KRUSE DEFEATS NEW YORK HEAVY
TACOMA, June 25.—(AP)—Abel Coleman, New York heavyweight wrestler, was forced to concede his match to Bob Kruse, Portland, when he was tumbled out of the ring and injured his shoulder here last night. Previous to this Coleman had pinned Kruse to the mat with a series of living tackles.

Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver, defeated Don Anderson, Salem, by two straight falls in the semi-final.

With Rod and Gun In Rogue Valley

(By Dick Greene)

"When the snow is all off Mt. Pitt, then is the time to go steelhead fishing." So says the veteran anglers of the Rogue River valley, and for that matter, this saying usually holds true. For men who have studied the habits of the steelhead says the summer run usually begins about June 15 and lasts until July 20.

The trout are just now beginning to reach the upper waters of the Rogue as 300 were reported to have come over the fish ladder at Savage Rapids last week. It is expected that this number will be greatly increased in the next few weeks and the summer steelhead fishing will soon be in full swing.

Bill Henry and Charlie Ganet made a trip to Four Mile lake last Sunday and report limit catches. As there is no special limit on this lake the general law of 30 pounds or one fish applies. The fish were caught on worms, and averaged about one and a quarter pounds.

The road to this mountain lake is very poor. There are several mudholes and the lava rock makes it exceedingly rough. Another obstacle lies in the brush along the roadside, which across the road. There are no accommodations at the lake and fishermen are forced to take their own boats and supplies. The trip is only recommended to those who like to "rough it."

Dr. B. C. Wilson says he caught 100 trout in Rogue River last evening.

Jim Valentine, of the Club cafe, with his family are spending the day fishing on Rogue river.

Any comments, suggestions on fishing, wild life or game are welcomed. Address all communications to the editor of this column.

PORTLAND WINS BY FULLERTON'S GOOD PITCHING

Angels Crowd to Within One Game of Coast Lead—Stars Handed Victory By Wild Hurler.

By the Associated Press
Portland did some hitting off Davis in the seventh inning of their game with San Francisco yesterday to break a tie and win, 5 to 3. Fullerton, aided by good support from the team that lost six out of seven games to the Oaks last week, kept the Seals well in hand.

Los Angeles, the only first division team to win yesterday, moved to within one game of the lead in the Pacific Coast league by taking the series opener from Seattle, 5 to 2. A triple, sacrifice, error and wild pitch all in the eleventh inning broke up a tight game in which the Angels got a total of only five hits off Kallio, while the Indians collected seven from Ballou and Verkes.

At Gould, Sacramento moundman, in one costly wild streak, walked Basler, Hollywood pinch hitter, with the bases loaded in the tenth inning, giving the Stars the game, 6 to 5. He had had the advantage up to then giving less hits than his mates got off Rhodes and Johns.

Although Oakland got four home runs, two by Lombardi, off Bert Cole of the Missions in their first meeting of the year, the Reds on the 12 hits they got off Jim Edwards squeezed in enough rallies to win, 5 to 4, in a fast game at San Francisco.

RATZLAFF TAKES NOD OVER NEGRO IN PORTLAND GO

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—(AP) Herman Ratzlaff, Miss. N. D., middleweight, took a close decision from Ray McQuillan, Denver negro, here last night at the end of their 10-round main event. No serious damage was done and Ratzlaff's aggressiveness earned him the nod. Last week, McQuillan knocked Ratzlaff out in the sixth round.

Lou Sauer, Portland, and Al Truitt, Los Angeles, featured the card with a fine exhibition of boxing and hard hitting. They are welterweights.

Mickey Dolan, Portland light-weight, knocked out Art McMillan, Chicago, in the second round of their 10-round bout.

Dutch Easter, Los Angeles, knocked out Johnny Hall, Vancouver, in the first round of their four-round preliminary, and Jackie Webster, Portland, and Johnny Garvey, Los Angeles, drew in the curtain-raiser.

INDIANS SHOW LATENT POWER IN FLAG RACE

Clevelanders Thrill Home Fans in Recent Winning Streak—Now Suffering Bad Slump.

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Cleveland Indians may or may not finish the pennant race in the money, but already they have had the satisfaction of thrilling their home fans with one of the year's most exciting exhibitions of the ups and downs of baseball. And in doing it, they have shown ability to go up again later.

Cleveland, off to a bad start, put on a great winning streak during its recent home stand against the American league's eastern clubs and rose to the top of the standing. Since they have dropped three more in a row to the Washington Senators and retired to fourth place, 3 1/2 games behind the New York Yankees.

After taking a doubleheader Monday, Washington needed only five innings yesterday to trounce the Indians, 7 to 0.

The futile task of pitching for the Boston Red Sox received an exhibition in the remaining American league doubleheader. Bud Lisbenze was barely able to pull out the first game, 5 to 4, although he held the Detroit Tigers to five hits.

A pinch home run by Bill Seweney finally decided the game. The Tigers made but six walks in the second contest but walks and errors gave them enough counters to gain an 8 to 7 decision after ten innings.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan of St. Louis belied his name by allowing the Boston Braves only one walk as the Cardinals pounded out an 11 to 3 triumph.

The Chicago Cubs moved to a place only two games behind the idle Brooklyn Robins with a 6 to 1 victory over Philadelphia.

Larry Benton was hit rather freely, but he would not give his old mates, the New York Giants, a free trip to first and the Cincinnati Reds pulled out the game, 4 to 1, although out hit 11 to 9.

Sport Slants

by ALAN J. GOULD

Old John may have to stage a come-back after all to pull the heavyweight tank out of the baroque wire entanglements. Of course we mean Old John Dempsey, who with more leg-power than he manifested in his last fight against Gene Tunney probably could have disposed in rapid succession of the Scotts, Sharkeys and Schmelings who have been either growling or crying out loud this year.

Contrast the records of Dempsey and Tunney, the last two great heavyweights, with those of the trio appearing in the 1930 spotlight.

Dempsey won only one bout on a foul, in six rounds, from Carl Morris, long before he became champion. Tunney never won nor lost a fight on a foul.

Sharkey has won three fights on fouls, lost one and almost lost another, in Scott.

Scott won six bouts on fouls. Schmeling was proclaimed the "champion" on a foul.

Dempsey and Schmeling would be a million-dollar graving card in either Chicago or New York. Old John is still the most popular pugilistic figure in the United States, by several miles. He has laid off now for three years, but Dempsey still could be counted upon to pack dynamite in a few of his famous left hooks.

Could he cope with Schmeling? Perhaps not, but it would be worth getting slugged up about after three years of mauling that have done the boxing game in general and the heavyweight class in particular no good.

When Wesley Cheek Farrell of Greensboro, N. C., won 21 games and lost only 10 for the third place Cleveland club last season, there was some disposition to look upon the youthful righthander's achievement as a one-year outburst, a flash in the pan.

Picking up where he left off, Farrell had won 10 games by the middle of this June, helped keep Cleveland in the thick of the pennant fight and removed any doubt about his ability. Wesley is only 22, but he is big, strong, fast and unquestionably the best right-handed twirler to come up from any corner of the bush in years.

MANAGER HALL ASKS SUPPORT ABSENTEE FANS

Baseball Manager Disheartened By Vacant Places Grandstand—Play Here July 6 and 13.

Half the season and schedule of the Southern Oregon Baseball League has passed, and the Medford attendance at the fairgrounds has been feeble. The next appearance of the home squad at long range will be Sunday, July 6, at Bend. The following Sunday, July 13, Klamath Falls comes here. It appears that both those dates as fitting times for a turnout.

At no time this season has the team received the support it deserves. By attracting the imagination considerably, it has been ascertained that the average attendance has been 200 souls. One hundred souls is closer to the facts, but the team does not like to count before such a meager handful, and the manager can't be blamed. It has been lonesome in the grandstand ever since game this year.

J. Gould Hall, the genial and efficient business manager of the association, has been tirelessly endeavoring to drum up a crowd of his friends. They solemnly promise him they will be in the congregation come next Sunday. They go fishing, or to the seashore, or as far as they can in 24 hours.

Their first effort Monday morning is to find out what the manager is, and are peevish because they are unable to read a detailed move-by-move report of the contest. Mr. Hall now calls upon his citizenry to keep a couple of the promises to him and show up at the ball park on the 6th and 13th of July.

An old-fashioned rousing attendance will fill the grandstand, the athletes, and keep the manager from prematurely giving up the ghost.

There is nothing the matter with the team in the fundamentals of the game. They can hit and field, and the pitching by Beat is above the average. Any other city in the league would go crazy over them, and not have to file a plea for support.

A thousand people attended the game in Klamath Falls, and its Bend team draws about the same quota. Lakeview musters 500 folks at a ball game. This city ought to be able to do as well, inasmuch as it will soon be too hot for pencils and the fish have quit biting.
