

ROGUE RIVER MAN FACES CHARGE OF ATTACK ON GIRL

Arrested last night at Klamath Falls, charged with the attack on a 13-year-old girl at Dry Creek above the town of Rogue River, Ed Corey, 22, was lodged in the county jail here today. He was to have a preliminary hearing in the Gold Hill justice court this afternoon when he will probably be bound over to the grand jury.

The alleged attack took place Tuesday afternoon at the girl's home in the absence of parents. Other children at the house were frightened by Corey with threats of physical violence and ran to a neighbor's house a half mile away, authorities say, and summoned aid. However, when help arrived, the alleged attacker had disappeared. The sheriff's office traced him to Klamath Falls, where he was arrested.

SAMUELS TAKES OFFICE TUESDAY

Incidental to the change in city treasurer's office, which takes place on next Tuesday, July 1, in accordance with the resignation of City Treasurer Herbert Berrian submitted some time ago and to take effect on that date, and its acceptance by the city council, which recently elected Guy Samuels as his successor, the latter is visiting the city hall for periods daily, getting familiar with the affairs of the treasurer's office.

Incidental to Mr. Samuels' assuming the office next Tuesday, the city council has stipulated that his bond be a surety one in the sum of $50,000. Mr. Samuels formerly was city treasurer for several years.

The council also voted this week to instruct its finance committee to allow the retiring treasurer, Mr. Berrian, a week's extra pay for remaining in the office a week after Tuesday engaged in the work of preparing his final report.

PORT DEDICATION LETTERS SOUGHT

The Medford Chamber of Commerce for the past week has been receiving letters from all parts of the country to be mailed back to the senders at the airport dedication and celebration, which they think is still to be held here July 4th.

Hundreds of airmail letters were sent from Medford last October on the occasion of the first mail flight from the new airport. They contained invitations and announcements for the proposed dedication and the letters now received from stamp collectors and others are a result.

Some arrangement will be made to give the missives a special cachet when they are sent back next month.

Cecil and Sally Now Delight KMED Fans

"Cecil and Sally," clever radio entertainers, made their debut to KMED fans Monday evening, June 9, and since then scores of letters from Grants Pass, Ashland, Central Point have been received asking for pictures of the artists.

Cecil and Sally furnish the type of comedy that keeps people home evenings, the past week at the

Mrs. Lawton's Address Tomorrow

Mrs. W. L. Lawton, president of the National Council for Protection of Roadside Beauty, will address the members of the local Garden club at Hotel Medford tomorrow afternoon. An invitation to the lecture is extended all persons interested in highway beautification. Great interest in the coming event has been expressed in Medford and the Rogue River valley during the past several weeks and a large crowd is anticipated.

Past Matrons Entertain

The past matrons of the Klamath Falls chapter, Oregon Eastern Star, were guests of the Medford chapter at the Reames and White country home on Wagner creek yesterday. Twenty-four guests came from the neighboring city and about 25 members of the Medford club to enjoy the luncheon and afternoon of cards.

The tables were set under the large maple trees in the yard. Following luncheon the guests played cards in Mrs. John White's cabin.

Mrs. White acted as chairman of the committee responsible for the successful afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. Grace Boyle, Mrs. W. H. Merritt, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. C. O. Larson. All past matrons of Medford contributed to the luncheon.

Miss Hayes Returns From the North

Miss Mary Hayes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hayes, has returned to this city from Seattle, where she has been attending the University of Washington, and will spend the summer with relatives and friends. Following the close of school Miss Hayes enjoyed a motor trip through northern Washington and British Columbia with Miss Dorothy Ness of this city. They visited in Vancouver and at Mt. Baker and stopped for a short time in Portland before returning to Roseburg, where Miss Ness is now visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ness. She is expected to return to Medford Sunday.

NAME JUDGES IN BEAUTY CONTEST SATURDAY NIGHT

Judges who will choose Miss Medford from the list of twenty charming girls, who will compete for the title at the dance at Oriental Gardens tomorrow night, were announced by the local Lions club this morning. They are: Wm. Warner, representing the Kiwanis club; Dr. R. W. Chambers, representing the Rotarians; Mrs. Ray C. Gilliland, representing the Business and Professional Women's club; Mrs. W. A. Jones, representing the Greater Medford club, and Tom Swen, Chamber of Commerce.

The girls will appear on the stage at 11:30 and pass in review for the benefit of the dancers as well as judges.

The fortunate one, who is chosen as most beautiful of form and face, will be sent to Portland July 16 to compete for the title of Miss Oregon.

Interest in the contest has gained zest during the past several days since appearance of photographs of the contestants in windows of firms, which are sponsoring them and at Shangle's studio display case. Competition tomorrow night will be very close and the decision of the judges is anxiously awaited.

Music for the dance, which will begin at 9:00 o'clock, will be furnished by the Knights of Harmony, nine-piece orchestra of northern California.

New ventilating features have been added to the Oriental Gardens to insure a cool and comfortable evening of dancing, regardless of the weather.

FOLKS APATHETIC IN EARWIG FIGHT

The earwig survey ends tonight, Elmer Oatman, inspector, stated today noon. Lack of co-operation from owners of residences where the bugs have been located has necessitated a close of the campaign.

"There are still earwigs in Medford," Mr. Oatman explained, "but they are not so plentiful as last season and the people don't seem to want to poison them. Without their co-operation nothing can be gained from a survey of the city."

People who do want poison to eradicate the bugs may get it by calling the county agent's office. It will be delivered to their residences.

There has been no noticeable spread of the insects, Mr. Oatman said, and the places where they are found are much fewer than last year.

ROADSIDE BEAUTY IS LECTURE TOPIC

Plans for the illustrated lecture to be given tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. W. L. Lawton on the subject of billboards and highway beauty have been completed by the Medford Garden club. A large crowd is expected to fill the downstairs dining room of Hotel Medford at 2:30 to listen to the message which will be brought to this city by the president of the National Council for Protection of Roadside Beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton have been making a survey of Oregon as well as other states in the interests of highway beautification. They will give tomorrow's audience much information regarding conditions in this state and methods which may be used to supplant the bill board with natural beauty.

COMMISSION FORM IS CIVIC COUNCIL TOPIC

At the regular June meeting of the Central Civic Council, held this noon, a discussion of the commission form of government was held, with a talk by Councilman Joseph O. Gray, on the same subject. No definite action was taken. At the next meeting, July 18, the matter will come before the council again for final action. Marc Jarmin, said it was possible a special meeting would be called for this purpose.

The remainder of the session was devoted to routine matters.

HAMMOND AND WILCOX WILL MEET IN FINALS

R. B. Hammond and L. W. Wilcox will meet Sunday in the finals of the Chandler Egan golf trophy tournament at the Rogue River Valley association links, each having won semi-final matches the past week. Hammond defeated E. E. Kelly yesterday, four and three, while Wilcox defeated R. B. Semon two days before, seven and five.
