GILMORE CO. OIL ON SALE TOMORROW

Blue Green Gasoline Available From 20 Dealers in Jackson County — New $25,000 Plant Is Headquarters—Officials Here.

Following weeks of preparation, Gilmore Oil Company products will be on sale in Medford and Jackson county tomorrow by over 20 dealers and following completion of the company's new oil plant south of Medford on the Pacific highway. The plant represents an expenditure of $25,000 and embodies all the latest ideas in its construction. It is a part of a million dollar expansion program carried on by the Gilmore interests in the northwest this year.

The Gilmore company is one of the oldest on the Pacific coast, but had confined its activities to southern California until the past two years with the exception of selling road oil in the northwest area. Its well known "blue-green gasoline," covered by guarantee, has been on the market for four years, but has not been placed on sale in Oregon until this year, when the company established stations in several of the larger cities.

Rapid Increase

A. W. O'Hanlon, manager for the Medford district, said today that "blue-green gasoline" business has shown an increase of over 5000 per cent in the past two years.

The opening of the Gilmore Oil Company station here has attracted officials of the business organization to Medford, including Bert Williams, exploitation manager, Don MacPherson, division manager and Lloyd Gedamke, sales supervisor.

The company will operate two large trucks from its Medford headquarters and more will probably be added later. A storage tank with a capacity of 26,000 gallons has been constructed at the plant to provide for present needs. The usual office buildings have also been completed.

Plane Company

I. A. Rowell, of Los Angeles, general sales manager, is expected to arrive in Medford next week in the Gilmore record breaking airplane for a district sales meeting. The plane is the same one piloted by Lieutenant-Colonel Roscoe Turner in setting a new record from New York City to Los Angeles a short time ago. The Gilmore lion cub accompanied him on the trip. Both Pilot Turner and the lion cub will accompany Mr. Rowell.

Cy Pruner of Portland, is manager for the company in this state.

The opening of the Medford station is a part of the expansion of the Gilmore Oil company that includes the entire Pacific coast from Canada to the Mexican border. The company will enter the middle west in a short time.

This paper will contain a page ad tomorrow announcing the opening of the company here and a list of the dealers in the county carrying "blue-green gasoline."

flight was the only married man among the four. He has a wife and family in Holland.

Captain J. Patrick Saul, Irish widower, whose little eight-year-old daughter waits for him back on the ould sod, also has a fiancee. Miss Lena Marchant of Dublin. Only John W. Stannage, small but mighty radio operator, whose efficient service was praised by Kingsford-Smith as being the controlling factor in the latter stages of their flight, could offer no romantic attachments.

Crowd Enthusiastic.

At least 10,000 persons waited through the hot afternoon at Roosevelt field for the arrival of the Southern Cross and when it appeared at sunset, threw restraint aside and risked limbs and clothes in a mad dash for the plane and the fliers.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, who had flown from Washington to greet his co-patriots; Grover Whalen, high hat and all; Herbert Brokes, commissioner general for Australia in the United States, and the other dignitaries in the welcoming party were swept aside in the human sea.

Finally the three hundred Nassau county police won their way through to the plane and escorted the fliers to field headquarters office, where they were photographed by still, motion and sound news men, and interviewed, between bursts of cheering, by the press.

An hour after they had landed, the party was in open automobiles bound for New York city, a bath, a meal and sleep.
